WHERE 'WE WILL' THERE'S A WAY

—Chicago's New Proverb.

BY HENRY M. HYDE.

The great army of 25,000 casual laborers who annually spend their winters in Chicago are beginning to come to town. They are the men who build the railroads, dig the canals, cut down the forests, do all the hard and heavy work of the middle west with pick and shovel and ax. With them come also the smaller army of bums and boes, men who won't work, flying before the frost from the open country to stinking and congested winter quarters in the city's "flops" and lodging houses.

From the first army of men who toil ferociously all summer long the second army of tramps and barrel house bums is recruited. Two or three winters in a Chicago flop or carrying the banner on wind swept Chicago streets is enough to drive almost any man to drink, dissipation, and loss of self-respect.

Alvah Francis Sanborn, after spending some weeks in the 10 cent lodging houses of Boston for the purpose of investigating conditions, wrote:

"If I were a regular lodger in a 10 cent house I should get drunk as often as I could find the liquor."

And the Boston lodging houses are models compared with those of Chicago.

THE average decent living citizen can have no possible conception of the way in which 25,000 men live every winter in Chicago.

Somehow between the state and city the responsibility for enforcing decent sanitary conditions in cheap lodging houses—those which charge from 5 cents to 25 cents a night for lodging—is divided and entirely falls to the ground. The city health department points to a state law which seems to give entire control of the lodging houses to the state board of health. The state board spends its time in making more or less sure that there is 400 cubic feet of air space for each lodger and that beds are at least two feet apart. There is a general sort of provision that insanitary conditions shall be reported, but it is admitted that little attention is paid to it.

When the quite generally prevailing filth and vermin in cheap lodging houses are mentioned the state board replies: "But consider the class of people you are dealing with!"

Exactly so! A careful examination of thirty-six of the cheapest class of lodging houses in Chicago—with a capacity for housing 6,866 men—revealed a total of exactly twenty-nine shower baths and bathtubs. Twenty-nine baths for 6,866 men! A fat chance any class of people has for keeping clean under those conditions.

AND that doesn't tell the story. In most of the lodging houses, even those charging as much as 25 cents for a bed, the number of wash basins furnished averages from two to three for each hundred guests. Large towels are used in common, and their condition may be imagined after each has been used by eight or ten men.

It is the fashion nowadays to blame almost everything on politics. Just by way of keeping in style it may be pointed out that politics is largely responsible for the nasty conditions in most cheap lodging houses.

Over at the city hall there is a tradition that to tackle the lodging house problem is to meddle with dynamite. The lodging house vote has decided the nomination—and even the election—of more than one mayor of Chicago. To interfere with the men who own and control the lodging houses—to put them to the expense of installing baths and wash basins—is to risk the loss of 10,000, perhaps 20,000, votes!

Of course men who are forced to live in 10 cent lodging houses and who stand for hours in the bread line to get a cup of coffee and a bite to eat are themselves to blame for their condition.

Just about to the extent that a man with

HIDDEN INFLUENCE FOUND SHIELDING HAUNTS OF VICE

Committee of Fifteen Agent Reports Work Hampered by Mysterious Power.

GIVES LIST OF 88 PLACES

Credits "Certain Police Officials" as Showing Increased Activity.

SAYS PROGRESS HAS BEEN MADE

Eighty-eight disorderly saloons, dance halls, and houses were annouced yesterday to the Committee of Fifteen by Samuel B. Thrasher, superintendent of the working force. Of this number twenty-nine have been reported previously, but the operatives of the committee have had no difficulty in finding new evidence against them.

On this and other points Mr. Thrasher commented as follows:

"We have a difficult problem in hand in regard to certain places, the keepers of which seem to have some mysterious influence which enables them to openly defy the law, while others, less objecionable, are ordered to close by the powers that be."

Which of the city officials Mr. Thrasher had in mind when he spoke of these "powers" he did not explain in detail, but the criticism was at least not directed at the entire police force.

Finds Police Are More Active.

On the contrary, Mr. Thrasher noted increased activity on the part of "certain heads of the department of police," and especially commended Lieut. Grady of the Cottage Grove avenue station, who, he found, "has acted vigorously upon his own motion and upon request of owners and the committee in making raids and serving notice."

No other officer receives individual commendation.

Mr. Thrasher's report will be called to the attention of the mayor. The work of the investigators in the last four months, summarized, is investigation of 450 suspected places, closing twenty disorderly saloons and ninety-eight houses, and bringing about corrective measures in twenty-three more saloons. It is not asserted there are 141 fewer disorderly places as a result, for there is ready admission that some of the owners merely have moved to other sections of the city. It is asserted, however, there has been improvement.

Also there have been nifty-five cases of crime, in twenty-seven of which there have been fines, imprisonments, or both, and in fourteen others disposition to the federal government, the grand jury, or the Criminal court.

Publicity Weapon for Committee.

It is made apparent the committee intends to use publicity as the principal means of closing the resorts. It has found owners occupying a fair position in society are willing to eject disorderly tenants rather than have it generally known they are countenancing misconduct in their own property.

"Some owners have acted so promptly and vigorously that it has left no doubt in my mind that they were innocent of all knowledge that their property was being used improperly," said Mr. Thrasher. "Others appeared highly indignant and were reluctant to take action, giving one excuse after another for not ejecting their tenants.

"One large real estate corporation has ejected twenty-eight tenants who were keeping immoral places, another ousted eighteen and many others have taken vigorous action as a result of complaints by this committee. One real estate owner writes: 'In order to make sure that in future no undesirable tenants will be located in my building I have given instructions to tear the building down.'

Difficult Problem Ahead.

"We are confronted with a serious and difficult problem, but one which I fear is made too much of by those opposed to the policy of elimination and who favor the policy of segregation. No one can more keenly appreciate the consequences resulting from the exodus of prostitues from one section of the city only to settle down in more respectable neighborhoods than I do.

"It has been the policy of this committee to prevent this evil as far as possible in three ways.

"First—By systematically following up all information which may lead to the discovery of new places which are opened by those who have been ejected by owners or by the police.

"Second—By making it more difficult to lease property for illicit purposes by publishing the names of the owners who intentionally or carelessly allow their property to be so used.

"Third—By arousing respectable citizens to a point of coöperation that they may notify the committee whenever any place in their neighborhood is opened for such immoral purpose.

Seeks to Arouse Sentiment.

"If we can so thoroughly arouse respectable citizens that they will notify the committee of the presence of undesirables, we can pursue the policy already adopted, to the limit of our physical and financial ability and make it exceedingly difficult for keepers of houses of prostitution to find places where they will be safe from the hand of the law.

"I believe we are making reasonable progress in materially reducing the profits of the keepers and owners of these institutions. Determined and persistent effort along these

HOW TO STIMULATE FARM PRODUCTION

[Copyright: 1913: By John T. McCutcheon.]

Inasmuch as the farmers of Holland, France, Germany, and Belgium obtain a far greater yield per acre than the farmers of this country——

Why not import some of them to explain how our own farms may give better results?

And, in order to stimulate our farmers to their most intelligent and industrious efforts, why not have each county present a gold medal to the farmer who raises the biggest crop per acre in the county?

UNABLE TO DECIDE BUSSIERE DEATH

Jury Returns Open Verdict in Strange Case of "Millionaire Kid."

FATHER IS DISSATISFIED.

An all night taxi ride, $70,000 in life insurance policies, and poison—these are the three elements in a story that was put up to a coroner's jury yesterday afternoon. The jury was asked to determine by its verdict how young Bertram J. Bussiere came to his death. The jury listened to the evidence, retired to chambers, and after fruitless debate reported that the case was too much for them. They left it a mystery by returning an open verdict.

The "Millionaire Kid."

Bussiere was widely known as the "millionaire kid." He made and lost money, always as the result of business plunges. He was 25 years old. He was head of "The Wheel of Fortune" company, manufacturers of auto truck wheels. He was former president of the Classified Ad company.

He died in the presence of his wife after having been away all night. He returned at 7 o'clock in the morning, half conscious. A coroner's postmortem indicated that death had been caused by a drug, either morphine or acetanalid, when or how administered it was impossible to tell.

All Night in Cab.

"He drove up in a taxicab," his wife testified. "He was 'dopy,' and explained he had been out all night in the cab trailing a couple of lawyers. As I recall, he said their names were Kaufman and Hopkins, one his lawyer and one the attorney for Dr. Benjamin E. Page of Highland Park, with whom he had been associated in business for the last two years. He said he had come across them in the Hotel Sherman and had trailed them all night. He mentioned his taxi bill was $40.

"I saw after a little that he was ill. I sent for a faith practitioner, Charlotte W. Becker, 4120 Clarendon avenue. When she came Bert was unconscious and remained so until his death that night."

Inquest Delayed Twice.

The inquest was delayed to allow time for examination by the physicians and analysis. On Sept. 9 it was continued for two weeks in hope of getting some sort of evidence, particularly in tracing the taxicab which brought Bussiere to his residence at 1360 East Sixtieth street and finding his various friends who might have seen him during his all night ride.

The only points learned were regarding his automobile trips. It was shown he and his chauffeur had been arrested several times during the first eight months of the year, and that the last time he had been informed he was not a proper person to drive a car. There was found record of a $50,000 suit against him by a Florida land dealer, who charged the spreading of injurious reports.

Much of the testimony had to do with the young man's financial affairs. Dr. Page testified to having extended his former associate about $45,000. On realizing finally that there was danger of not recovering he had insisted on Bussiere's insuring himself in his favor. Three policies, $50,000 accident and $20,000 life, were taken out a little over a year ago.

"These advances were for commercial paper in connection with his classified ad company," explained the Highland Park physician, "and also advances for his auto truck wheel patent. I paid the premiums myself, but I insisted on the insurance as protection for my interests."

At the inquest, in addition to the family and witnesses, were numerous attorneys—H. W. McCay for the family, M. S. Macon and C. B. Obermyer for Dr. Page, M. F. Ryan for other creditors, and A. A. Slackin for the insurance companies. It appears Bussiere left nothing for his wife except a diamond ring and other articles of less value.

GAYNOR WILL READ TO HEIRS; HOME ONLY LEFT TO WIDOW.

If Document Is Latest Sons Get Over Half of Estate, Daughters the Rest—May Reach $2,000,000.

New York, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—The will of Mayor William J. Gaynor was read to his family today by Michael Furst, the lawyer to whose custody Mr. Gaynor had intrusted it shortly before he decided to take the trip across the ocean in the course of which he died.

One of the considerations now most agitating counsel for the family is whether the mayor made any later will. If he did, neither Mr. Furst nor any immediate member of the family is aware of its existence.

Should the document read to the family today prove to be the last will and testament of William Jay Gaynor, its contents will be a surprise to many of the mayor's friends. According to its terms the entire estate of Mayor Gaynor, the value of which may reach $2,000,000 or more, is divided into seven parts, of which Rufus and Norman Gaynor, the two sons, will receive each two-sevenths, and the Misses Ruth, Marion, and Helen Gaynor, the three youngest daughters, each one-seventh.

No monetary or other provision is made for Mrs. Gaynor, the widow, except that the town house at 20 Eighth avenue, Brooklyn, is bequeathed to her. Whether Mr. Gaynor had made adequate provision for her in his lifetime could not be learned today.

'ANGEL' TO CO-EDS DISAPPEARS; GIRLS SAY THEY ARE SWINDLED.

Miss Mabel Sturtevant Involved in Book Selling Deal in Which Young Women Lose $1,750.

Sixteen co-eds at the School of Oratory at Northwestern university worked all of last summer selling cookbooks. They earned—on paper—$1,750. Two weeks ago they say they paid Miss Mabel Sturtevant, their employer, $600 in advance for room and board at 614 Garfield place, Evanston.

Three days ago six of the sixteen tearfully told Prof. R. B. Bennis of the school of oratory that they were broke, their prospective landlady had vanished, and, so far as they could discover, there was little hope of realizing on the contracts under which they sold the books. The other ten said they had a few dollars left, but declared they also had lost considerable by their plunge into book selling.

Prof. Bennis had a warrant sworn out for the arrest of Miss Sturtevant. A policeman watched the house that night and the next morning Prof. Bennis interviewed Miss Sturtevant. As a result he decided to serve the paper later. The next day he called. Miss Sturtevant had vanished. She has not been seen in Evanston since. Her office in the McCormick building was closed yesterday.

A benefit for the bankrupt sixteen is being planned by the management of the Evanston theater. It is said the federal officials are investigating the book selling project.

SEEKS $1,000,000 FROM MRS. MACKAY

Wife of Dr. Joseph A. Blake, Famous Surgeon, Charges Alienation.

LEGAL PAPERS SERVED.

New York, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. Catherine Ketcham Blake has begun proceedings to obtain $1,000,000 damages from Mrs. Clarence Mackay, alleging she alienated the affections of the plaintiff's husband, Dr. Joseph A. Blake.

Papers have been served on Mrs. Mackay, it is understood, and service accepted by Arthur C. Train, her personal counsel.

No papers have been filed in court, it is said, but unless an agreement is reached—now believed impossible—papers will be offered for judicial record at the coming term.

Counsel Refuses a Denial.

Late tonight George Gordon Battle, attorney for Mrs. Blake, said no papers had been formally filed in the matter, but he would not deny the proceedings had been begun some months ago.

At the office of Henry Taft, Mrs. Mackay's attorney, it was said that he was abroad, and no other member of the firm could discuss the affair.

This development follows closely the sudden departure of Mr. Mackay for Europe last summer and Mrs. Mackay's residence in Portland, Me.

Mrs. Blake is the wife of the eminent surgeon, who is said to have been a frequent visitor to the Mackay home in Long Island. Mrs. Mackay is the wife of the owner of the cable lines to Europe and president of the Postal Telegraph company.

Couple Separated for Year.

Dr. Blake has been separated from his wife for more than a year, he living at his home, 108 East Sixty-fifth street and she living at 36 East Seventy-fifth street.

Mr. Battle said Mrs. Blake had under advisement an action for legal separation from her husband, but it is understood that friends still have hopes of bringing them together again. No divorce has been contemplated, it is said.

Mrs. Mackay has been a leader in New York society for some years and has been prominent in suffrage and social work.

Dr. and Mrs. Blake were married in 1900 and have two children. He is 51 years old, a graduate of Yale and a doctor of philosophy from that university.

Mr. Mackay has never returned from Europe since his sudden departure from New York, and he has his children with him.

Marriage a Social Event.

The marriage of Miss Katherine Alexander Duer to Clarance H. Mackay, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, 17 West Twenty-first street, on May 18, 1898, was one of the most talked of affairs in society that year. Miss Duer had been a favorite in society. Before her marriage it was reported at one time she was engaged to Reginald Brooks, and again that she was to marry Clive Wilson.

Mrs. Mackay is the grand-daughter of William Travers, who in his day was one of Wall street's wits. She inherited from him a particularly bright mind.

Her life has been a busy one. Soon after she was married the Harbor Hill residence was started, and Mrs. Mackay was about much of the time when the builders were at work giving them her ideas.

SIX JUDGES REFUSE TO TRY THE ALLEGED DEFAMERS OF FUNK

Condition Called by Brentano "Sad Commentary on Cook County Judiciary."

DEFENSE TERMS TWO UNFAIR

A condition of affairs which Chief Justice Theodore Brentano described as "a sad commentary upon the judiciary of Cook county" came to a focus yesterday when two more judges refused to preside over the trial of Daniel Donahoe, an attorney; Isaac Stiefel, a private detective, and Alleen Heppner, accused of defaming Clarence S. Funk.

In the last few weeks seven judges have refused to hear the case, each declining to make public his reasons. Yesterday the case was shunted back and forth for hours between the court rooms of Judge Brentano and Judges Walker and Tuthill, Judge Brentano, as chief justice of the criminal court, trying to find a judge for the case, and the other judges refusing to try it.

After a first refusal to hear the case, Judge Tuthill reconsidered and ordered it to trial. Immediately the attorney for the defense made application for a change of venue on the ground that Judge Tuthill was prejudiced. Judge Tuthill denied being prejudiced, but granted the change of venue.

Only Two Judges Left.

As a last resort Judge Brentano made a personal visit to Judges Dever and Pam, the only judges left of the Cook county judiciary who can be agreed upon to try the case. It is understood that Judge Pam probably will try the case.

So far the following judges have refused point blank to preside at the trial:

George Kersten, Chas. M. Walker, Lockwood Honore, Adelor J. Petit, Charles McDonald, Thomas Windes.

Judge Brentano had the case on his call, but after he had decided a preliminary motion adversely to Attorney Donahoe the defendants objected to his presiding as trial judge and the case was transferred without the formality of a change of venue.

The search for a judge began in the morning in the courtroom of Judge Brentano, to whom the case has been sent for reassignment by Judge McDonald.

"I assign this to Judge Walker," said Judge Brentano, handing the indictment and other papers to Charles Dahl, his personal bailiff. The party, consisting of Assistant State's Attorney Bell and Attorneys Hartnett, Burres, and Simonton for the defense, then went to Judge Walker's courtroom. Judge Walker looked at the papers for a moment and then signaled the attorneys to come to his bench.

"I am sorry, gentlemen," he said, "but I cannot try this case. I will not make public my reasons at this time, but I merely ask that you take this case back to the chief justice of the Criminal court for reassignment."

"But——" began Assistant State's Attorney Bell.

"I will hear no arguments," interrupted Judge Walker. "I have personal reasons which prevent my trying this case."

Chief Justice Shows Anger.

Deputy Bailiff Dahl then took charge of the indictment once more and the return trip to Judge Brentano was made. The chief justice was visibly nettled when he was informed of the action of Judge Walker, but without any further comment ordered it sent to Judge Tuthill.

"What is the title of this case?" asked Judge Tuthill as the papers were handed to him.

"The People vs. Donahoe et al., indictment for conspiracy," replied Mr. Bell.

"I thought Judge Walker was to try this case," said the court, glancing over the papers. Mr. Bell then explained the proceedings before Judge Walker. When he had finished Judge Tuthill tossed the papers toward the assistant state's attorney.

"Well, I'll send it back for reassignment," he said; "I don't care to hear it."

"I think the public is entitled to a trial in this case," said Mr. Bell. "Nine judges have had the case before them and have either refused to hear it or it has been taken away from them by threats of change of venue proceedings. It is the duty of this court to try this case, and now."

Tuthill Agrees to Try Case.

Judge Tuthill again took up the papers and read over the indictment carefully.

"Very well," he finally said. "I never dodged my duty yet, and I will not do so now. Mr. Clerk, call a jury."

Joseph Burres, chief counsel for the defendants, then jumped from his seat.

"We ask sufficient time in which to prepare affidavits for a change of venue," he said. "We have been taken by surprise and I am sure this court will give us until tomorrow in which to ask for a change."

"This court will give you exactly one hour," said Judge Tuthill. "Any motions you may have must be ready by that time or the case will proceed."

A hasty consultation took place and shortly before 12 o'clock Mr. Burres presented an affidavit signed by Daniel W. Ahern, 6456 Minerva avenue, and Edward Horchler, 4525 Cottage Grove avenue, setting forth that Judges Tuthill and Brentano were prejudiced and that the defendants could not obtain a fair trail before them.

Promises Donahue Fair Trial.

"I wish to say," remarked Judge Tuthill, "that I have known Mr. Donahoe probably as long as any judge on the bench. He has tried many cases before me, and he could get as fair a trial here as any place. I am not prejudiced, but I must obey the statutes and as affidavits have been filed I must send the case back to Judge Brentano for reassignment."

Once more the party went to Judge Brentano's courtroom. Here Mr. Simonton had a suggestion.

"Let the attorneys confer for a short time," he said, "and I think that we can agree upon some judge so that there will be no further delay."

"I don't know what to do," said Judge Brentano. "I am afraid I shall have to call a meeting of the judges to find some one to take this case. But I will give you until 2 o'clock in which to reach some agreement. But this court says now that it will not be bound by any agreement you may make. I am tired of this fighting for delay."

"Your honor——" began Mr. Burres.

"Two o'clock," snapped Judge Brentano. "Don't say you are not trying to delay matters. Come back at 2 o'clock."

Hoyne Makes an Appearance.

At 2 o'clock State's Attorney Hoyne appeared in person.

"At the suggestion made by your honor," he said, "a list has been prepared of judges who are agreeable to the defense. This list includes Judges Kersten, Dever, and Pam in the order mentioned. As far as the state is concerned, we do not care who tries the case, but we think that the people are entitled to a fair trial. Nine judges——"

"I know that—I know all about that," said Judge Brentano. "You have Judge Kersten on this list. This court is not going to brook any further delay unless the state's attorney insists upon it. Judge Kersten is in the country and will not be back until Nov. 1, if then. And also I know that he does not want to try this case."

"Let us communicate with him," suggested Attorney Simonton. "We are willing to wait for him to return. His bailiff, Walter Magnus, is here in court. Let us communicate with him or let Magnus——"

"If there is to be any communicating I will do it," said Judge Brentano, leaving the bench. After a consultation with Magnus he resumed his seat.

Burres "Willing to Wait."

"Judge Kersten is eight miles from any telegraph or telephone," he said. "I think it is a sad commentary upon the judges of Cook county if out of thirty-two judges the only man who can be found to try a case is miles away and no one knows when he will be back."

"We are willing to wait," began Mr. Burres, when again the court interrupted.

"I know you are," he said, "but I can tell you now that Judge Kersten does not want to try this case. He has told me so himself."

"I am simply trying to protect the interests of my clients," said Mr. Burres. "It is not our fault if judges refuse to hear the case."

"But if one agrees you take a change of venue," interrupted the court, who by this time had plainly lost his patience.

"O, no," began Mr. Burres.

"Then what did you do?" retorted Judge Brentano.

"It was the first time in my practice at this bar," said Mr. Burres, "that I have ever taken a change of venue. But I had to consider my clients. I am willing to have Judge Windes, Kersten, or Walker try it."

"You know Judge Windes doesn't want to try it," said Judge Brentano. "He said so from the bench last summer. Why mention his name now? Judge Walker doesn't want it and neither does Judge McDonald."

"The state wishes to expedite matters," said Mr. Hoyne at this point.

WIDE HUNT FOR MURDERER OF INDIANAPOLIS MERCHANT.

Police Begin Search for Man Believed Arch Slayer—Wanted for Crimes in Other Cities.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 23.—Convinced that the young man who yesterday murdered and robbed Joseph Schlansky, a clothing merchant, in a hotel here, is the same person who has committed similar crimes in several eastern and middle western cities, the local police tonight asked officers in every large city east of the Mississippi river to watch for the slayer.

The police believe the murderer is Joseph Ellis, about 21 years old, of Richmond, Virginia.

Two sons of Schlansky who saw the man their father accompanied from his store yesterday, tonight identified the photograph of Brokaw sent out by the police department as the man. The picture also was identified by the clerk in the hotel where the merchant was killed.

Investigation of the murder of Schlansky showed that it had been coolly planned and the escape so cunningly carried out as to throw off suspicion temporarily.

Held as "Quo Vadis" Infringer.

James E. Northmore, head of the Independent Bromide company of 102 North Fifth avenue, yesterday was held to the federal grand jury by United States Commissioner Mark A. Foote on charges of infringing the copyright on the motion picture "Quo Vadis." The complainant was George Kleine, holder of the copyright. Northmore was released on $1,000 bonds.

DECISION TODAY ON SULZER FUND

New York Governor Makes Last Effort to Prevent Impeachment Trial.

SCHIFF MAY BE WITNESS.

Prosecution Ready to Summon Others Who Aided in Campaign Finance.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 23.—After a day spent in listening to lengthy arguments the high court for the trial of the impeachment of Gov. William Sulzer adjourned tonight without having decided whether the impeached executive will have to answer charges involving the misuse of the funds contributed for his campaign last fall. It is expected, however, that the court will reach a decision early tomorrow.

In event of the denial of the motion to strike out the three articles dealing with the campaign contributions the guns of the impeached executive's legal battery will have been spiked, as far as the preliminaries are concerned, and the actual trial will begin.

That counsel for the assembly managers are confident the court will not dismiss the three articles is evidenced by the fact that they announced that Jacob H. Schiff, Abram I. Elkus, Henry Morganthau, and others who contributed to the Sulzer election fund would be on hand tomorrow to testify.

Sulzer Submits on One Point.

Gov. Sulzer today submitted to the ruling of the high court that the assembly had the constitutional right to impeach him. This announcement was made at the opening of court by Judge D. Cady Herrick, chief counsel for the impeached executive, who said "The governor will bow to the will of the court, and will exercise none of the prerogatives of his office pending the determination of the impeachment charges."

The preliminaries disposed of, the managers are planning to center their fight on the three articles—first, second, and sixth—having to do with the governor's campaign contributions and his alleged use of the funds in Wall street, if the court rules they may be considered. These charge perjury, fraud, and larceny.

The managers expect to prove all three by the testimony of the same witnesses.

Stand of Opposing Counsel.

The principal contention of the governor's side in the argument today was that the acts specified in the three articles objected to were committed, if at all, while Sulzer was a private citizen.

Their opponents argued that they were so intimately connected with the office that it would be impossible to separate them.

"The managers here," Mr. Brackett said, "want to stand broadly upon the proposition that a man may be wholly unfit for governor of the Empire state some little time before he is really ripe for state's prison. The dividing line between the two—between ripeness for the state's prison and qualification for the governorship—is broader than that.

"I want to stand for the proposition that if it is at all within the power or jurisdiction of this court, or in any way competent, it should brush aside every contention that stands between the governor of the state at the present time and his opportunity to come here and be cross examined, make a defense affirmatively, and demonstrate that he is a fit and clean man. It would be doing to Gov. Sulzer himself the greatest good that can come to him during the term for which he was elected."

THAW DECISION HELD UP; MAY NOT BE KNOWN FOR WEEK.

Gov. Felker of New Hampshire Orders More Briefs to Determine Fugitive's Extradition.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 23.—The duty of the state of New Hampshire toward Harry Kendall Thaw was the subject of exhaustive argument before Gov. Felker today.

William Travers Jerome, special deputy attorney general of New York, denied he was moved by ulterior motives in his determination to have Thaw returned to the Matteawan Insane asylum. Jerome gave his word that Thaw would be placed on trial if returned to New York.

At the conclusion of the arguments the governor gave counsel until Monday to file supplementary briefs, so his decision will not be known for a week at least.

During Jerome's arguments new angles in the case developed. One that appeared to take the opposing counsel by surprise was his statement that Thaw is now under indictment in Dutchess county, charged with conspiracy to escape from the insane asylum.

Deserted Wives Seek Divorces.

Desertion was the cause stated by nearly all the woman applicants for divorce, uncontested, before Judge Jesse A. Baldwin in Circuit court yesterday. Several of the women added steady intoxication, and a few cruelty, as basis for divorce. The lone man, John P. Moos of 6354 North Hermitage avenue, announced dolefully his wife left him two years ago because he would not give her "money to spend as she pleased." They have been married fifteen years, but the wife did not contest the suit.

WILSON'S CHOICE WINS IN JERSEY

James F. Fielder Gets Nomination for Head of the Democratic Ticket.

GARDNER IN BAY STATE.

Congressman Secures Gubernatorial Place on the Republican Ticket.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 23.—Indications at midnight were that Acting Gov. James F. Fielder was nominated today at the primaries throughout the state as the Democratic candidate for governor.

President Wilson came to New Jersey from Washington, voting at Princeton for Fielder, who was president of the state senate when Mr. Wilson was governor. Frank S. Katzenbach of Trenton was Fielder's opponent.

Edward C. Stokes, former governor, appeared to be ahead in the Republican contest for the nomination. Robert Carey of Jersey City, Charles N. Fowler of Elizabeth, and State Senator Carlton B. Pierce of Cranford ran against Stokes.

The vote for the Progressive nominees, Everett Colby and Edmund B. Osborne, was light. Colby seemed to be winning, according to estimates at midnight.

Gardiner Wins in Bay State.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 23.—Congressman Augustus P. Gardiner, Lieut. Gov. David I. Walsh, and Charles S. Bird will lead the Republican, Democratic, and Progressive tickets, respectively, in the fall campaign as a result of the primaries today. Lieut. Gov. Walsh and Mr. Bird were nominated without opposition, and Congressman Gardiner won after a lively contest with Col. Everett C. Benton, who was defeated for the nomination last year by Joseph Walker.

WANT DONAHOE TO REDUCE BILL

United Police Organization Finds Itself in Financial Difficulties Because of Trials.

Plans of the old United Police organization to pull itself out of the hole its trials left it occupying became known yesterday. Former members, connected with Chicago avenue station, were summoned to the office of Capt. John Rehm. The trials before the civil service board had brought unexpected cost, including $10,000 fees to the law firm of Donahoe & Hartnett. The total obligations are $17,000. It is planned to send a committee to the principal creditors and ask them to scale their bills 50 per cent. The old organization had 4,000 members.

The Important Difference

The more you look at electrics the more confused you become. One has this feature which you like and another has that. They are all unimportant; mere matters of personal preference, designed in large measure to attract buyers who know nothing about mechanics.

The important difference between one car and another is in the service it renders its owner, and this depends upon chassis construction, details which only a trained engineer can observe. You can avoid all confusion and be sure of good service by purchasing a car with the well known, long time record of THE BAKER ELECTRIC.

FARMER CATCHES 'CON' MAN, B'GOSH

Watches Long for Swindler Who Sold Him Logan Statue, but Gets Him at Last.

MAKES ARREST HIMSELF.

Notifies Police in Advance, but Begs for Opportunity to Get His Revenge.

The Iowa farmer who bought the Logan statue from a confidence man for $480 turned the tables on the alleged swindler last night by arresting him, b'gosh!

"I used to be the champion back holt hassler of the state of Ioway," said the farmer, as he grappled with the man he accuses of swindling him. "Now don't make a false move, or, by hickory, I'll stand ye on your head."

Detectives Ferriter and Teeling of the South Clark street station were waiting near by, having been called into the case by the farmer sleuth, and they took charge of the prisoner. He was identified as William Woodward, and the police say he has been arrested before for fleecing the unwary.

Mathias Kingsdal, the farmer, has shown the police department that it is not "impossible to catch con men" who infest railroad stations. During the last two months more than fifty cases of swindling have been reported to the police by "suckers" who were lured away from stations.

Shows Up City Constables.

Detectives assigned to this class of work have failed to accomplish what the Iowa farmer has done. He captured the only station "con" man that has been behind the bars of a Chicago police cell in months.

Kingsdal was passing through Chicago July 3 on a visit to his old home town in Pennsylvania. He met a man at the Illinois Central depot, who represented himself as the owner of the Logan statue.

"I bought it from the city," he said, "and it was my intention to present it to the town where I was born. The citizens got to quarreling over a site, and I made up my mind they couldn't have it.

"I paid $750 for it, and I want to get rid of it, because it is an elephant on my hands. If you want it you can have it for $500."

The man from Iowa walked several times around the statue in Grant park, felt of the horse's legs to make sure they were bronze, and allowed he'd buy it.

Drives Bargain for Statue.

"But I won't give you no $500," he said. "I'll give you just $480, and not another cent. Take it or leave it. I don't care which."

After dickering the "con" man offered to take $450—a loss to him, he said, of $270. The farmer paid him on the spot and got a receipt. Two hours later, when he, with a gang of workmen, was preparing to remove the statue, a park policeman arrived on the scene. Matters were explained by the "owner" of the statue, and the police informed him he had been victimized.

Kingsdal continued his trip to Pennsylvania the next day. He returned to Chicago two weeks ago and took up the search for the man who sold him the statue. Day and night for fourteen days he haunted the Illinois Central depot.

His long vigil was rewarded last evening when he saw Woodward enter the depot.

CIVIL SERVICE ON COUNTY FARM FAILS UNDER 8 HOUR DAY RULE.

Commissioners Plan to Return Management to Practical Basis and End Big Deficits.

Civil service is all right in city halls and county buildings, but it doesn't work on the farm. This has been the experience of Cook county, which operates a farm at Oak Forest under civil service rules. The deficit last year was $1,200. This year it may be more.

County Commissioners Board and Anderson, both farmers of experience, particularly Mr. Anderson, agree the civil service board must be "sat upon" if the farm is to be made to pay.

The farm crew is composed of a foreman or "head farmer," who is paid $75 a month and maintenance, and six hands whose wages average from $25 to $40 a month without maintenance. They must live in the neighborhood. At present two of the jobs are seeking occupants.

The men work only eight hours a day. This rule irked Mr. Anderson.

"No self-respecting tiller of the soil would think of staying in bed after sunrise," he said. "To make a farm pay it must be worked from sunup to sundown certain seasons of the year. I could take two men and make a profit off those acres."

Former Professor Peddling Peanuts on N. W. U. Campus.

Prof. A. E. Munier.

Prof. A. E. Munier, formerly of the faculty of Lake Forest college, has abandoned his pedagogical pursuits for a more remunerative position behind the counter of a moving peanut stand. His one horse van, loaded with peanuts, popcorn, hot dog sandwiches, and ice cream cones, is seen daily on the campus at Northwestern university. Prof. Munier wears a Phi Beta Kappa key and is master of several languages. He says he "lays away" $300 a month selling peanuts, which is $20 a month better than his salary teaching.

NO CLEW IN TRUNK MYSTERY

Police Unable to Confirm Story Told Them by Peddler.

INSISTS HE HEARD GROANS.

Auto Numbers He Copied Found to Be Those of Innocent Parties.

Whose body was in a trunk carried from 828 South Center avenue to the Marshfield avenue elevated station Monday night?

Or was there a body in the trunk hauled by Louis Brem, a peddler, between those addresses? Brem is certain there was. Capt. James O'Donnell Storen is certain there wasn't. He says that Brem was suffering from an hallucination.

Capt. Storen was inclined to put the driver of the cart who reported the story down as a "dreamer."

The police were put on a new trail during the afternoon. Edward Berman, a shoe dealer at 1404 West Twelfth street, ventured the opinion that "that feller Redmond knows something about it."

Nicholas Redmond, an undertaker, is his next door neighbor, and for the last year or so they have been getting each other arrested on various charges.

A reporter for THE TRIBUNE found Brem at his residence on Paulina street and got from him this story.

In America Only Three Years.

"I came to Chicago from Bessarabia in Russia, three years ago," he said. "I have made my living driving a peddler's cart. I know what a trunk is and what a human voice is.

"At 9 o'clock last night I was standing with my wagon near the corner of Loomis and West Twelfth street. Two men came up and asked me what would be my charge for taking a trunk from 828 South Center avenue to the nearest elevated station. I told them 75 cents.

"They said, 'All right' and climbed aboard my wagon. We drove to the Center avenue address. The men went up an alley and came back with a trunk. It was a bruss bound trunk about three feet by two feet. They put it in the wagon and told me to drive up the street.

"On the way there was a noise inside the trunk. It wasn't from either of the men.

Trunk Placed in Automobile.

"Just as sure as I am alive there was a noise in the trunk. It was a kind of a cough. Under the Marshfield station there was an automobile. It was a black car with a top, looking not unlike the Maxwell station patrol wagon. I thought at first that was what it was. The men on my wagon transferred the trunk to the automobile. I asked for my 75 cents.

"The man on the automobile said 'Go chase yourself.'

"So I took the numbers on the machine and called a policeman. The police found the numbers belonged to innocent persons."

COUPLE NEAR CENTURY MARK VICTIMS OF NEW GAS HEATER.

Austin Man and Wife, Aged but Sturdy, Found Dead in "Beauty Sleep," Prayer Book by Their Side.

Almost everybody in Austin has been proud of Joseph Deuser and his wife, Catherine. Joseph was a man of magnificent physique. He was 93 years old and sturdy as an oak. His wife was only one year his junior. Her health was the subject for neighborhood felicitation.

When his birthday came around the good neighbors of Austin stood on the corners and said "only seven years now to wait. Then we'll have the record breaking couple of the world. A centenarian and his wife—sixty years married—twenty years in Austin—and the dearest sweethearts on this earth!"

Fail to Answer Door.

Last night the romance ended. Joseph and Catherine retired at 5 o'clock in the evening to take their daily beauty sleep before dinner. At 6:30 Stella Williams, their granddaughter, tripped up the stairs and knocked softly at the door. There was no answer even to her "Dinner's waiting, grandpa."

Stella opened the door. A rush of gas knocked her down. Stella screamed and stumbled down the stairs. Her father, Michael, dashed into the room, opened the windows, then telephoned for Dr. E. B. Graham.

There were two beds in the couple's room. Only one was occupied. Joseph and Catherine lay, clothes unruffled, side by side. Their faces gave the impression of abiding peace.

Gas from Heater.

An artificial respirator was called by Dr. Graham and it labored for two hours, but there was no recall. The gas from a little heater, which Michael Williams had installed in his home with the first breath of autumn, had swept them from life as they slept.

"Of course it was an accident," said Michael. "They loved each other as childhood sweethearts do, and they had everything to live for."

"What is that you have in your hand?" he was asked.

"A prayerbook. It lay between them. Evidently they had dropped asleep as they read."

FOUR AUTO ROBBERS TAKEN.

Negroes Captured at South Chicago After Many Holdups in Hammond and Gary.

Four negro robbers in an automobile, who a few hours previous had terrorized citizens of Hammond and Gary and had held up several persons at the point of revolvers in both those towns, were captured by policemen of the South Chicago station early this morning.

Shortly before midnight the police received messages from Gary and Hammond that the robbers had appeared in both places earlier in the evening and had robbed pedestrians of money, jewelry, and other valuables.

The party was seen by Policemen James O'Brien and John White, who jumped on the running board of the automobile and made the arrests.

JOY RIDERS FLUNG THROUGH WINDOW

Men Said to Be Intoxicated Drive at Mile a Minute Clip About North Side.

AUTOIST KILLED BY COAT

Tail of Garment Catches in Steering Gear as Machine Overturns and He Falls on Head.

Two men, both of whom are alleged to have been intoxicated, drove through the north side late last night at a rate said at times to have attained sixty miles an hour, causing great excitement and endangering many lives.

Finally the man at the wheel, Dr. J. M. Jacobs Jr., 2224 Irving Park boulevard, lost control of the car. Swerving suddenly out of its course, it leaped the curb and plunged through the plate glass window of a hardware store at Lincoln avenue and Diversey parkway.

When the police reached the side of the driver he was bent over his steering wheel, dazed, but only slightly bruised. His companion, C. J. Glover of 1014 George street, who is said to be a lifesaver and a pugilist, was prone on the floor of the hardware store, bleeding from many wounds. He was rushed to the Alexian Brothers' hospital, where, it was said, he probably would die.

Dr. Jacobs was placed under arrest.

Coat Kills Autoist.

Frederick D. Blendermann, secretary of the National Onion Salt company, lost his life in an automobile accident yesterday because the tail of his coat caught on his machine's steering wheel. The accident happened near Harvey, Ill.

J. Frank Ealam, 783 Foxdale avenue, Winnetka, who was riding with Blendermann, was thrown clear of the machine and escaped unhurt.

Blendermann and Ealam had left the salt company's factory, which is eight miles north of Harvey, late in the afternoon. The machine was being driven east toward Harvey when the wheels got into a deep rut near One Hundred and Fifty-fifth and South Halsted streets.

Blendermann tried to turn out of the rut by twisting the steering wheel around quickly, and the automobile turned out of the rut, skidded in a half circle, and turned over on its side. At the time of the accident the machine was running twenty-five miles an hour, according to Ealam.

Blendermann Falls on Head.

Ealam landed on his feet in a ditch at the side of the road. Blendermann was thrown clear of the automobile also, but his coat caught on the steering wheel, and in falling alongside of the machine he struck the ground on his head.

PUPIL BEATEN; FAINTS TWICE

Professor at Haven High School Accused of Assault on Boy.

FATHER TALKS OF A SUIT.

Visits Justice, but Is Dissuaded from Swearing Out Warrant.

Carl Smith, who is 14 years old and lives at 1407 Sherman avenue, a pupil at the Haven High school, Evanston, fainted twice yesterday afternoon after he had been knocked down and his shirt torn in the school by Prof. Francis Paul Taft of the manual training class. Court action to recover damages may be taken by the parents of the boy in the event that the assault results in permanent injury.

Prof. Taft, while admitting that he struck the boy and tore his shirt, declared that the blow was an accidental one.

Principal H. H. Kingsley of the high school was in Justice John Boyer's office when Charles T. Smith, father of the boy, went there with the intention of swearing out a warrant for the arrest of Prof. Taft. Smith decided after a talk with Justice Boyer to let the matter rest for some time until he learns if his son has been permanently injured. In that event he said he would sue Prof. Taft for damages.

Young Smith incurred the displeasure of Prof. Taft when he walked in front of the latter after a stray dog had entered the schoolroom and created a disturbance by barking.

Prof. Taft seized the boy by the shirt and gave it such a jerk that it was torn. He then, it is said, hit him in the left eye with his fist, knocking him down. The boy's head struck on an iron leg of a desk. He fainted and a short time later fainted a second time. The boy was kept in school for an hour and a half after the assault, and since returning home has been confined to his bed. The father says the boy has heart weakness.

Prof. Taft admitted he had torn the Smith boy's shirt and said that the blow struck after this was an accidental one.

HAS TEN HOUR TAXI RIDE FREE.

Peter De Rock Falls Asleep in Machine and Finds Judge Lenient in the Morning.

Peter De Rock, who lives in a fisherman's hut at Argyle avenue and the lake, appeared before Municipal Judge Scully, charged with disorderly conduct yesterday.

Steve Chavdaroff of 742 Barry avenue, a taxi driver, testified De Rock had motored about the city for ten hours and then offered to pay $12, instead of the actual charge of $40.

"Your honor," said De Rock, "I am a life saver and I was celebrating the close of the swimming season. I hired the car all right, but fell asleep in it. I didnt wake up until eight hours later."

"I'll discharge you this time," said the court to De Rock. Then to the chauffeur:

"This court is no collection agency. You had no right to take advantage of an intoxicated man."

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE

DEMAND REFORM IN PARTY RULES

New York Republicans Seek to End Evils Which Caused Chicago Breach.

BARNES BEATEN IN FIGHT

Platform Denounces New Currency Bill as Being "Menace to the People."

New York, Sept. 23.—The Republicans of New York today declared in favor of changing the party rules so that each state may determine its own method of choosing delegates to the national convention and so that states which give the big Republican pluralities shall have proportionately large power in selecting candidates for president. For this purpose the New York Republicans call for a special national convention at an early date.

The proposition caused a big struggle before the committee on resolutions. There the issue was fought out with United States Senator Elihu Root, Henry L. Stimson, former secretary of war, and Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, as chief supporters of the proposal, and William Barnes Jr., national committeeman, as its strongest opponent.

The resolution finally was approved after the original measure had been amended to recommend the retention of the congressional district as the basis of representation.

Resolution Urging Reform.

As adopted by the convention the resolution read:

"We instruct the representative of the state of New York in the national committee to urge that a national convention be called as soon as practicable to change the party rules so as:

"(1) To provide that in the call for future national conventions delegates are to be chosen in each state in the manner preferred by the Republican voters in such states. We, however, urge the continuance of the congressional district as the basis of representation.

"(2) To insure that representation in the national conventions shall hereafter be based more nearly on the Republican vote actually cast in the several states and congressional districts, which just principle received the unanimous support of the delegation from the state of New York at the national convention of 1908; and

"(3) To amend the rules relative to party procedure in such other respects as may be requisite."

Nominations for Judges.

The convention nominated William E. Werner of Rochester, associate judge of the Court of Appeals, for chief judge, and Frank H. Hiscock of Syracuse for associate judge of the Court of Appeals.

Judge Werner defeated State Senator Edgar T. Brackett for the nomination for chief judge by 447 votes to 151. Frederick E. Crane of Brooklyn, a Supreme court justice, opposed Judge Hiscock, but was defeated by a vote of 444 to 157.

District Attorney Whitman was greeted with cries of "our next governor" when he made an address dealing with the Sulzer case.

Condemns Judicial Recall.

The platform stands up strongly for the independence of the judiciary. The recall of judicial decisions and the recall of judges are denounced, and all attempts at "judicial intimidation" are declared to be dangerous.

The nomination of John Purroy Mitchel as fusion candidate for mayor of New York is indorsed. The election in the city is held to be in effect a state issue because it may mean the elimination of Tammany Hall.

The Sulzer impeachment is not discussed, but Democratic government in the state is denounced as expensive and inefficient. The election law is condemned on the same terms.

The platform includes planks declaring the Democratic tariff program of doubtful benefit. The currency bill is denounced on the score that it inflates the currency of the country.

Regarding currency legislation, the platform says:

"We denounce the Democratic banking and currency bill as menacing the business interests of the country and as inimical to the interests of the whole people."

ROME FACED TESTS OF U. S.

Senator Lewis, in History, Compares Two Republics.

WARNS OF DEMAGOGUES.

Difference in Wealth of People Also Seen as Peril.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Senator James Hamilton Lewis appeared today in the rôle of a historian.

The senator has published a book entitled "Two Great Republics—Rome and the United States." The volume comprises 304 pages and compares conditions recorded in Roman history with those existing in America today.

"The five centuries of republican institutions on the banks of the Tiber still remain the richest quarry to which the student of republican governments is able to resort for his material," Mr. Lewis says, "and the greatest resemblance to the existing conditions in the United States, both as to the character of the politics and the nature of the problems, is to be found in the great Roman republic of 2,000 years ago."

Points Three Great Perils.

Three great evils, Senator Lewis points out, led to the downfall of the Roman republic. The great inequalities of wealth, the influence of a class of demagogues possessed of a knowledge of human nature and endowed with skill in the management of men, yet entirely lacking in principle, patriotism, or any sense of public obligation, and the absence of any system of representative organization in the Roman government.

"The first two of these evils," Senator Lewis says, "are to be found in the American republic of today; the last of the three was a disadvantage suffered by Rome but outgrown by modern republics."

After tracing the principal events in Roman history, from the point of view of world development, Senator Lewis concludes:

"Not only in great but also in smaller things we see the ever recurring resemblances between Roman and American condition. Cicero's complaint, 'Let me tell you that there is no class of people so harassed by every kind of unreasonable difficulty as candidates for office,' finds a responsive chord in every American politician.

Slaps "Unscrupulous Demagogue."

"The impossibility of voters being able to discriminate between the reformer and the unscrupulous demagogue is shown time and again in the political history both of Rome and the United States. There has always been a class of politicians without character, without honesty, without any pretense of truthfulness, without any ability of a kind to be of value to the public, but possessed of an almost superhuman ability to deceive the public and to advertise themselves. Examples of this class may be found in Roman history in such men as Carbo and Cæsar; striking examples in recent American history will readily occur to every one.

"Political expenditures in the latter days of the Roman republic had become an even greater evil than in the case of the United States today. It is interesting, though alarming, to note that, the greater political freedom became at Rome, the greater became the amount of political expenditures and the greater the power of money in elections. A similar alarming phenomenon has recently been noticed in this country in the greater increase of political expenditures which have followed the introduction of the direct primary and the consequent greater difficulties of the candidates for office not possessed of a large fortune."

SAYS CITY TAXES EAT UP LOTS.

J. B. Woodruff Asserts That's Why Harlow N. Higinbotham Let $30,000 Tract Go for $5,000.

J. B. Woodruff, who manages the real estate and property of Harlow N. Higinbotham, former president of the World's Columbian exposition, explained yesterday why Mr. Higinbotham had allowed twenty acres of land belonging to him at Eighty-fifth street and Drexel boulevard to be sold for taxes.

The property which was supposed to be worth about $30,000, was bought by former Election Commissioner Thomas F. Judge for about $5,000.

"Mr. Higinbotham is out of the city now," said Mr. Woodruff, "but I can't see the use of paying $150 taxes and special assessments on a lot that can't be sold for $100. City improvements far in excess of the value of the property are making it judicious for property holders to let the real estate be sold for the taxes."

DUNNE TO DECIDE ON FEDERAL JOBS

Patronage Turned Over to the Governor to Force Progressive Legislation.

PLANS SPECIAL SESSION.

May Whip Legislators in Line for I. and R.; Lewis Will Lend Support.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Federal patronage in Illinois will be turned over to Gov. Dunne to force refractory legislators into line for progressive legislation.

It is stated here on good authority that Gov. Dunne will soon issue a call for a special session of the state legislature to pass the initiative and referendum laws and to abolish the state board of equalization.

A number of Democratic members of the state legislature, who are candidates for federal offices, are objecting to the calling of this session, and if called will probably vote against the governor's proposition unless he has some club with which to force them into line.

Senator Lewis, who deplores patronage fights, is willing to furnish the club. This fact was made certain today when Senator Lewis asked the secretary of the treasury to depose S. M. Fitch, collector of internal revenue; John C. Ames, collector of customs, and Louis K. Torbet, naval officer.

Lewis Will Support Dunne.

Senator Lewis said he had not decided upon the persons he would recommend for these places, but after the secretary acts upon his request he will confer with Gov. Dunne on the matter. He intimated that the governor would have the full say.

Another indication of the purpose of the senator to give the governor a leverage on the state legislature was his refusal to indorse Fred Griesheimer of Chicago for the position of appraiser of customs at Chicago. Griesheimer is now in Washington with indorsements from a large number of Jewish leaders for whatever position the Democrats intend to award to the Jewish element. He asked particularly for the appraisership, but Senator Lewis intimated that he was holding this position for the governor's disposal.

Senator Lewis called upon Secretary McAdoo today to present the name of Joseph P. Durkin of Peoria for the position of collector of internal revenue.

McAdoo Turns Down Candidate.

Secretary McAdoo intimated to Senator Lewis that Mr. Durkin would not be acceptable for the position and asked the senator to confer with those who had recommended his appointment with reference to the selection of some other man.

Senator Lewis presented Durkin's name on the recommendation of H. M. Pindell, a Peoria publisher. Mr. Pindell was offered the position by President Wilson several months ago and declined it then. Because the president offered it to him, Senator Lewis felt that he should recommend a man indorsed by Mr. Pindell for the place.

There has been a hot fight on for the Peoria collectorship, and Durkin was brought in the race at the last moment in order to defeat E. D. McCabe, who had the indorsement of Representative Stone. Mr. Pindell is thought to be friendly to McCabe, and if the departmental objections to Mr. Durkin prevail he may join the congressman in indorsing him.

The state department today announced the selection of Oscar Westerberg, a Swedish publisher of Chicago, for the position of consul at Malmer, Sweden.

SEEKS TO OUST MARSHALL

Board of Pontiac Managers Orders Formal Charges Filed.

LETTERS AS EVIDENCE.

Effort Made to Show Favors in Chair Making Contracts.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Pontiac, Ill., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Formal charges of cruelty to inmates were ordered tonight by the board of managers of the state reformatory against Dr. J. A. Marshall, physician of the institution for twelve years.

The board is in a quandary as to the procedure. Its intention is to suspend Dr. Marshall at the earliest moment and to separate him permanently from the place as soon as possible.

It does not now know whether it has the right to take summary action under the statute creating the board of managers of the reformatory or whether the accusations will have to be filed with the state civil service commission.

Attorney General Patrick J. Lucey is investigating the contradictory sections of the two laws tonight. The board of managers will be governed by his judgment.

Letters Given as Evidence.

The first indication of definite attack directed at former Superintendent Russell came in the introduction in evidence of a series of letters taken from the institution's files, tending to show that an arrangement was made between the management and the Western Fiber Reed company in 1913 for the rearrangement of the school terms so that a full force of boys could be used in the chair factory during "rush" months.

The first letter was from F. N. Farnham, representing the Western Fiber Reed company, to Russell, saying the company had the chance to sign a contract totaling between $10,000 and $15,000, but that the company did not want to take a chance unless the reformatory could give assurance that the work could be produced. He suggested that the school terms might be changed around. Later letters showed this was done.

Subpœna for All Employes.

The board of managers today directed a general subpœna to be issued to all of the officers, teachers, guards, nurses, and attaches of the institution to appear before the board, beginning tomorrow at noon, to give their version of the stories which have been told by the inmates. There were twenty-six of the boys on the stand today, bringing the total to more than 100. Thirty more will be heard in the morning, covering practically one-fourth of the population of the institution.

The twenty-six inmates who told their stories before the managers included Harry Freund and Victor Woler of Chicago. The bulk of the stories did not vary much from those told by the witnesses last week. They were accusations of wholesale cruelty, whippings, and beatings for minor offenses.

BAY STATE HISTORY CHANGED.

First Woman to Be Elected to Convention a Member of Progressive Party.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. Louis Agassiz Shaw, daughter of Charles S. Bird, the Progressive candidate for governor, has been elected a delegate to the state Progressive convention from Beverly Farms, Mass. She received eight out of the twelve Progressive votes in Ward six of that town. This is the first time in the history of Massachusetts that a woman has been elected to a state convention.

WILSON VISITS HIS OLD COLLEGE

President Meets Students and Teachers After Casting His Vote.

CALLS ON AGED WOMAN.

Memory Proved When He Greets Friend's Boy by Name on First Sight.

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 23.—President Wilson left here at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Washington after spending one of the happiest days of his life in his home town. He came to vote in the Democratic primaries for governor, but he turned the day into one of joyful reminiscence as he walked with friends amid the familiar scenes of Princeton university.

Lifelong companions who saw him today for for the first time since he left here on March 3 for the inauguration declared he had never looked better.

Greets Students and Teachers.

It was the proud alumnus and not the chief magistrate of the nation who swung easily along through the campus. Members of the faculty, students, and townsfolk trailed the president about. He shook hands with many he met.

The president's memory for faces was illustrated in a curious way. In a group of students who passed he spied one who nodded, but passed modestly onward.

"Hello, Jack Westcott," the president said, as he stepped forward and greeted the bashful young man.

"When I saw him last," Mr. Wilson explained afterward to his companions, "he was but a small boy."

Points to Athletic Trophies.

In the trophy room at the gymnasium the president animatedly called attention to the collection of footballs and baseballs, some painted red and others blue.

"The blue ones are those we won from Yale and the red ones we won from Harvard," the president said, smiling. "We are proud of them."

After his tour through the university, the president motored to the Cleveland memorial tower and the graduate college. He made only one call, this at the home of Mrs. Eliza Ricketts, 87 years old, his next door neighbor and acquaintance of many years. He also went to his old home on Cleveland Lane, found the key in his pocket and showed his friends about.

ROOSEVELT MAY FIND JEWELRY.

Negro Butler Who Stole Trinkets Offers to Help Recover Them if Shown Clemency.

Mineola, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Theodore Roosevelt visited the Nassau county jail here today and made an effort to trace a jade ring and a gold fob, two pieces of the $10,000 worth of jewelry stolen from his home on Sagamore Hill several weeks ago.

George R. Parker, the Roosevelt family butler, who was arrested after the robbery, sent word to the colonel that he was ready to confess if his former employer would agree to intercede for him.

Parker told the colonel he had lost the ring and had turned the fob over to a Brooklyn friend as security for a $10 loan. He directed Mr. Roosevelt to his mother to learn the whereabouts of the friend.

Why help wear out the stairs?

The elevated railroads, subways and public buildings are in constant search of stair covering which will withstand, for a reasonable length of time, the incessant tramp of human feet.

Ordinary stair coverings go to pieces very quickly under the pound and scrape of hard leather heels and iron nails, brought down with a force equal to the entire weight of the wearer.

THINK what this jar and friction, so hard on tough flooring, must do to sensitive bodies and nerves.

I tried them, but they did me little good, if any. I finally washed the pimples with Resinol Soap and applied Resinol Ointment before going to bed. In the morning I found the swelling going down and the inflammation gone from the pimples. I tried this treatment for about a week, and found that most of the pimples had disappeared. LOOK TO MEXICO FOR MEAT RELIEF

Packers in Convention Told How "Beef Famine" Might Be Averted.

"HIGH COST" DISCUSSED.

Speaker Would Have U. S. Appropriate $50,000,000 for Loans on Cows.

The hope that a large tract of northern Mexico may some day become the property of the United States was advocated before members of the American Meat Packers' association and the Third Refrigeration congress yesterday. It was pointed out to the two organizations, which held a joint meeting at the Hotel La Salle, that the tract in question contains the best undeveloped cattle breeding ground in the world.

The high cost of beef and the "gaunt specter of a beef famine" now confronting this country would be averted if the United States acquired the tract, it was stated.

Other subjects, bearing on the reasons for the beef shortage, which were discussed by the packers and refrigeration men were the "wastefulness of Americans, both in the house and packing house"; incompetency and ignorance of government officials, and inefficient railroad transportation.

Talks on "Future Meat Supply."

Northern Mexico and its possibilities as a cattle breeding ground under American ownership was brought before the packers by James E. Poole, editor of the Live Stock World. His topic was "The Future Meat Supply of North America."

"'When will meat be cheap again?' is the popular clamor," said Mr. Poole. "The puzzle is not calculated to tax the ingenuity of a Philadelphia lawyer. Meat never will be cheap again in the sense that it has been inexpensive.

"Theorists have exploited the illusion that somewhere on the distant horizon—South America, Australia, Africa, or Siberia—an avalanche of beef and mutton is awaiting the free trade era, but their day of discredit is not far distant. From whence, then, must the future supply of meat come?

"The only logical source is domestic production, supplemented by that of Mexico and Canada. Mexico contains the best undeveloped cattle breeding ground in the world. Much of its area is naturally pastoral."

Calls U. S. Officials Incompetent.

In condemning what he believes to be the incompetency of government officials, Mr. Poole said:

"How soon is the beef industry to be rehabilitated? No definite answer can be given, but at this critical stage federal assistance would be of great benefit. Junkets by sad eyed scientists to Siberia and other remote regions in search of puckerless persimmons might be dispensed with. Let the government finance the cow man until the cattle breeding industry is on its feet.

"At the outset $50,000,000 should be appropriated and made available for five year loans on cows. The basis of the live stock business is credit, and no better credit can be desired than cattle paper where the owner is able to care for the stock."

A. W. Mayo, a Boston packer, also attacked the government with regard to wastefulness.

"Meat can be saved at the slaughter house, in the butcher shop, and, above all, in the home," he said. "The stringent laws which control the packer cause much of the waste. We must throw away much which could be used for some food purposes just because the government makes us do so."

Butter and Egg Man Takes a Hand.

Poor railroad transportation, as affecting waste and the high cost of foodstuffs, was attacked by both Mr. Poole and W. F. Priebe, chairman of the transportation committee of the National Poultry, Butter and Egg association, the latter speaking before his organization at the Hotel Sherman.

Mr. Poole stated it often took the railroads nearly two days to bring shipments of cattle from points only 150 miles from Chicago, and that shippers were forced to endure similar obstacles sufficient to "drive them from the cattle business in disgust."

"At present, out of over a billion dollars' worth of eggs sold every year, $75,000,000 worth are destroyed," said Mr. Priebe. "Inadequate methods of transportation are the cause of this condition."

Sherman Talks at Banquet.

Preservation, conservation, and the securing of public confidence in manufactured articles of food, rather than depending on the sale of the latter through labels required by the pure food laws, were three subjects brought before delegates to the refrigeration congress by Senator L. Y. Sherman of Illinois yesterday. The senator was the chief speaker at a banquet given at White City. More than 1,200 persons attended, and only "cold storage courses" were served. The history of the food included in each course—its source and the length of time placed in cold storage—was outlined in the menus.

"The American people are the most extravagant in the world in the handling of their food supplies," said Senator Sherman. "We must realize that preservation is as much, or even more important than production."

Other speakers at the banquet were M. Andre Lebon of France and former Senator W. E. Mason.

While the banquet was on members of the American Meat Packers' association made merry at a smoker and vaudeville at the Hotel La Salle roof garden. A feature was a "brutal" beef dressing contest, in which the participants were stopped by a "policeman." The "beef" was a papier maché cow.

Suffrage Leader Who Resigns Post.

Miss Mary McDowell.

Miss Mary McDowell, head resident of the University of Chicago settlement, resigned yesterday from the board of directors of the Illinois Equal Suffrage association.

She chose a time when the affairs of the state board were less stormy than they have been for several months. It is generally believed, however, that she merely acted after due consideration on her threat made in the heat of one of the bitterest board meetings in the history of the association—the one following the return of the victorious suffragists from Springfield.

The board adopted a resolution extending to Mrs. Pankhurst the courtesies of the association on her visit to America. A luncheon probably will be given for her, although it was decided not to hold a public meeting or reception.

A three days housewarming will be held on Oct. 1, 2, and 3, when the association moves into its new quarters in the Tower building.

NATION WILL AID CATTLE RAISERS

Building of City Abattoirs in Small Places Seen as First Step.

URGE FARMERS TO HELP.

Houston and Galloway Appear Before Committee to Tell of Reforms.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—The department of agriculture today made public an extensive program by which it hopes to increase the American meat supply. The department will recommend and foster the following:

1. The establishment of municipal abattoirs throughout the country.
2. The raising of stock by small farmers.
3. The formation of cooperative live stock associations by the farmers of New England, the south Atlantic states, and the middle west.
4. The formation of boys' pig clubs, similar to the boys' corn clubs, which the department has been fostering for several years.

The beef situation is regarded as serious by congress, as well as the department of agriculture, and one of the first items of legislation which will be rushed through at the regular session will be the Smith-Lever agricultural extension bill.

Must Aid Small Farmers.

The enactment of this bill into law will do much to encourage the raising of beef cattle by the small farmer, according to Representative Lever of South Carolina, chairman of the house committee on agriculture.

Secretary Houston appeared before the Lever committee today and said that the only way in which the beef supply can be increased is to encourage the raising of cattle by the small farmers. He said the reason the small farmer does not raise cattle now is that he does not regard it as profitable as raising crops.

The department of agriculture and the agricultural colleges of the country have much information to wipe out this belief of the farmer, and the passage of the Lever bill, according to the secretary, will place this information at the use of the farmer through departmental and collegiate experts.

City Abattoirs Needed.

Assistant Secretary Galloway also appeared at the hearing. Later he said the solution of the meat problem lies in the establishment of municipal abattoirs.

"There is one thing," Secretary Galloway said, "which I haven't seen mentioned in the dispatches about the Chicago packers' convention, upon which the solution of the whole problem depends, in my estimation. In fact, I don't think it will be solved until it is taken up and done.

"That is the establishment of abattoirs by the smaller municipalities of the country, to which the farmer can go and dispose of his live stock, have it slaughtered, and have it held for favorable markets.

"There is now one of these abattoirs in Paris, Tex., and it has been most successful. Another is contemplated by the municipality of Alexandria, Va. They are common all over Europe, especially France, but so far have been little thought of in this country.

"The real issue is that the farmer will produce cattle as soon as he finds it a profitable business. He is not on the farm from charitable motives, but from business motives. The great question with him is: Will it pay? As long as crops are more salable than cattle, he will raise and sell crops. Once he is convinced that cattle are more salable than crops, he will raise both crops and cattle, feed the former to the latter, and then sell the cattle."

PLAN NEW $1,000,000 HOSPITAL

Hahnemann Medical Institution to Erect Buildings on Rhodes Avenue, Near Thirty-second Street.

Plans for the construction of a $1,000,000 hospital and college of medicine by the Hahnemann Medical college were presented and discussed at a banquet of the faculty of the school held at the Hotel La Salle last night.

According to Dr. J. P. Cobb, the new dean of the college, it is proposed to erect a hospital and college in Rhodes avenue between Thirty-second and Thirty-fifth streets that will cost $1,000,000, one-half of which he said already had been subscribed and plans for the new buildings drawn.

"Diamond Club" Case in Court.

Failure of witnesses for the prosecution to appear resulted in a continuance when Fred C. Eaman was arraigned before Judge Fake yesterday. Eaman, said to be also known as Fred C. NEW HAVEN HEADS TO BLAME

Commerce Body Holds Management Responsible for Wreck.

FINDINGS PUBLIC TODAY.

Report Urges Granting of Authority to Safeguard Passengers.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Besides severely arraigning the old management of the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad and partially blaming the directors of the road for permitting the conditions which were responsible for the latest wreck, the interstate commerce commission in its report to be made public tomorrow, will recommend that it be given authority to assure safety for interstate passengers.

The report will charge that the wreck was inexcusable and occurred because recommendations made by the commission as a result of previous wrecks were deliberately ignored. Notwithstanding carelessness and disobedience of orders on the part of subordinate officials, the men "higher up" will be held responsible for failure to take their duties seriously enough, except in so far as they have related to problems of income and expenditure.

The directors, it is charged, have failed to devote the proper attention to the physical operation of the road, leaving this matter altogether in the hands of subordinates.

Commission May Regulate Speed.

Commissioner McChord, who has prepared the report, will ask congress for authority to regulate the speed of passenger trains, as originally proposed by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, to prescribe standards of equipment and safety devices, and to take other radical steps in the way of extended federal regulation.

In this connection Mr. McChord wrote the following letter to Secretary of Commerce Redfield today:

"The interstate commerce commission has recommended that legislation be enacted requiring the use of modern steel equipment in passenger train service. The exceedingly great number of fatalities resulting from rear end collisions, the trains involved, which have been composed of wooden equipment, has brought this matter very prominently to the attention of congress and legislation will undoubtedly be enacted requiring the use of modern steel equipment.

Wants Study of Steel Cars.

"This will probably result in steel car manufacturers being overcrowded with orders, and in their desire to fill them with the least possible delay they may not build cars of the greatest possible strength. On this account the commission is apprehensive that, unless some study is made of steel car construction, in a few years we will be confronted with conditions similar to those which now confront us in the matter of defective wheels and rails."

The commission urges an immediate investigation by the bureau of standards into steel car construction.

JOLIET PRISONER ESCAPES: MAY BE ON WAY TO CHICAGO.

James P. Barry, Serving Term for Burglary, Gets Away When Sent Out to Work as a "Trusty."

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—James P. Barry, a convict in the state penitentiary here, escaped today and at midnight more than 100 guards were scouring Will county for traces of the fugitive.

Barry, who was serving his third term for burglary, was sentenced in Chicago in 1908.

His record has been excellent and his release would have been in 1919 under the "good conduct" rule.

Barry was a "trusty." He had been sent unguarded to work on a house across from the penitentiary quarries which had been shaken by blasts. At 3 o'clock he departed. No one saw him go.

The deputy warden believes the man is on his way to Chicago.

Dont make the mistake of thinking you cant be fitted in ready clothes It is sometimes quite a costly mistake; you'll pay a good deal more to have your clothes made-to-measure than for equal quality, ready; and you can get just as good a fit in ready clothes as a custom tailor can give you.

There's an easy way to prove it; because fit is something you can see for yourself. Go to some good clothier where our clothes are sold; ask to see a suit or overcoat at $25; make some comparison of style, material, tailoring, with the made-to-measure suit or overcoat at $40. If it doesn't fit, don't buy it.

You'll find suits and overcoats of ours at $18 and $20 and up to $50.

Gossard Corset at $5.00

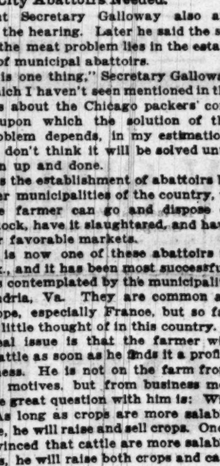
Is the Greatest Value We Have Ever Offered

WE thought so when we saw the first corset in the designing room. The picture you are looking at is exactly what we saw.

While every Gossard Corset sold represents the utmost in value regardless of its price, we must say that this model represents value far in excess of the price we ask—five dollars.

Model 205

Is designed after our highest priced models, and while the lines are not identical, they do give practically the same impression. Fitted in this model, you can wear any suit, gown or dress of the present vogue, regardless of its individual style.



Model 205

To achieve a model capable of fitting all of these requirements, we lowered the bust line, lengthened the skirt, gave the back a very flat effect, and enlarged the waist just a trifle. The hips were, of course, reduced.

The best evidence of the worth of this model is to see yourself in it. This you can do without any obligation, at either of our stores. We suggest an immediate fitting. Made in an enduring Batiste of dainty texture, $5.00

AMERICANS FLEE DEATH THREATS

Mexican Rebel Leader Gives Expatriates 24 Hours to Leave Province.

SEIZES THEIR PROPERTY.

Brands All Aliens Filibusters; Doctor Among Refugees Tells Hardships.

El Paso, Tex., Sept. 23.—Dr. E. C. Shackelford, an American citizen, arrived here today from Santa Rosalia, Chihuahua, Mexico, fleeing from Pancho Villa, the rebel leader, who gave him twenty-four hours to get out or be killed. Dr. Shackelford is a native of Frankfort, Ky., and has been living in Santa Rosalia six years.

He says when Villa and his rebel band entered the town on Sept. 15, Villa sent for him, told him he was tired of "you American filibusters" being in Mexico, and declared that he would shoot them all if they did not get out.

"Villa took all my books and accounts and told me he would collect my money," the doctor added. "He also said my house and furnishings would be forfeited to the rebels and placed two guards over me to see that I didn't depart with any money or property.

Flees with Only Suitcase.

"I left at 10 o'clock the morning of the 16th. I had to walk out, carrying a suitcase, which is all I saved. I hired an old mule at a ranch and finally reached the Texas line. My family was forced to flee from Santa Rosalia in May last. They are now in Chihuahua.

"All the Mexican men of prominence in Santa Rosalia have had to flee from the rebels, and when I left there last Tuesday morning Villa had thrown all the prominent Mexican women in town into jail and had searched every home for money.

"Villa told me he was going to kill the American officials of the Conchas Dam company, near Santa Rosalia."

Americans Flee from Durango.

Mexico City, Sept. 23.—Twenty-five American refugees from the state of Durango arrived here today, having traveled overland to Zacatecas, where they boarded a train for the capital. Out of the normal American population in Durango of 3,000, less than twenty-five, all men, remain there.

Of the American refugees arriving today on their way to the United States a number formerly were well to do. They are now penniless.

Most other foreigners also have left the state of Durango, according to the refugees, who say that the rebels rob Mexicans and foreigners indiscriminately. Some ranches were looted so often that absolutely nothing portable remains.

San Luis Potosi, Mexico, Sept. 23.—The number of killed in the dynamiting of a northbound train on the Mexican National railway Sunday was officially fixed today at thirty-five. The dead include both civilians and soldiers.

Illinoisan Slain in Mexico?

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Advices received today by relatives stated that Victor East of this city had been murdered in Mexico. He has been manager of a Mexican lumber and development company in Campeche. His wife is with him.

HANS SCHMIDT AND MURET INDICTED AS COUNTERFEITERS

Latter Cannot Escape Conviction, Secret Service Men Say—Physicians Declare Priest Is Not Insane.

New York, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—The federal grand jury voted today to indict Hans Schmidt, the slayer of Anna Aumuller, and Ernest A. Muret, the fake dentist, in connection with their plans to manufacture counterfeit money in a flat at 516 West One Hundred and Thirty-fourth street. Four indictments will be handed down against each, three for counterfeiting and one charging conspiracy.

In case Muret manages to escape criminal prosecution in connection with Schmidt's other crimes, the secret service men say that he is hopelessly involved in Schmidt's counterfeiting operations, declaring they have a cleancut case against him. Thus far Muret has been charged only with violating the Sullivan gun law in having a revolver in his possession.

Schmidt was visited at the Tombs today by three physicians, Dr. Max Erlwein, Dr. J. Herman Branth, and Dr. Charles F. W. Horn, all of whom agreed that Schmidt is not insane.

WANT NEW CURRENCY PLAN

Senators Hitchcock, Bristow, and Reed Urge Radical Revision.

ATTACKS REGIONAL BANKS.

Untermyer Opposes Issuing Notes to Back Commercial Paper.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—Complete revision of the framework of the administration currency bill was proposed by Senators Reed, Hitchcock, and Bristow today during the examination of Samuel Untermyer before the senate banking committee.

Reed and Hitchcock have vigorously assailed certain provisions of the house bill. Today Senator Reed advanced what he called the Hitchcock plan.

The plan would eliminate from the proposed system the entire scheme of regional reserve banks and substitute a government issue of currency to individual banks on commercial paper backed by a 50 per cent gold reserve up to 75 per cent of the capital stock of each individual bank. That would be in addition to the present bank note issue.

Senator Reed in a long speech advocating the plan criticised the regional bank plan as making the individual banks "subservient to a combination of banks."

Untermyer Opposes Reed's Plan.

Mr. Untermyer opposed the Hitchcock plan as not offering enough security to the government for the issue of currency. The committee was unable to conclude the questioning of Mr. Untermyer today and he will return Monday.

Mr. Untermyer made it clear that in his testimony yesterday he desired to deny that the federal reserve board would be able to use its influence for political purposes.

"That seems to me," he said, "not only improbable, but impossible."

Senator Reed suggested a charge of 2 per cent interest against banks to which currency would be issued to form a sinking fund to pay off the government debt.

"That is a revival of the bank guarantee idea," commented Mr. Untermyer.

"Before this bill is passed," returned Senator Reed, "I hope to see a provision written into it that will make banking safer for depositors than it is now."

Prospects for Lengthy Discussion.

With prospects for extended discussion of the bill, senators today were of opinion that three weeks and possibly a month will pass before the bill will be brought into the senate.

Charles M. Harrington read a lengthy argument to show that under the proposed system the banks of the northwest would not have available sufficient funds to handle the farmers' products during the fall and winter months.

GOVERNMENT AID FOR IMPORTERS

Goods Now in Bonded Warehouses Will Be Admitted Under New Duties.

DELAY ON BILL PASSAGE.

Hope That President Can Sign Measure on Saturday Seems to Be Lost.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Goods now in bonded warehouses will pay the duties imposed by the new tariff law, which will be in operation within a week.

This is the statement of conferees on the tariff bill and officials of the treasury department. In order to save demurrage and other charges to Chicago and other importers the treasury department is authorizing bonded warehouses in which the goods imported will be kept until the conferees shall finish their labors and the president shall sign the act.

Increase in Bonded Houses.

The treasury department today gave relief to importers by authorizing two new bonded warehouses in Chicago, one of which is an extension of the Sibley warehouse. It is stated that since the revision of the tariff was begun the department has been authorizing additional warehouses throughout the country on an average of five a day. The usual number is one a day. This indicates that a tremendous quantity of goods has been imported and held in bond in order to avoid the payment of the high duties imposed by the present law and to take advantage of the lower rates of the Simmons-Underwood statute.

The plan of the Democratic leaders to rush through the conference report on the tariff bill this week in order that President Wilson might sign it before sundown Saturday has been upset. Present indications are that the legislative labors on the proposed tariff will be projected into next week.

Disputes Threaten Delays.

Everybody concerned is anxious to get the tariff bill out of the way, but there are some questions still in controversy that promise to delay a conclusion. The subcommittee to which was assigned the task of whipping the income tax section into shape expects to make a final report tomorrow. The majority of the conferees spent the day in a discussion of the administrative features, passing over for the present the more important feature of this branch of the subject.

After the conferees reach an agreement the report must be passed upon by the house and the senate.

SENATOR SHERMAN WILL NOT SUPPORT CURRENCY BILL.

Comes to Chicago to Tell State Bankers' Association Why He Is Against Democratic Measure.

Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman will not vote for the currency bill in the form it passed the house. He will explain his opposition in a speech to the Illinois Bankers' association here tomorrow.

"There are several vital reasons why I am against the bill as it stands," said Mr. Sherman at the Union League club yesterday. "I do not care to discuss them in detail until I speak to the bankers. I will say, though, I favor currency legislation, but not of the sort the Democratic house would force upon us."

Mr. Sherman will go to his home in Springfield tomorrow night. He will remain there until the state fair. He will be one of the speakers on "Republican day," when he is expected to make known his intentions regarding the next senatorial campaign. His friends assert he will surely seek to return. This was understood when he accepted the short term from the state legislature.

BILL NYE'S NEWSPAPER QUITS.

Laramie, Wyo., Boomerang, Founded and for Years Edited by Humorist, Suspends Under Foreclosure.

Laramie, Wyo., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—The Laramie Boomerang, founded in 1881 by Bill Nye, the humorist, and edited and printed by him for years, until his fame was worldwide, has gone to the journalistic graveyard. The First National bank, which held a mortgage on the plant, foreclosed early this morning.

WHAT THE INTERNAL BATH Is Doing for Humanity

Under our present mode of living the large intestine (the colon) cannot get rid of all the waste that it accumulates, so it clogs up, and then biliousness, constipation is the result, and that lack of desire to do, to work, to think.

This waste in the colon, as we all know, is extremely poisonous, and if neglected the blood takes up the poisons—and brings on countless very serious diseases—appendicitis is directly caused by waste in the colon.

If the colon is kept clean and pure you will always feel bright and capable—never blue and nervous—always up to "concert pitch."

There is just one Internal Bath which will keep the colon as sweet and clean as Nature demands it to be for perfect health—that is the "J. B. L. Cascade."

Many thousands are using it, and doctors prescribing it with great success all over the world. It is now being shown and explained by The Independent Drug Company, State and Adams streets, Chicago.

is crowded with values.

Theodore Roosevelt contributes the most important political article of the year, "The Progressive Party." He sums up the work of the first year of the Progressives, and in characteristic style announces their policy for the future. Whether Republican or Democrat, no man or woman genuinely interested in public affairs can afford to miss this article. It is likely to find its way into the histories of the United States.

"Home," a dramatic and human novel, peopled with varied American characters and written in racy English, begins in this number. The entire novel, which is anonymous, will appear in four big instalments.

Other contributors are Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, Ellis Parker Butler, Theodore Dreiser, John Burroughs, Eleanor Hallowell Abbott, Stephen Leacock, James Davenport Whelpley James W. Foley, and Oliver Herford.

Among the artists whose work enrich this number are John W. Alexander, the late George Inness, Edmund Dulac, Bernard Boutet de Monvel, W. J. Glackens, W. T. Benda, Herman Pfeifer, Alvin W. Coburn, Emil Fuchs, Reginald Birch, and Chas. S. Chapman.

This splendid October Century is overflowing with the vitality, character and good taste that are the essentials of real leadership.

Drawings in a Theater.

Bad weather prevented the drawing in the open air, so it was held in a theater instead.

The drawing is for approximately 7,000 claims comprised in the 1,345,000 acres in the Fort Peck Indian reservation in northwestern Montana, which has just been thrown open to settlement by the government.

The land drawing marks, it is said, the last big land lottery that ever will be conducted by the government, the Fort Peck tract being the last of the large areas available for settlement. Registration for the drawing was only half of what was expected, officials in charge say.

DEATH TAKES PATRICK FORD

Editor of Irish World Passes Away in Brooklyn Home.

POWER IN TWO COUNTRIES.

Fought Against English Rule While Influencing American Politics.

New York, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Patrick Ford, editor of the Irish World, died today at his home in Brooklyn. He was known on both sides of the Atlantic as one of the foremost champions of the Irish cause.

In England he had been regarded for a generation and more as the personification of Irish opposition to English rule. In the United States he took an important part in American politics. Under his leadership thousands of voters in 1884 broke away from the Democratic party and cast their ballots for Blaine.

How Burchard's "Rum, Romanism, and Rebellion" saved the day for the Democratic party is a matter of history.

James G. Blaine, who was a close friend of Ford, in a published letter made a handsome acknowledgment of his services.

Fought Irish Landlordism.

While doing this work on this side of the Atlantic Ford was inspiring his countrymen in Ireland with his own irreconcilable hostility to Irish landlordism. Gladstone in a speech delivered in the house of commons on April 18, 1882, declared "but for the work the Irish World is doing with the money it is sending across the ocean there would be no agitation in Ireland."

Born in Galway, Ireland, April 12, 1837, Ford emigrated to America with his parents in 1846. Boston was the field of his early activities.

Began Career Under Garrison.

As a boy Ford was employed in the printing office of William Lloyd Garrison, editor and publisher of The Liberator. In 1855 he began his journalistic career by writing for the Boston newspapers.

In 1860 Ford was the editor and publisher of the Boston Sunday Times. When the civil war began he enlisted in the Ninth Massachusetts and took part in the charge of Fredericksburg. After the war he removed to Charleston, S. C., where he founded the Charleston Gazette. Four years later he issued in New York the first copy of the Irish World.

When the Land league came into existence in 1879, Ford founded 2,500 branches of it in the United States.

Gets Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Jurge Goodwin yesterday afternoon issued a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Percy R. Finch of the Brevoort hotel, who was arraigned before Municipal Judge Uhlir in the Court of Domestic Relations on a charge of contributing to the dependency of his 5 year old daughter, Helen.

FARMERS BEGIN ANNUAL CONGRESS

Delegates from Many States Meet at Plano; Two Governors Speak.

SESSIONS IN LARGE TENT.

Dunne of Illinois and Cox of Ohio Urge Bettering Rural Conditions.

Plano, Ill., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—James Cox, the farmer governor of Ohio, and Gov. Dunne of Illinois were the star performers at the opening session of the farmers' national congress this afternoon.

The two farmer governors were greeted by an audience which overflowed the 3,000 capacity of the big tent, and their advice to the real farmers present was greeted with enthusiastic applause.

Hundreds of delegates poured into the little city of Plano on the morning trains and automobiles packed the main streets from the surrounding country. The excellent advance arrangements enabled the visitors to be comfortably cared for, but the homes of Plano are packed with farmers and their wives and more are arriving tonight.

Dunne Tells Needs of Illinois.

Gov. Dunne, after pointing out the agricultural supremacy of Illinois, reviewed some of the things yet to be accomplished if that supremacy is to be retained. He declared the country population of Illinois is decreasing and that the drift to the city menaces the vitality of the state and its institutions.

He emphasized the decline of agriculture by declaring that in Germany on land that has been farmed for a thousand years the yield of wheat is nearly twice as much per acre as in Illinois on vastly superior soil.

Both governors laid special emphasis on the problems of soil fertility, good roads, and better country schools, and made good with the grangers by pledging themselves to push measures for the betterment of country life.

Cox Stands Up for Ohio.

Gov. Cox, known to all Ohio as "Fighting Jimmy," captured the farmers by going at their economic troubles in hammer and tongs style and pointing out many practical things which he declares are already under way in Ohio.

One of these troubles is the rural school survey which reveals that hundreds of country schools in Ohio have less than five pupils and that not only the country school but the country churches are disappearing. He affirmed that the restoration of these two community factors in modernized form lies at the foundation of the salvation of the country community.

He spoke at some length of the new policy of convict labor in Ohio under which hundreds of convicts are making brick on state lands for the building of a paved road from the Ohio river to the Indiana line, and asked the coöperation of Illinois in extending the old national highway to the Mississippi.

WORLDLY KNOWLEDGE NEEDED.

What our saloonkeepers chiefly need is more experience with the sad and sodden side of life. They live so secluded in their anchoritic retreats, gratefully sniffing the roses on the back bar and enjoying the beauties of the few works of art chastely adorning the place, that when a villainy or a rascality comes in the front door the chances are they won't recognize it.

"If the courts decide the '26' game is gambling," says the president of the (Booze) Merchants' Protective association, "you will find me in the front ranks fighting to oust it from the saloons. I am unalterably opposed to gambling in saloons."

It is inexperience and guilelessness that get our saloonkeepers into these little altercations with authority. What they need is more knowledge of life.

O'HAIR'S HAPPINESS.

If the Hon. Frank T. O'Hair, representative in congress from the Eighteenth Illinois congressional district, cannot go safely to his constituents with his excuses for not being in Washington when the currency bill came to a vote then that great and famous political division has lost its sympathy for humanity and its appreciation of the true joys.

Mr. O'Hair, called west on business, "stopped off to see the home folks at Paris, Ill." He rode out to the farm of a friend. There was his bliss and his catastrophe.

"His orchard of wine saps was just ripe, the wild goose plums were never redder, and his cider mill was turning out the sweetest, richest cider I ever tasted. I ate and ate and I drank and drank and about midnight that night I was the sickest man in Illinois."

It was September and the fields were brown, yellow, and purple, the woods green flecked with scarlet, and all outdoors looked as if Ceres had tripped and upset her market basket; poor O'Hair, so long an alien in the marble halls of the Egyptians in Washington, was back with his feet on the soil, with his appetite purring in eagerness, his blood singing and his lungs full of guaranteed air.

He looked at the full granaries and the Esau in him arose and yelled. Even with the memory of an old fashioned stomach ache abiding with him we know he does not regret it and we trust the district forgives it.

The Hon. O'Hair probably is full of Jamaica ginger now, but he need not be the prisoner of remorse. The Eighteenth district knows what a cider mill can do to a statesman.

A MOMENT OF CALM.

Mr. O'Laughlin's analysis (in his dispatch of Sunday) of the president's method of party discipline squares with the most favorable estimates of Mr. Wilson's leadership, and with the chief observable facts. This discipline does not rest upon the distribution of jobs nor upon the withholding of them. There is no question that the president has been under the heaviest pressure to let the long starved Democratic donkey into the clover field of patronage and that a good deal of bitterness exists because he has shown his respect for civil service principles is genuine and practical, not for platform purposes only.

The pressure brought by Mr. Wilson on the leaders in congress and the rank and file which has smothered serious revolt throughout tariff revision and is keeping them well in line for the currency bill is his insistence upon the necessity of making good before the next congressional election. In this he is assisted by the fact that the political results of Mr. Taft's handling of revision and of the insolent evasion of the Republican standpat leaders are fresh in mind. Many years of power had made Republican mandarins reckless. Unwonted success makes Democratic tacticians cautious and compliant.

Besides, tariff revision downward had become virtually a unanimous demand, raised above party. No politician not mad would dare defy it. Currency reform is another nonpartisan problem, and, as to our international controversies, a wise tradition protects them from reputable partisan use.

Thus far, therefore, the president has had a smooth sea and favoring wind. Thus far the subject matter of his accomplishments has been, if not noncontroversial, at least nonpartisan, and the opposition has been divided with no sharp issues to crystallize policy or inspire energetic action.

This cannot last. In the list of subjects to be taken up at the regular session are many which are nonpartisan and unlikely to develop serious partisan opposition, such as conservation, civil and criminal law reform, employes' compensation, campaign contributions and publicity, Mississippi improvement, and establishing a national health service.

But the question of Philippine independence is likely to bring out party cleavage and more serious differences will appear with the administration proposals for Sherman law amendment.

The moment is one of calm. The country is prosperous, but not complacent. It is interested but not hysterical. Theoretically the conditions are ideal for that wise and deliberate consideration of legislation and public policy which a great people always should give to their affairs. Unhappily experience shows that progress requires heat and the opposition of forces.

PUNISH ELECTION THIEVES.

Crimes committed for the benefit of the state's attorney; and the state's attorney uses the power of his office to prevent detection and punishment.

Crimes committed for the benefit of county commissioners; and county commissioners prevent the appropriation of money for their prosecution.

Election crooks in the employ of the trustees of the sanitary district.

Election crooks on the pay roll of the city hall.

This is the situation that has been bared to the startled gaze of our community.

This is the character of government under which we suffer; a corrupt and malignant political machine as bad as those of Tweed and Croker.

For six months organized official corruption has used the power of office in frenzied effort to bury the evidence of its wrongdoing.

A special grand jury was impaneled for the purpose of keeping the ballots of the last election—the evidence of the election fraud—in the hands of that fraud's beneficiaries, which maneuver was defeated by the perspicacity of Judge Jesse Baldwin, in whose custody the evidence was. The evidence was turned over to the special grand jury appointed by Judge Cooper and to Special State's Attorney Northup.

Resulting from this, indictments have been voted against men in close relation with the public officials who have used their power to prevent investigation.

During this time only a devoted band of public spirited citizens have persisted in the exposure of crime for the benefit of a public too little interested.

County Commissioners McCormick, Gard, Coonley, Mitchell, Moriarty, Board, and Anderson have been making an even fight for honesty in the conduct of the county's affairs.

Trustees Clark and Paullin have been fighting with their backs to the wall against the wholesale plunder of the sanitary district.

The time has come for the people to pull themselves together for a space; to drop their differences of opinion and personal ambition; to unite against this crime breeding, crime supporting, and crime concealing cabal that has fastened its grip upon the community.

For let it be well understood that if the evidence of last November's stolen election comes again into the control of the beneficiaries of that robbery, it will be promptly destroyed, and an organization comprising the election machinery and the prosecuting machinery, cemented by fear of punishment, will carry on its future depredations and election thefts in such a way as to make detection a thousandfold more difficult than it is now, and punishment almost impossible.

STILL, if Thaw isn't a fugitive from the Matteawan asylum, what is he?

DID you happen to forget to take in your flowers night before last? So did we.

DEPARTING summer gave us a frost as its farewell blessing, and the sun seemed to shiver as it crossed the line.

PITY the sorrows of those five men who were adrift on Lake Michigan for twenty-eight hours "without food or water!"

AMONG the recent weddings was that of Mr. E. Casazzo and Miss Liugia Schappacasse. And events like that happen in Chicago almost every day in the year!

WE trust it awakens a thrill of interest everywhere to learn that Normal avenue, from Fifty-fifth street southward, is in a state of chaos from which it will emerge presently a full fledged boulevard with a pavement—a real pavement.

AT the first favorable opportunity, however, the people will forget Mr. Thaw with a celerity that will make his head swim.

ARE you reading the autobiography of S. S. McClure, the immigrant boy "who became the greatest editor of his time"?

AMONG the new students at Harvard university this term is Mr. Plenyans G. Wolo, son of an African chieftain, who will specialize in chemistry and physics. Mr. Wolo is said to be a young man of character and ability. There is nothing the matter with him, possibly excepting his complexion, and that will not hurt him at Harvard.

DID you ever notice what one good rain can do to an average Illinois public road?

"BE good," says a local moralist, "and you may be happy, but you'll never get on the first page."

IN A MINOR KEY.

Nothing Strange.

Mrs. Jenner Lee Ondego—I saw your husband's name in the papers this morning. He had just made a generous donation, I think, to the——

Mrs. Gaddabout (interrupting)—Street fund? Yes, I saw it. Overspeeding. Fifty dollars and costs this time, wasn't it? What a pretty jabot you are wearing!

Ever Faithful.

"Henry, I believe you are like all the men. When I give you letters to mail you think it's a good joke to carry them for days and days in your pocket!"

"Abigail, I give you my word I mail every one of them—eventually."

Hard to Suit.

"Maria," sharply asked Mr. Dorkins, "is that worthless young whipper snapper of a Dick Doogood still coming to see Bessie?"

"What do you mean by talking that way, John?" said Mrs. Dorkins. "He hasn't been here in six weeks."

"Hasn't he? Is the scoundrel trifling with her affections?"

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations and where a stamped, addressed envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases. Requests for such service cannot be answered.

PESSIMISM NOT WARRANTED.

THE public press has recently carried most alarming reports, based on the paper of Dr. Kellogg of Battle Creek, Mich. According to the reports, if the percentage of insanity continues, within a few years everybody living would be insane. Not many, however, would be living, as the race was losing vitality, height, weight, resistance to disease, hair, teeth, and about everything else, and heart disease, Bright's disease, and diabetes were mounting by leaps and bounds.

To increase the effect of the increasing death rate there was a decreasing birth rate. In fact, the last baby born to the human race would appear about a hundred years from now.

These were the high lights of the paper. When the statements on which they were based are put back into their proper positions, it is found that they are not so alarming.

The plea of Dr. Kellogg was for the doing of many things not now done by health departments. As I understood him his tone of pessimism was based upon the assumption that these things would not be done. He definitely said, as to some of them at least, that we should not suffer if we got busy to correct the conditions.

As a matter of fact much of the pessimism results from the discovery of conditions which we are facing for the first time. Hitherto we have not known and have not cared.

The increase in insanity is an apparent rather than a real increase. We have been emptying our farmhouses, our poor farms, and our jails of their insane, and this increases the asylum rolls.

When the English people took stock after the Boer war they, for the first time, took seriously what many had guessed at and some knew. The studies and movements for betterment that have grown out of that war mean that the English people are better, not worse, and that they are due to get better still.

These studies in England, in this country, in fact, all over the world, are too recent for any one to use as the basis for comparative study. We may be degenerating, but the facts cited to prove it do not do so. They do prove that we are not what we ought to be.

Besides, most of the matters touched upon are matters of personal hygiene and quite outside the present work of health departments. For instance, there is the worry and bad mental training that lead to mental breakdowns. Teaching control of the brain to the end that these breakdowns may be prevented is a matter of personal hygiene for which legislative bodies have never been willing to appropriate money.

Not all of the Bright's disease, hardening of the arteries, the senility in what should be the years of greatest vigor, not all of this is the result of alcohol and tobacco.

The alcohol question, in fact the entire drug addiction question, is outside the realm of health department work. Temperance is a matter of personal hygiene.

Maybe in time city councils will appropriate for such work, but the time is not at hand. To this might be added safety against accidents.

After Dr. Kellogg had spoken Drs. Woodward of Washington, D. C., Rankin of North Carolina, and the writer tried to correct the tone of pessimism by showing that the figures quoted set forth where we stood, not the direction of the drift. The fallacy of the conclusions about the declining birth rate is shown by Havelock Ellis.

PROBABLY DUE TO NERVOUSNESS.

J. D. M. writes: "I am a man of 40 years of age, 6 feet tall, and weigh 185 pounds. I am in splendid health, but I am troubled with cold and clammy hands. I do not use liquor in any form, but smoke a great many cigars a day. I am somewhat nervous. Please advise the cause of my having cold hands."

REPLY.

You are not old enough to have cold hands as the result of senility. In that case perhaps your trouble is due to nervousness. "A great many cigars a day" could cause that kind of nervousness. Why not begin experimenting with the cigars?

KIDNEY TROUBLE.

R. J. writes: "What is your opinion of a course of baths at Hot Springs, Ark., or Benton Harbor, Mich., for a case of kidney trouble of a year's standing? I have taken medicine without much success."

REPLY.

Kidney trouble is an extremely indefinite term. Some cases of Bright's disease are easily cured; some tend to run on for a long time; others are rapidly fatal. If your case belongs in either of the first two groups, anything in the way of sensible, hygienic living helps. Baths are of no direct service. Obeying orders and baths—and people taking baths are apt to do what they are told—are of service.

RINGING IN EAR.

Mrs. F. H. G. writes: "What physical condition will cause constant ringing in left ear?"

REPLY.

The first thing to do is to see if there is wax or any other foreign body in the ear. The probability is that an infection traveled, years ago, from your throat to your inner ear. At any rate, the second step is to have an examination of your throat and inner ear and the tube that runs between them.

NO BASIS FOR CLAIMS.

Reader writes: "Is there any basis for the advertised claims that the juice of cineraria dropped in the eyes will cure all forms of cataract and all other eye troubles? The drops sell at $1 a bottle."

REPLY.

There is none.

MISINFORMED.

Mrs. A. B. C. writes: "After nursing my baby for seven months I was advised by my doctor to dry up my breasts with liquid camphor. I have since been given to understand that this is liable to have a bad effect upon the system in general, and particularly the stomach. Moreover, I am told that it will now be impossible for me to nurse another baby. Please advise me?"

REPLY.

You have been misinformed on both points. Your system in general will not suffer, neither will your stomach. You will be able to nurse your next baby.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

[Copyright: 1913: By the Brentwood Company.]

AMONG the presents received by King Manuel and his Hohenzollern bride on the occasion of their wedding the other day at the castle of Sigmaringen, was a set of diamond studded gold napkin rings, an offering from a number of royalists of Lisbon.

Napkin rings are nowadays almost unknown in the usages of society, particularly in England and on this side of the Atlantic, the idea of replacing on the dinner, luncheon, or breakfast table a napkin that is not entirely fresh from the laundry being repellant.

However, this is a distinctly modern luxury, one of the effects of up to date steam laundries, etc. Two or three generations or so ago napkin rings were customary articles of table furniture, even in the best of houses, and the same napkin would be re-served at several successive meals, of course, to the same person, especially to a member of the family.

People, in fact, did not make so much use of their napkin as they do nowadays, and children were taught that people with good manners did not really need to use their napkin.

With the napkin, so it is with the towel, and nowadays these are apt to be changed every time they are used, perhaps several times a day.

It is occasionally difficult to accustom old fashioned servants, advanced in years, to this rage for clean linen in every department of the household appointments, and, in one big country house in England, on a guest complaining to the principal housemaid of being constantly short of towels in her room, in spite of the daily supply furnished to the apartment, a quiet investigation was started.

It resulted in the discovery that an ancient retainer of the family, pensioned, but permitted to live in the mansion, disapproving of such extravagance in the matter of linen, had formed the custom of quietly abstracting any towels, etc., which she considered superfluous from the guests' bedrooms and hiding them between the mattresses.

The old woman's quaint activity was stopped by her being transferred to a small cottage on the estate beyond the reach of the family linen closet.

Princess Sophia of Saxe-Weimar-Eisenach, who committed suicide by blowing out her brains the other day at Heidelberg, is the first member of any of the reigning houses of Europe to have her remains disposed of by cremation, and the urn containing her ashes will be the only thing of the kind in that beautiful furstengruft, or mausoleum, of the sovereign family of Saxe-Weimar in the cemetery just outside the ancient city of Weimar.

This royal mausoleum is provided with an extraordinary contrivance with a view of giving an alarm in the event of entombment while in a state of suspended animation.

In the fingers of the corpse are placed strings which communicate with an alarm. The least pulsation will ring the bell in an adjoining chamber, where for several weeks after the obsequies a guardian is always on watch, and who could at once secure, by means of the telephone, medical attendance.

It is only some time after the coffin has been placed in the mausoleum that the strings connecting the remains with the alarm bell in the adjoining chamber are cut and the casket finally sealed.

There is a grewsome tradition of the reigning house of Saxe-Weimar to the effect that one of its members was buried alive.

Whether this is true or not, the fact remains that many of them, notably the late Prince Hermann of Saxe-Weimar, not content with the precautions which I have just described as in use at the mausoleum, have given special instructions in their wills that steps should be taken by their medical men to be absolutely sure that they were really dead when the entombment took place.

The mausoleum is well lighted and located in grounds that convey more the impression of a beautiful garden than of a cemetery.

Indeed, only the many coffins, with their sloping roofs, ranged in lines in the mausoleum, recall to the mind of visitors the real character of the building.

There is only one coffin which does not contain the remains of a royal personage—namely: that of the famous German poet, Goethe.

Until two years ago there was alongside of him another casket, alleged to contain the remains of his brother poet, Schiller. But it was definitely ascertained at that time that the bones could not by any possibility be those of Schiller, but were those of a stranger, who was, therefore, ignominiously ejected as having, through no fault of his own, obtained admission among the royal dead under false pretenses.

Sir Edward Carson, M. P., leader of the Irish Unionists, and Capt. James Craig, Unionist member of parliament for the eastern division of County Down, have publicly announced the acceptance by Sir George Richardson of the post of commander in chief of the volunteer army of 100,000 men, which has been organized in northern Ireland for the purpose of resisting by force, if necessary, the extension of any home rule form of government to that portion of the Emerald isle.

Sir George Richardson is a lieutenant general of the regular army, on the retired list, although he still continues to hold the colonelcy in chief of a celebrated Indian cavalry regiment, the Prince of Wales' own Tiwana Lancers.

He is a veteran of the Indian armies and has a number of campaigns to his record, including the historic march from Cabul to Candahar, the battle of Tel-el-Kebir, where he was severely wounded, the conquest of Burmah, and a number of Indian frontier wars, besides having commanded the British cavalry brigade in the international military operations in China for the relief of the beleaguered legation at Peking.

The fact that so distinguished an officer of the Indian army should publicly accept the command of a volunteer force of over 100,000 men, avowedly organized, trained and armed for the purpose of resisting any attempt of the present government to enforce home rule in northern Ireland, conveys some idea of the extreme seriousness of the situation which people in this country do not seem to have thoroughly realized as yet.

What is still more extraordinary is that the British government should have refrained from taking any action in the matter.

There are two things which it could do, and which it has been urged to do by its followers: To request the king to dismiss Sir Edward Carson, former solicitor general, from membership in the privy council, and to deprive Gen. Sir George Richardson of the colonelcy in chief of his Indian lancer regiment, a colonelcy which was bestowed upon him three years ago as a special honor and reward for his services, and which brings with it a handsome addition to his retired pay.

That nothing of the kind has as yet been done in this direction indicates one of two things. Either that King George has refused to comply with the demands of the government in the matter, or else that the cabinet does not wish to precipitate a crisis and is anxious to defer trouble to the last moment, that is to say, until after home rule has actually become the law of the land.

Label your volume so:

Staler than cold B. P.

What should the title be?

Better by far to see,

"Verses, by B. L. T."

Than some atrocity
Such as the punsters know.
What should the title be?

Well, if you're asking me,
That which I give below—
"Verses, by B. L. T."

This is my stern decree,
Which you will heed, I trow.
Thus must the title be:

AS a change from the w. k. nightmare of entering a drawing room insufficiently clad, we dreamed last week that he were wanted by the police for the stealing of some silver plate, and we went through all the agonies of eluding pursuit, waking when the "heavy hand" was clapped on our shoulder, and a voice said, "You're wanted!"

ONE'S dreams are said to be based on one's experience, but we could not remember having stolen silver plate, even in infancy; so the nightmare bothered us. All week, off and on, we sought for a clew, and finally found it. We had been to see the moving pictures of "Les Miserables," and had experienced the tortures of Jean Valjean.

Not Half Bad, or Figure It Yourself.

[From the October McClure's.]

It costs about twenty-five thousand dollars to get into the clothespin industry with a mill of reasonable size. Such a mill can turn out from five hundred to six hundred boxes of pins a day. Now, manufacturers have been known to average a net profit of ten cents a box during periods of ordinary prices. That would aggregate a monthly net profit of some fifteen thousand dollars. On a capital of twenty-five thousand dollars, that isn't so bad.

ABOUT this "perfect golf" or "faultless golf" that figures so frequently in the accounts of matches: it isn't. For if a par four, allowing two putts, is perfect golf, one under par would be "more perfect." One under par—one putt on each green—would be perfect golf, and this is accomplished by good players frequently and by ordinary players occasionally.

The Hello Muse.

[Composed by Ella Nash of Topeka.]

The Central Girl has many troubles
Which no one helps to share;
She has to take many lectures
And all the blames must bear.

There are some who never think
And call up their neighbor,
At four o'clock to let them know
All about their labor.

Of course when they do this
It calls the Central Girl out too,
And there she has to wait for fear
Of ringing off when they are through.

And then there are a few young men
Who, coming home late at night,
Must call up their sweethearts
To tell they arrived all right.

Now all this Central Girl must take
And not say one word back,
Or the patrons will surely get after her
And she must clear the track.

Now be more easy on your Central Girl,
Don't call for a little thing,
And don't hang on the lines and visit
For others would like to ring.

Now do as you'd like to be done by
And don't be cranky and cross,
For she will do more for you
If you don't try to be her boss.

STOPS ON AN ELECTRIC ROAD.

La Grange, Ill., Sept. 19.—[To the Friend of the People.]—The Chicago, Lake Shore and South Bend railway company operates in connection with the Illinois Central railroad several local and express trains to the dune district on Lake Michigan, the time table of which could be very materially improved by stopping at stations like Mineral Springs, Fremont, etc., especially the express train leaving Randolph street at 1:45. I understand that several associations and clubs of nature loving people who like to go out Saturday afternoon petitioned the railroad company to have this 1:45 express stop at Tremont, but without avail. A BOTANIST.

I cannot recall a request for stopping our express train at Mineral Springs or Tremont, which was not granted, if party of five or more desired to use our express trains. We endeavor to serve all classes of the traveling public to the best of our ability.

We feel that we furnish sufficient local service to take care of all the local travel along our line. On the other hand, we endeavor to furnish express trains with a minimum number of stops for the through traveler. However, in this particular case, if this gentleman has been denied the accommodation of our express trains, it can hardly be blamed on us, as the request evidently did not reach the proper department.

We admit the utter impossibility of trying to please all of the public, but we do strive to please the greater number of our patrons.

PAVING ROGERS AVENUE.

Chicago, Sept. 19.—[To the Friend of the People.]—When are they going to pave Rogers avenue between the C., M. and St. P. tracks and Perry street?

We have a proceeding pending for paving, with asphaltic concrete, Rogers avenue, from the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul tracks to Perry street, under docket No. 87710, County court. We cannot state definitely at this time just when the improvement will be made, but think it will be ready to go in early next summer.

LIFE, AND DEATH, ON SIXTY-THIRD STREET.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The conditions on East Sixty-third street are getting dreadful. We have written the city innumerable times, but it has done no good. The street cars run at terrific speed, the elevated railroad thunders above, and the machines exceed the speed limit all day.

The other day a machine ran up on the sidewalk at Sixty-third and Lexington avenue, smashing the window of an undertaker.

On Thursday a street car hit an auto at Sixty-third and Ingleside avenue. On Thursday a street car hit a wagon at Sixty-third and Ellis avenue. On Friday the fire department hit an auto at Sixty-third and Woodlawn avenue. On Friday a car ran over a boy and killed him at Sixty-third and Woodlawn avenue. On Friday an automobile ran over a girl at Lexington avenue.

Now, these are every day happenings. East Sixty-third street is a very busy street and the machines, fire department, and street cars have no respect for any one. The way the fire hose truck comes down Sixty-third street is a fright. There is no fire worth the cost of a life and the little children are in danger every minute on the street. If your reporter would take a visit on Sixty-third street and ask the business men about the condition of East Sixty-third street, I think your paper could help to protect the lives of the people. A FARMER ON BRYAN.

Davenport, Ia., Sept. 19.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Having just finished reading an Associated Press dispatch, which says that Secretary Bryan, in closing his last Chautauqua address for the season, stated that the number of days, week days, utilized by him in his addresses covered about seven. I am constrained to ask you if you do not feel a little cheap writing the editorials you have concerning Secretary Bryan?

The fact is that I am one of about 3,000,000 voters who are sincere admirers of Secretary Bryan, and no editorial nor mouthing from a has-been politician, like Mann, will ever change our attitude.

I have watched the career of Mr. Bryan for twenty years, and at present writing I feel safer and feel a whole lot better in following his advice in matters political than the whole bunch of political high brows. I am a farmer living in Scott county, Iowa, but you must not forget that the genuine news of the world now gets to the farming region as well as in town, and the reading farmer has fallen into the bad habit of doing his own thinking and reasoning. SEPTEMBER MORNS EVERYWHERE

Chicago, Sept. 22.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Granted that "September Morn" is all right, but ——, would it not seem that the learned gentlemen, who are contending so strenuously for the display of this perfectly good and proper picture, might better serve public interests by ascertaining what can be done toward eliminating the "almost" "September Morns" that appear on our public streets.

A MERE STENOGRAPHER.

TWO KINDS OF LOBBYING.

[From the Chicago Daily News.]

As a foil to disclosures relating upon some of the activities in politics of agents of the National Association of Manufacturers, James A. Emery, general counsel of that association, has given to the public his version of the political activities of the American Federation of Labor. Mr. Emery asserts that the main purpose of the National Association of Manufacturers was to combat the political activity of the great labor organization which, according to his view, exists primarily to influence legislation on behalf of the trade union movement.

In pursuance of its aim, Mr. Emery says, the Federation of Labor moved its headquarters to Washington, where it maintains a committee to interview members of congress. It also supports at the polls candidates for congress friendly to its views and opposes those hostile to its program of legislation.

There is nothing in the facts presented by Mr. Emery to justify criticism of the American Federation of Labor. Participation in politics and lobbying are both legitimate lines of activity, provided they are conducted in a proper way. Both the National Association of Manufacturers and the American Federation of Labor have the right to engage in politics as a means of advancing policies in which they believe. It is proper for both to keep agents in Washington to express the views of their respective organizations before committees of congress and in personal interviews with public officials. Wrongdoing by lobbyists consists of something more than mere arguments.

The sin of the National Association of Manufacturers, according to testimony given before the investigating committee, lay in its secret activities. It accomplished its purpose in part by the improper use of money. It had members of congress in its employ unknown to the general public and to their fellow congressmen. It is even charged with having financed the campaign for renomination and election to the national house of representatives of a trade unionist, supposed to be a supporter of the program of the American Federation of Labor, in return for the secret and treacherous support of the cause represented by the association.

Lobbying is proper enough under right conditions. But open lobbying is alone justifiable.

UPHOLDS LIMIT PUT ON MANN ACT

Department of Justice Takes View Which Was Accepted by Pollock.

AFFECTS CASE OF DIGGS.

Officials Expect Test in Highest Court on Intent of the New Law.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—The interpretation of the Mann white slave act by Federal Judge John C. Pollock at Wichita, Kas., that the law is not intended to cover cases of the transportation of women from one state to another for immoral purposes where the commercial feature of the violation cannot be established aroused a great deal of interest here today. This interpretation was in opposition to that laid down by Judge Van Fleet at San Francisco in the Caminetti-Diggs case, decided on Sept. 6.

It was asserted by legal authorities of the capital that Attorney General McReynolds' views are identical with those of Judge Pollock, and that Mr. McReynolds does not believe it to be the duty of the government to obtain the indictment of every man who pays for the transportation of a woman across a state line merely for the purpose of committing an act of personal immorality.

In official circles it was pointed out that former Attorney General Wickersham took the position that the Mann act originally was designed to bring to punishment only persons guilty of trafficking in women.

Decides on Congress' Intent.

Mr. McReynolds, it is said, has convinced himself from a study of the records of the debates and hearings in congress on the Mann act prior to its enactment that congress did not intend to have the government assume the duties of policemen with regard to personal escapades of an immoral character where it chanced that a state line was crossed.

Aside from this Mr. McReynolds is said to consider that the practical difficulties which face an efficient administration of the law, should the Van Fleet interpretation be accepted, would be almost insurmountable.

An argument which has been advanced against this interpretation is that it involves an unconstitutional assumption of the prerogative of a state for setting forth what shall be considered personally moral and immoral within its borders.

Expect Higher Court Test.

The attorney general, it is understood, does not intend to issue an official interpretation of the law for the information of United States district attorneys, but will wait a settlement of the question by the higher court.

Little doubt is entertained the act speedily will be brought before the Supreme court by appeal from a decision involving such a broad interpretation of the Mann act as was made by Judge Van Fleet in the California case.

PLAN TO TELL USE OF VOTE

Illinois Women to Address National Suffrage Convention.

WILL GATHER IN CAPITAL.

Want Constitutional Change; Irish Militants Cause $400,000 Fire.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—The woman suffrage victory in Illinois and the use made of the ballot by the women of that state will be discussed at the opening session of the annual convention of the national woman suffrage convention, which will be held in Washington the first week in December.

The sessions held on Monday, "Illinois day," will be conducted by Illinois women, who will tell the convention how the vote was won.

Jane Addams Among Speakers.

Miss Jane Addams and Judge Mack of Chicago will address the delegates on Tuesday, and on Thursday Mrs. J. T. Bowen of Chicago will deliver an address on "Woman and the Law."

The inauguration of the most active fight which has yet been made for the passage by congress of a constitutional amendment enfranchising the women of the country is scheduled as a part of the convention program. There will be a massmeeting and conference of the leaders in the suffrage movement on Sunday, Nov. 30.

Suffragets Start $400,000 Blaze.

LIVERPOOL, England, Sept. 23.—Militant suffragets set fire early today to Seafield house, at Seaforth, four miles northwest of Liverpool, causing $400,000 damage. The members of the "arson squad" left a quantity of suffrage literature strewn about the lawns

The building was formerly used as a convent and was undergoing reconstruction at a cost of $130,000. It was to be turned into a hospital for imbeciles. The entire property is valued at nearly $1,000,000.

MONTGOMERY WARD BETTER.

Physician Says He Has Suffered No Serious Results from His Fall.

Dr. A. R. Sheldon said last night that Montgomery Ward, founder of Montgomery Ward & Co., had suffered no serious results from the accidental fall Monday at his Highland Park home.

"Mr. Ward's condition is good," said Dr. Sheldon, who has been in constand attendance, "and there is no doubt about his recovery. There is no need for alarm."

Mr. Ward became dizzy while in the bathroom at his house and slipped to the floor. He is said to have suffered from attacks of sciatic rheumatism during the summer.

LITTLE BERNADETTA JOYCE DIES

Efforts of the Police to Save Her Life by Silencing Automobiles Fails.

Efforts of the Town Hall police, detailed in vain by Capt. Madden to stand near the residence of Thomas Joyce of 4541 Sheridan road and compel automobile parties to make less noise, failed to save the life of his daughter, Bernadetta. She died yesterday of typhoid fever, which she had been fighting since last week. Day and night policemen stood a half block away in Sheridan road with hand upraised to noisy motoring parties.

AVIATOR BREAKS OVERSEA RECORD

Frenchman Flies 558 Miles from France to Tunis Over Mediterranean.

TAKES NEARLY 8 HOURS.

Refuses Convoy of Boats and Also to Attach Floaters to Aeroplane.

BIZERTA, Tunis, Sept. 23.—Roland G. Garros, the French aviator, today flew 558 miles across the Mediterranean, from St. Raphael, France, to this city, the most northern seaport of Tunis. His time was 7 hours and 58 minutes. He started at 5:52 a. m. and reached here at 1:45 p. m.

The flight of Garros is the longest oversea journey ever made in an aeroplane.

The aviator refused to accept the advice offered him that he should affix floaters to his aeroplane as a precaution in case he should be forced to descend on the water. He also declined the offer made by the French naval authorities to station torpedo boat destroyers at intervals along his route from France to Tunis.

The flight is regarded by aviators and military men as an amazing performance of motor, aeroplane, and airman.

Garros has won many of the famous long distance races in Europe, and has taken part in flying meets in many countries. He holds several altitude records. He flew in the United States in 1910 and 1911.

Another French Aviator Drowned.

MOGADOR, Morocco, Sept. 23.—A French military aviator, coming here from Casablanca, was drowned today when his aeroplane capsized at a distance of 300 yards from the beach. The airman was fastened to the seat of his machine and did not come to the surface again.

Aviator Carries Seven Passengers.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Aviator Noel flew in an "aerobus" for seventeen minutes with seven passengers aboard at Hendon last evening. This is said to break the world's record. The weight of the pilot and passengers was 1,184 pounds.

Unable to Serve Papers on Mrs. Frits.

All hope of obtaining personal service of the summons in the divorce suit of Frederick W. ("Frits") Von Frantzius against his wife, "Saharet," the dancer, known in private life as Mrs. Clarissa S. Rose von Frantzius, has been given up by the sheriff's office.

MRS. ALFRED T. RINGLING SUES CIRCUS OWNER FOR DIVORCE.

Division of Property Asked in Madison, Wis., Court for Self and Son by Plaintiff—Desertion Charge Made.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Mrs. Alfred T. Ringling of Baraboo, Wis., wife of the circus owner, has sued him for an absolute divorce and division of property.

Judge E. Ray Stevens of the Circuit court heard the testimony and took the case under advisement. Mr. Ringling was not present, but his interests were looked after by his lawyers.

Mrs. Ringling's grounds for the divorce are that her husband deserted her without cause, having not lived with her for about four years.

The Ringlings have a son, Richard T. Ringling, 18 years old. The mother in asking financial judgment includes the son.

This Is Why Neighbor Jones Enjoys Life More Than You

RATHER uncomfortable going down to business on the crowded cars these days? Stuffy and close and tiresome coming home at night? Jones—your neighbor—used to think so, too. That's one of the reasons why he bought a Borland Electric. And, think what real fun Jones gets out of life now! In the morning, his wife—or, perhaps, one of his daughters—brings him downtown quickly, comfortably and healthfully in their new Borland Electric Coupe. Jones gets down in half the time that you do—and he's full of vim and dash the minute he sits at his desk. Same way in the evening—Jones goes home in his Borland Electric. Wife calls for him after shopping or matinee, or comes downtown just for the ride. You can give your family the same comfort and pleasure. Why lose any time? Just do like Jones.

'Phone Calumet 3030 today and let us send a roomy, comfortable Borland Electric to your home or office for a demonstration drive.

5-Passenger Coupe, $2,900 The Borland Electric Either Front or Rear Seat Drive

CHEAP LODGINGS NEEDED

Health of Workers and Welfare of Chicago Hang on Sanitary Regulations.

a wooden leg is to blame for not winning a hundred yard dash!

NATURALLY a bojack is not an intellectual giant. He depends for all the living he can get on his muscle. He spends the summer in a camp hundreds of miles from civilization, working at the hardest, roughest kind of manual labor. When it rains he is idle without pay; if materials are delayed he is idle without pay; his tobacco and whatever else he buys are usually sold at double prices; often the job lasts only a few weeks, then he is sent back to Chicago and—if he is lucky—shipped out a second time to another camp.

In the fall he gets a check for whatever balance may be due him—twenty, fifty, sometimes as much as a hundred dollars—and is shipped to Chicago for the winter. Often he is a foreigner, though it is to be noted that not often does one see an Italian, a Greek, a Jew, or a negro in the bread line.

The only place in Chicago that he knows of which will cash his check is a saloon. That means a drink or two, and perhaps a spree as a rebound from the weeks of hard labor. The liquor which is served in the barrel houses patronized by the typical bojack is a delightful beverage called Cincy-K-y, composed of beer thickly spiced with raw alcohol. The derivation of its name will be plain to those who are familiar with the reputation of the Ohio metropolis as a producer of malt liquors and of that of the state to the south as the home of more ardent spirits.

FROM the time he lands in Chicago until the ice harvest opens in January the bojack must depend for a living on what odd jobs he can pick up and the money he has saved. There is nothing for it but a 10 or 15 cent lodging house.

Of lodging houses charging from 5 to 25 cents a night there are 110 in Chicago, with legal accommodations for nearly 14,000 lodgers. A few of them are kept in decent condition. The majority are unspeakable. A month in one of these places, vermin infested, filthy with the accumulations of years, packed in like the carcasses of hogs with men in all stages of tuberculosis and other worse diseases, is enough to break down a pretty sturdy self-respect. The bedclothing—the dirty comforts, affording ideal breeding places for various kinds of bugs—is changed from once a week to once in three weeks, though each bed may have a different occupant nightly.

The bojack usually goes to bed in his day clothes; if he undresses he retires under his comfort stark naked, leaving his clothes hanging on a string to keep them as far away as possible from insects. The 5 cent flop, where there is no bedclothing of any kind and the guest goes to sleep—if he can—on a plain board shelf, is in many ways preferable so far as cleanliness is concerned.

IT is not true, as it is not conceivable, that any man prefers to live in such surroundings. In New York, Boston, and Chicago the use of comforts as bedclothing is forbidden. Blankets, which are more easily cleaned, must be used. In Boston especially it is provided that no new guest at a lodging house shall be received until after he has taken a shower bath; every seven days the shower bath must be repeated.

At the Chicago municipal lodging house, on Union street between Lake and Randolph streets, which will not be opened for the winter for more than two weeks, the same rules are enforced. It has beds for 200 occupants, though on cold winter nights more than 500 men have slept in the building. Coffee and bread are also served free to all lodgers. And the whole house is kept in a condition of spotless cleanliness.

At the new memorial lodging house now being erected by Charles G. Dawes at 12-14 South Peoria street there will be beds for 300 men. The prices charged will be 5 or 10 cents a night for a bed. Every guest will be required to take a shower bath and his clothing will be fumigated. Coffee and bread will be served and the strictest sanitary precautions will be observed. It is expected that this house will be open for business by Jan. 1, 1914.

FOR men with a trifle more money is designed the new hotel which the Y. M. C. A. will build on Wabash avenue south of Peck court. A site has already been purchased at a price of $350,000. Land, building, and equipment will represent an investment of $1,100,000, and there will be rooms for 1,870 men at prices ranging from 25 to 40 cents a night. There will also be in the building a billiard hall, a library and reading room, a restaurant where good food will be sold at cost, and an employment office.

In the big lobby there will be nightly talks and exhibitions of moving pictures from which strangers can get a good idea of living and working conditions in various parts of the city.

It is planned that half of the total investment shall come from public contributions and half from the endowment funds of the Y. M. C. A. Of the public contributions one-half the desired amount, or $250,000, has been pledged. As soon as an additional quarter million has been raised the work of constructing the new and much needed hotel will be actively pushed.

MEANWHILE the facts remain. An army of 25,000 unemployed men descends annually on Chicago. They are lodged under conditions which make many of the houses centers of disease. Every year a certain percentage of them drop down—are forced down by their environment—into the ranks of bums, tramps, and petty criminals. And every now and then these very men, who are only by courtesy even residents of the city, decide by their votes who shall be mayor of Chicago.

How does Chicago like it? What does she propose to do about it?

TRUSTEE SEIZES "DE LUXE" ASSETS

Finds $10,000 Book Plates and Sheets with Publishing House at Elgin.

GETS THURBER HOLDINGS.

Plans Auction to Turn Available Material Into Cash for $80,000 Creditors.

Additional assets of the Tomlinson, Humes, inc., alleged bankrupt "de luxe trust," were uncovered yesterday by Attorney Michael Gesas, representing creditors with claims of $80,000, and Frank M. McKey, trustee.

It was found book plates and sheets of a work entitled "Preventive Medicine," by Dr. J. N. Goltra, were in the possession of the Brethren Publishing company of Elgin, Ill. The property is said to be worth $10,000. Trustee McKey made a trip to Elgin and took possession of it in behalf of the estate.

The copyright on the work is owned by the "de luxe" corporation. Dr. Goltra recently started suit in the Superior court against Herbert O. Tomlinson and William Young Conn Humes to enforce a contract he had with the "de luxe" partners to publish the book.

Thurber Holdings Turned In.

Assets said to be worth $2,000, discovered at the bankruptcy hearing in the possession of Seymour J. Thurber, the "de luxe" firm's "art authenticator," were turned over to the trustee during the day. They consisted of a painting by Leistikow, entitled "Jolly Predicament," and a large quantity of books, acquired shortly before the bankruptcy petition was filed.

Part of the assets of the corporation will be sold at public auction on Oct. 6 for the purpose of turning all available material into cash for the benefit of creditors. Frank L. Wean, referee in bankruptcy, ordered the sale at the request of Attorney Gesas. The truste was instructed to prepare a list of books and other assets to be sold and submit the list to the court within three days.

Seek Missing Property.

Trustee McKey started an investigation to learn the whereabouts of several valuable sets of books, oil paintings, and bronzes believed to have disappeared shortly before the filing of the bankruptcy petition. Creditors commented on the fact that Mrs. William Young Conn Humes, wife of one of the "de luxe" partners, has left Chicago and taken up residence in South Bend, Ind., outside the jurisdiction of the federal courts in Chicago.

It is possible lawyers will go to South Bend and compel her to testify by deposition. It is likely Mrs. Herbert O. Tomlinson of Wheaton will be subpœnaed as a witness.

O'Gara Receivers in Difficulty.

Receivers for the alleged bankrupt O'Gara Coal company and subsidiary corporations are having difficulty finding banks which will advance money at 6 per cent on $200,000 worth of receivers' certificates. For this reason a pending motion before Judge Carpenter to authorize the issue was postponed yesterday.

SHE DARKENED HER GRAY HAIR

A Kansas City Lady Darkened Her Gray Hair and Stimulated Its Growth by a Simple Home Process.

SHE TELLS HOW SHE DID IT.

A well known resident of Kansas City, Mo., who darkened her gray hair by a simple home process, made the following statement: "Any lady or gentleman can darken their gray or faded hair, stimulate its growth and make it soft and glossy with this simple recipe, which they can mix at home: To half pint of water add 1 oz. of bay rum, 1 small box of Barbo Compound, and ¼ oz. of glycerine. These ingredients can be purchased at any drug store at very little cost. Apply to the hair every other day until the gray hair is darkened sufficiently, then every two weeks. This mixture relieves scalp troubles and is excellent for dandruff and falling hair. It does not stain the scalp, is not sticky or greasy, and does not rub off. It will make a gray haired person look 10 to 20 years younger."—Advertisement.

News of the Theaters.

Arrival of B. Iden Payne, Director of the Fine Arts.

B. IDEN PAYNE, director of the repertory company which will play at the Fine Arts theater this season, is in Chicago and has announced the names of four of the members of his company. They are Winifred Kane of last season's "Hindle Wakes" Miss Louise Randolph, formerly of the Abbey theater; Miss Maude Leslie, an English actress, and Miss Mona Limerick.

Mr. Payne is an actor and producer highly regarded in England. He made his first stage appearance at the age of 18, playing in F. R. Benson's presentation of "She Stoops to Conquer." Several years later his London debut was made in "Mary Y" at the Lyceum theater. He was associated with Miss Horniman's ventures, with the Abbey theater, and again at the Gaiety theater in Manchester. Many of the first performances of plays by Shaw, Galsworthy, Masefield, and other distinguished dramatists were supervised by him.

Mr. Payne remained with Miss Horniman until 1911, when with Miss Limerick, he mounted a group of plays by Shaw on his own initiative. He then left his activities the artistic direction of Miss Horniman's Manchester company in 1912, which leaves that association for this, his first American visit.

Pierre Veber, the French critic and playwright, has been resenting by cable the published remarks of L. M. De Foe, reviewer of the New York World concerning the naughtiness of his farce, "Mme. President." "My official colleague of the World showed himself much more bitter toward me than I have ever been toward the plays of French or foreign authors," he wires to the New York Herald. "I do not blame him for it. It is a question of culture that he could not understand in my years. By that time he, I and my works will all be dead a long time."

The staircase scene from "Sapho" will be featured by Miss Olga Nethersole in her pending tour of American variety theaters. She will begin on Oct. 6 in New York city.

There will be a morning performance of "Within the Law" at the Olympic Saturday, beginning at 11 o'clock, in addition to the regular matinees, which start on Wednesday, and Sunday evening. Miss Illington's remarkable engagement will come to an end and "Potash and Perlmutter in Panama" will arrive as the probable successor to our foremost dollar actress.

Miss Eleanor Gates' "Poor Little Rich Girl" is announced as an early attraction for Powers' theater.

"Today," and not "Style," is the title whereby will be known George Broadhurst's adaptation of a play from the Yiddish of New York City's Ghetto. The play first won Mr. Broadhurst's attention because of what he called its "unafraid frankness." His explanation of what he meant would indicate that the play as acted in Yiddish, was in the manner of "The Fight" and "The Lure."

Harry Blossom, having provided three new songs, additional verses for the topical ditties, and some fresh quips for "A Trip to Washington" has again repaired to New York City, where he is completing for early production a play called "Brought Home." It is advocative of temperance, but not prohibition, in alcoholic matters. It will be first acted by a resident company in Pittsburgh.

Miss Gertrude Hitz in "The Road to Happiness."

This is the picture which won for Miss Hitz a gold medal and the distinction of being the most beautiful girl in Ohio—both rewards being bestowed by a Cleveland newspaper. It is also the picture which caused trouble between Miss Hitz and her sister, Miss Elsie of "Little Miss Brown." Miss Elsie used the photograph and the accompanying prestige as her own; whereupon Miss Gertrude secured an injunction on her and made her stop.

Blossom's best work, the librettist replied: "I hope it will prove to be. To date, however, I regard 'Mlle. Modiste' as my Scheff-d'œuvre."

Chinese Wooden Chips Puzzle Gambling Squad.

WILL somebody who understands Chinese present himself this morning in Judge Mahoney's court at the South Clark street station and give testimony regarding small bits of wood which the police assert represent money in playing fan tan?

Nine Chinese were arrested last night in a raid at 549 South Clark street. Detectives Rieck and Lenahan booked them for gambling. The small bits of wood, about the size of dominoes, were seized as evidence that the men were playing for money. That they were playing fan tan the Mongolians do not deny. But they insist it was a "friendly game to pass away the time" and that no money was at stake.

It is up to Rieck and Lenahan to convince the court the pieces of wood represent perfectly good money. Yesterday the same officers prosecuted several Chinese for alleged gambling, and Judge Mahoney discharged them for want of evidence that they were playing for money.

"You bring before the court a lot of buttons and a small brass cup," said Judge Mahoney, "and ask me to fine the defendants for gambling. Where is the evidence that the men played for money or other valuables? Discharged."

After last night's raid Detective Rieck said: "We've got the goods on those Chinese this time. The buttons and the brass cup and all that stuff were on the table, and enough wooden chips to kindle a fire in the furnace. Those chips have got Chinese writing on them and they represent money. There's no getting away from it. We're going to soak the Chinks this time."

A reporter for THE TRIBUNE took one of the bits of wood and canvassed Chinese shops in an effort to find out if it represented money.

"Where you get this?" asked Louis Sing, a leader of his race. "On this side it say 'Happy New Year,' and on the other side it say Merry Christmas.'"

A fat Chinese seated on a stool behind the cash register at a chop suey restaurant looked at the piece of wood and said:

"That's not Chinese. I don't know what it say. Somebody play joke on you."

Another Chinese who was smoking a long stemmed pipe looked at the chip and grunted:

"The police say this same as money? They d—— fool. Good-by."

The radium is confined in tubes and will be used in demonstrations during the several clinical sessions to be held during the convention.

Sex hygiene will be one of the principal topics of discussion, the principal papers on the subject to be read by Dr. M. K. Kreider of Goshen, Ind., and Dr. J. Russell Price of Chicago.

Tomorrow evening the annual banquet of the society will be held in the Hotel La Salle, with Dr. B. B. Dawson of Kansas City, president, presiding. The principal address will be by Dr. E. H. Pratt of Chicago, honorary president of the association.

Uncle Sam Investigates 'Movies Trust.'

Investigation was started by District Attorney Wilkerson yesterday to determine the merits of a complaint against certain film exchanges to the effect that they are instigating violations of the Sherman anti-trust law.

The complaint was made by Attorney Adolph D. Weiner, representing "independent" nickel theaters. He asserted that members of the Motion Picture Exhibiters' League of America are dictating terms to nickel theaters by refusing to supply films to those which show more than three films for a 5 cent admission. The effect of this, he said, is to stifle competition and cause restraint of trade.

Mr. Wilkerson placed Assistant District Attorneys Garfield Charles and Albert L. Hopkins in charge of the investigation. The government has started suit under the Sherman law in the east against the alleged "moving picture trust."

Police Plan Benefit.

"The Passing Show of 1912" will be the production at the Auditorium for the annual benefit of the Policemen's Benevolent association. The engagement, beginning on Oct. 26, will last three weeks.

"Our benefit last year netted almost $60,000," said Treasurer Joseph Halligan. "This year up to date sixty members of the association have died, which means the payment of $120,000 in death benefits. If the present death rate continues the total for the year will be about eighty. This mortality will exceed that of any former year by eleven."

How to Earn Money at Home

Fear of Losing Delayed a Start.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

IF you knew that great success was waiting for you on the other side of a closed door, wouldn't you turn the knob?

There is at least the possibility of a great success, but so many of you stand and look at the door and are afraid even to knock. Aren't you.

After you have once opened the door everything is easy. And the opening of the door isn't at all hard. All you have to do is to want to succeed, and before you know it you're right in the success room.

Wouldn't you like to read this letter? It's about one of the home workers who was afraid to try the door and see if it was open.

"How I have envied all of the successful home workers! But I have been afraid every time to try. Whenever I'd made up my mind that I was going to get started at some work, too, I'd figure up how much it would cost to get started, and how much I'd lose if I didn't succeed, and I've always put off starting. It was just plain cowardice that kept me away from success, I'm sure, because now that I've begun I can see that I might have been working all of this time, and I'd have been gaining all of the time.

"Many women make the mistake of counting all of their profits and forgetting to include the cost of their material and the amount of time that they have to expend on their work. But I made just the opposite mistake. I figured up all of the cost of the making and I didn't include the profits that I would make. I think that one mistake is just as bad as the other one. At any rate, the mistake I made has caused me much regret, because all of this time I might have been making money. I've said that before in this letter, I know, but I think about it so much that I can't help saying a lot about it.

"I don't know what it was that gave me courage to try, but one day I found that I was doing work at home the same as other women, and before I knew it I was getting orders and earning real money, not the kind that I had been spending all of the time in my calculations. That was only pretended money, and I didn't treat it as real money, but when I had the real kind I knew right away that my calculations had been wrong.

"I wish I could tell every woman who has been afraid to try to do any work at home because it seemed like a big outlay with the possibility of a small return just how little the outlay has been in my case in proportion to the return. I make tea towels. The linen costs 5 cents a yard, and I make two towels from each yard. That makes the goods cost 4 cents. I embroider a simple design in one corner, in outline stitch that I can do in ten or fifteen minutes. Then I hem the two ends of the towels on the machine, and I sell a set of six for 50 cents. That maybe doesn't sound like a large profit, but it is large enough for me, and I have been able to take quite a number of orders because they are so reasonable."

Everything was easy for her after she opened the door. There's no reason why it shouldn't be for you, too, is there?

Of course, there always is the possibility of your not making a success but that possibility is only the result of your not trying. If you truly try, you'll be as sure of making a success as all of the successful home workers are sure that they have made a success. And they surely couldn't doubt the evidence of the bank accounts and the new furniture and the well established business.

The purpose of this department is to find profitable employment for women in occupations which they can carry on at home without interfering with their domestic duties. To stimulate suggestions The Tribune will award $1 each for every help published.

Address—Sally Joy Brown, care The Tribune, Chicago.

The exhibit room in The Tribune Building is open from 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. except on Saturday, when it closes at 1 o'clock.

Won't you this very day open the door into the room of Success?

Teaches Horseback Riding.

I know a woman who earns a neat sum by teaching horseback riding. She earned enough to buy one pony first. When more money was earned she would invest it by buying another pony, until now she owns several, which she loans out for $2 an hour, including saddle and bridle. She charges 50 cents a lesson for teaching and has a large class of young women.

MRS. W. EIPPER, R. R. 1, Port Byron, Ill.

Sweet Lavender Pillows.

Many of my friends make an income at home. They go out and gather the sweet lavender and bring large quantities of it home. They then buy many yards of crash and cut into even pillow squares, then stencil a design on the corners of the pillows and outline with colored cord. They then stuff with the sweet lavender. These pillows sell readily at bazaars or church fairs.

AGNES T. WALL, Lake Forest, Ill.

Cleans Window Shades.

One woman of my acquaintance cleans window shades for her friends and their friends, and has built up a nice little business. She has her greatest amount of work in the spring and fall. She uses some preparation that cleans them beautifully. Then, if desired, and the ends are plain, the ends attached to the roller are removed, and the opposite end put on. She then makes a new hem, and the curtain has a new lease of life. She charges 20 cents for each shade. I have cleaned my own by rubbing artist's gum on the soiled portion. They look well, too. M. E. LYNCH, 5525 Magnolia avenue.

Looks After Bachelors' Clothes.

I know a woman who makes a nice little sum by doing the washing, ironing, and mending for young men who cannot board at home. She receives from 60 to 75 cents apiece for washing, ironing, and mending their underwear, handkerchiefs, and socks each week.

MRS. J. DE VRIES, 320 Fairbanks street, Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mats for Hot Dishes.

A woman who can crochet could earn a neat sum crocheting mats for hot dishes for the table. They are serviceable and so much prettier than those of straw, and can be made in sets of three or four in different sizes, oblong or square. There are also some prettily made on a loom of ordinary white cotton. The cost of material is little, and hand made articles command a good price. Another way to earn money at home would be to make trunk covers of strong material, such as cretonne, etc. They protect and conceal the trunk, making the room more cheerful looking also.

GENIUS, INTERRUPTED IN WORK, THROWS WATER ON LANDLADY.

Vincent Noga Explains in Court He Was Writing a Novel, but Judge Proves Unsympathetic and Fines Him.

Mrs. Adolph Hirt, who manages a rooming house at 31 East Illinois street, admits lack of sympathy with literary genius.

The genius—he admits it—is Vincent Noga, one of the roomers. He is writing a novel. He confessed to throwing the glass of water at Mrs. Hirt when she came to protest that his typewriting was disturbing her other lodgers.

"I'm an author," he explained. "I've written one book. It was called 'The Mutterings of a Lobster,' and was a criticism of Roosevelt. It was not a success. I think it was too good, and so now I'm writing a novel that's a wonder. Here's page twenty of it—'These words filled her desolate soul with ineffable joy——'"

"Enough," interrupted Judge Scully. "Listen to my words, and see what effect they have on your desolate soul. Ten dollars and costs."

BLAZE DOES SLIGHT DAMAGE TO INTER OCEAN BUILDING.

Flames Confined to Storeroom—Pressroom and Rest of Structure Not Materially Harmed.

Fire, believed to have started from crossed wires in the power plant, yesterday worked part way through the basement of the Inter Ocean building in Monroe street, west of Dearborn street. A small quantity of ink and paper stock in the storeroom was burned, but the pressroom was no materially harmed.

The smoke emptied the building in a few minutes, and when the firemen arrived there was a clear field for fighting the flames.

Principal damage was to the power plant equipment, which supplies light for the newspaper and several offices in nearby buildings. It is understood it was not serious.

THE WAY HOME

¶ This new novel, "The Way Home," touches greater depths of human nature than even "The Wild Olive" or "The Street Called Straight." It deals with the most important things of life, single life, married life, and church life, and portrays the inner motives of a self-centered man. It is the story of the struggle between the spiritual and the material in the average man—a series of tense, emotional situations in which a strong man who was far from being a hero found himself. He found, too, a tower of strength in the love of the woman he had misunderstood.

Berlin Suffragist Says Woman's Place Not Home.

CHICAGO suffragists who think they are somewhat radical in their ideas yesterday found a foreign suffragist—not an English militant—just a bit more radical. This one believes that the "woman's-place-is-in-the-home" idea is all a mistake. The children, she believes, get along just as well with a trained nurse as with a loving mother.

She is Dr. Clara Plohn of Berlin, representing a number of German papers at the refrigeration congress. She is at the Hotel La Salle and visited the suffrage headquarters yesterday.

She is a graduate of universities in Berlin and Vienna, has two children, and she practices what she preaches. She puts her children, one 4 months old and the other 1 year and 7 months, in a baby home, an institution not common in the United States but used more or less abroad. Then she "covers" conventions in various parts of the world.

"I can't see that it's necessary for a woman to remain at home with her children," she told the Chicago suffragists. "I am devoted to my babies and I see that they receive the best of care. When I am away, which is about six months of the year, I put the children in a baby home, where they get proper food and a trained nurse's attention. My husband goes to see them frequently. He remains in Berlin.

"I have heard learned doctors say that women in professions has got to stop—that women are absorbing men's work. I do not believe it will stop. Women will have to go into professions to help their husbands make a living. There will be more baby homes than ever. You will soon have them in America, homes where babies can go for months and receive the best attention while mothers are away working. Men are having too hard a time to make a living for their families."

At the close of the refrigeration congress Dr. Plohn will go to Paris for the jubilee of the Pasteur institute there.

Six members of the woman's vigilance committee made a visit to the South Clark street police station yesterday, and, with Municipal Judge Mahoney as guide, visited the cellrooms and the matron's quarters.

"Every law of safety and sanitation is broken in this building," said Mrs. Richard Quarles after the inspection. "The lack of light and fresh air is frightful."

Will Celebrate Battle of the Thames.

The speakers will be William A. Shelby of Grand Rapids, Mich., a grandson of Gov. Isaac Shelby of Kentucky, who bore a conspicuous part in that war. Col. Nathan William MacChesney, president of the Illinois Society of the War of 1812, will deliver an address on "The Significance of the War of 1812." James Edgar Brown, vice president of the society, will give an illustrated stereopticon talk on "Some Events of the War of 1812."

Many relics of the war of 1812 will be on exhibition in the rooms of the Historical society. The public is invited.

Along the "Black and Yellow Trail."

Concentrated action by the cities along the "Black and Yellow Trail," the route from Chicago through the Black hills and the Yellowstone, to have this route designated as one of those to be improved with federal aid, is sought by the Winona, Minn., Association of Commerce. A good roads convention to be held there Oct. 6-7 will undertake to further the plan.

Winona is setting a fair example with its present project of building ninety-five miles of concrete road within three years. Some of the contracts already are let, and eight miles constructed. Gov. Eberhart of Minnesota, D. M. Neill, head of the State Association of Commercial Clubs, and numerous highway association officials already have accepted invitations to speak at the convention.

The proposed road would run from Chicago through La Crosse, Winona, Rochester, Mankato, and on to South Dakota and Wyoming.

Methodists of Indiana Meet for Conference.

HAMMOND, IND., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Ministers, their wives, and laymen gathered in Hammond today for the formal opening of the sixty-second annual session of the Northwest Indiana conference of the Methodist Episcopal church. Two hundred conference guests were in attendance this evening and a hundred more are expected to arrive by tomorrow evening to take part in the meetings, which will continue until next Monday morning.

Among the prominent laymen who are to participate Thursday evening are former Vice President Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana and former Gov. J. Frank Hanly, also of Indianapolis. The former will speak on "Our Hospital," while ex-Gov. Hanly has chosen the subject: "Jesus Christ: Was He Mortal or Is He Divine?" for his address.

Bishop William F. McDowell of Evanston is the presiding bishop for the conference. He arrived in Hammond this evening ready to officiate at the communion services in the First Methodist church tomorrow morning.

Other well known men who will take part in the program are: E. S. Schumaker of Indianapolis, president of the Indiana Anti-Saloon league; the Rev. Harry H. Ward of Chicago, secretary of the Methodist Federation for Social Service, whose address Wednesday evening is "The Social Task of the Church"; the Rev. W. F. Oldham of New York, secretary of the board of foreign missions; the Rev. W. S. Bovard of New York, secretary of the Methodist Brotherhood; the Rev. Edward Blake of Chicago, and President George R. Grose of De Pauw university.

Mrs. McDowell will speak Friday afternoon before the department of the Woman's Foreign Missionary society.

The superintendent of the five northern Indiana districts met informally this afternoon to begin the examination of candidates for the ministry, eight of whom have prepared themselves for ordination on next Sunday.

The formal opening session this evening was featured with a plea for woman's suffrage by the Rev. E. S. Schumaker, who argued that the enfranchisement of women would materially aid the cause of Methodism and more than anything else bring about the abolition of the saloon.

The address of welcome was made by W. C. Bellman. The sermon of the evening on "Church Creeds, Their Influence Upon Preachers and Preaching," was delivered by the Rev. J. M. Avann of Gary. The Rev. A. T. Briggs of Valparaiso, superintendent of the Hammond district, presided.

One hundred and fifty Hammond homes have been thrown open to accommodate the visitors.

Congress on Alcoholism May Be Held in America.

MILAN, Italy, Sept. 23.—The president of the fourteenth international congress on alcoholism, Dr. Angelo ... announced at the session this ... noon that the permanent committee had decided to propose that the congress of 1915 should be held in the United States. This requires the ratification of the whole congress prior to adjournment.

Several interesting papers were read today, including one by William Johnson of Westerville, O., dealing with the fight against alcoholism in the United States. The delegates also discussed the liquor traffic from an economic standpoint and tentatively agreed to the organization of three international institutions—a bureau for combating alcoholism, a federation for the protection of native races, and a federation of physicians opposed to the prescribing of liquors in medical cases.

The secretary of the women's section of the Universal Temperance federation, ... Dack of London, in an address in which she was supported by others, opposed the Gothenburg system of license. She said many leading temperance workers are strongly against this system and expressed the hope that the American delegates would join with those who disapproved of it.

The Gothenburg licensing system, originated in 1865, gives the exclusive right of liquor shops to a company licensed by the town. The business is conducted by managers, and all profits above 5 per cent go into the town treasury.

Deputy Ottavi, one of the leading Italian experts on wine growing, dealt with the problem from the wine growers' point of view. Dr. Hartwig, a German delegate, argued from the standpoint of the beer producers, and Dr. Seppala of Finland from that of the distillers. All agreed that proper laws could be passed for the suppression of alcoholism without endangering the economic condition of the various peoples concerned.

After the discussion the members decided on the basis for the foundation of three international institutions, a bureau for combating alcoholism, a federation for the protection of native races, and a federation of temperance physicians.

Tomato Suggestions.

"THE dyspeptic always keeps it on the premises," a famous English epicure and writer on foods says, meaning by "it" the tomato. The English are rather fond of calling the tomato the love apple, but another term, a good translation of its scientific Latin name, is "edible wolf's peach."

There is no resource of the pantry which is more dependable and serviceable than the canned tomato. When tomatoes, fine ones, come down to a dollar a bushel, the economy represented by the home canned product is no small matter and the certitude of having something which has by no chance evaded the pure food laws is even a greater consideration.

It is a simple process—the pouring of boiling water over tomatoes and allowing them to stand about two minutes in it, so that the skin almost drops off when once broken. The cooking, though, is not so simple as one might imagine from reading the recipes. Take this one from a government bulletin:

CANNING TOMATOES.—"Every housewife knows how to can tomatoes. They are very easily kept, even in the common screw top jar. If one already has on hand a number of jars of this pattern, it is best to use them for preserves or for canning tomatoes, and to purchase the more modern styles for canning other vegetables. In using the screw top jars, be careful to sterilize them first, by placing in cold water, bringing to a boil, and boiling for about ten minutes. The rubber and top should also be immersed in boiling water for the same length of time. Remove them from the boiling water when needed, handling as little as possible. Be careful not to put the fingers on the inside of the top or the inner edge of the rubber. Fill the jar with the cooked tomatoes while steaming hot, put on the rubber, screw on the top firmly, invert it, and let it stand in that position until cool."

There is no mention here of the fact that tomatoes, when cooked over a gas burner, quickly catch on fire, often long before they are cooked. A thick iron cover may be used under the kettle on a slow fire, but on the whole it is better to pay strict attention to this business of the cooking, stirring the tomatoes frequently, or constantly, if there is any chance of burning because of the character of the kettle used or for any other reason.

Tomatoes should be thoroughly cooked; therefore it is almost impossible to keep them whole, however desirable it may be to have them in this shape for winter salads. As they cook quickly, it is not great hardship to stand over them for the most of the time while they are cooking, and it is the safer way.

Though people rarely tire of tomato in salad, the constant use of them in this way is a trifle easy-going. Fried tomatoes are palatable, and white corn meal instead of flour can be used. If prepared with egg, the slices will keep their shape perfectly, whereas they go to pieces when dipped in flour simply.

FRIED TOMATO.—Peel tomatoes and cut them in one-third inch slices. Dip these in beaten egg, well seasoned with salt and pepper, and then in white corn meal. Fry in bacon fat.

If there is plenty of home canned tomato in the house, there are a number of quick soups besides the delicious mock bisque to be made. To the purée of the can may be added meat stock to give it quantity, cracker crumbs to give substance, shredded onions fried in butter to give it savor, the whole a quickly made and gratifying soup.

The purée, strained, is excellent for many sauces. It has been said of the Italians that they have but one sauce, since in certain portions of Italy the tomato or tomato paste flavors or disguises almost everything that is savory. To have this flavoring the year around represents a patient thrift of a sort almost forgotten among us, a preserving of the tomato by long cooking and drying in the sun.

Such methods are interesting but impractical nowadays for us. Besides, the reducing of the tomato to a mere flavoring material, while giving it a most convenient form, does not leave it so that it can be used by itself as a vegetable, as the canning does.

Ableskiver.

THREE eggs, whites and yolks beaten separately; one-half cup sugar, two cups flour, one cup milk, one teaspoon baking powder, teaspoon ground cinamon, lump of butter size of an egg, melted. Beat the yolks and sugar, add the milk, then the flour and baking powder, the melted butter and spice, and fold in the beaten whites. Bake in a Danish ableskiver pan; serve hot with powdered sugar.—Kindness a Danish housewife.

Loan of Silk Hat.

"The loan of a silk hat will no doubt, be satisfactory to E. J. I inclose a stamp and self-addressed envelope for his address.

"LADY BETSEY."

E. J. has had his his "tile" from a member interested in the projected masquerade. Should another claimant present himself your address will be forwarded to him. We thank you for thinking of the lad.

Needs a Dress Form.

"I am not able to hire my sewing done, so try to do the best I can. I am wondering if some reader would have an adjustable dress form she no longer wants. One would help me so much. I will pay express charges.

"MRS. W. P."

The growing desire all over the land to abate in one direction the high cost of living by home dressmaking is proved by the number of requests for dress forms rained in upon us. It is not practicable to fill all the "orders" thus received. Coöperation in the great work laid to the busy brains and deft fingers of our house mothers in this age of stress and strain is urgently demanded. As a move in the right direction, who will lend or give a dress form to this one woman?

For Boy in a Hospital.

"I am a poor widow with four small children, two of whom are crippled for life. I am writing to see if among your good flock there is any one who has a pair of crutches, or a suit, or pair of pants, or blooomers for my 4 year old boy, who has had his leg taken off by a railroad accident. The doctors had to cut the only suit he had and now he has none to leave the hospital in. I do hope you may be able to help me—as you have helped thousands of others.

MRS. MARY T."

Two children crippled for life is a "loud call" to the hearts and ears of our fine Chicago chapter. Will it investigate the sad case and report fully upon it, that others may lend a hand in visiting and succoring the "widow and fatherless in their affliction?"

Gifts and Suggestions.

"I offer you a new rational brace for the body of some woman. So many appeals have come to you for wheel chairs that I wonder if it is known that an appliance is made to attach to an ordinary rocker that makes a stationary into a wheel chair. If mothers knew that to give a drink to baby out of a moustache cup saves many a deluge, more would do it. I have a lot of patterns for girls up to 14 that any one may have; also some flannels for a new baby. Has any one rain coats or sweaters that I can cut down for the dreadfully needy children whose father has abandoned them and whose mother works for 50 cents per day.

"MRS. MAUD P. VON P."

The above missive alights upon my desk like a carrier dove. The gifts it offers are from the writer's own store. The few "castoffs" for which she asks are for needy neighbors to whom she would minister. She should not plead in vain.

Would Store a Piano.

"We are now settling in a little unique six room cottage. Many people store pianos. We would gladly store a good one and give it excellent care for the use of it. Kindly make this fact known through the Corner. I can give excellent verbal and written references.

"MRS. H. E. D."

Another family would store a piano in the absence of the owner. The instrument would be in good hands.

Wants a Tennis Racquet.

"I am a girl 12 years old, who is fond of playing tennis, but haven't a racquet. I should be thankful to any one through your Corner. I would pay all charges.

A. F."

I hope to be able to send the address of A. F. right speedily.

Laura Jean Libbey's Advice

By Laura Jean Libbey

Ruined Love Castles.

[Copyright: 1913: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

PEOPLE pay fabulous sums to visit the old world, intent upon viewing its ruined castles and the spots made famous in song and history where lovers met, plighted their vows, living out their romances.

There are more ruined castles in our own land than most people know of. These are ruined love castles. When they were first reared they were the proudest and fairest of any land. The maidens fair peopled their castles with the heroes of their dreams, of wondrous entertainments held in the pearly halls. The foundations of these castles were built upon the pillars of hope. When adverse winds swept love away hope crumbled and the structure lay in ruins, their hearts in their midst.

It is next to impossible to ever expect to reconstruct the old habitation. The girl is wise who sets about erecting a new structure. The second one is sure to be more substantial. Reality must be combined with hope to support its fair columns.

There always will be love castles builded as long as there are youthful hearts. Some last for all time. Others collapse even when there is no seeming cloud in the sky and apparently without reason. It is best that their ruins should not be in view to others, who have no interest in the old stories they can tell of those who loved but whom fate parted and who went their separate ways.

While a woman has life, strength, or comparative youth she should never allow her heart to break over the demolishing of a love castle, but set bravely to work to rear a firmer structure that will last.

The number of letters received daily from correspondents who wish to be answered through the columns of "The Tribune" is so large in comparison with the space allotted to those answers that there is necessarily some delay in replying to many of the questions asked of Miss Libbey.

If you wish a prompt reply inclose in your letter a stamped, addressed envelope.

He Insists on Going Home at Ten.

"Dear Miss Libbey: The boy I go with is 19 and I am 19 also. He comes to see me at least three times a week, but will never stay after 10 o'clock, no matter where we go, unless it is something that keeps us after 10. We go to the show and don't get home until about 9:30 and then he insists on going home at 10. Is it right? Do you think I should insist on him staying? He don't come until 8 o'clock. We have been going together for about six months.

O. C."

You are fortunate indeed to have a friend who is considerate enough of you to leave at 10 o'clock. If a man comes at 8 o'clock three times a week he really owes it to the girl to leave at 10. Do not insist on his staying later than that. Rather encourage him to keep good hours.

Don't Know Any Girl.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am a young man of 18. I have been lonesome for some time and would like to have a girl for a companion. I don't know of any girl at all. What would you advise me to do?

ERNEST."

I would suggest that you go about where you would be apt to meet nice girls. Join some social organization in connection with your church. You might join a dancing class in a nice neighborhood, too. If you do this and prove yourself to be a desirable young man, gentlemanly and courteous always to the girls you meet, I am sure you will not have many more lonesome hours.

Short, Stout, and Golden Haired.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am deeply in love with a girl working at the same office that I do. She is short, stout, and golden haired. She has a quick temper. I have tried to attract her in many ways, but she always scorns me. What can I do to win her love?

"FRED L."

Treat the girl with the greatest courtesy you are capable of. Be considerate of her feelings always and do not embarrass her with efforts to attract. Just be kind, thoughtful, and gentlemanly always and I am sure you will win out eventually if she has not already given her heart to another.

Lillian Russell's Beauty Secrets.

By Lillian Russell

The Melodious Voice.

[Copyright: 1913: By Lillian Russell].

ONE of the most important charms in a woman's category of graces, to which cultivation should be applied to an unlimited extent with a rich harvest as a reward, is a well modulated speaking voice. Clear and mellow, melodious in inflection, accurate in enunciation, and delicate in accentuation.

Such a voice can only be acquired by taste, effort and time. Listening to some voice that pleases one helps in the cultivation, but imitating that pleasing voice brings ultimate results.

Many girls who have high pitched, shrill voices, which hurt a sensitive ear drum, should take vocal instructions. Not particularly for singing but for the modulation of speaking tones.

A beautiful creature with a face and form like Venus can disgust a refined person beyond control by speaking in a nasal, high pitched tone of voice.

Like all other departments in the business of acquiring personal beauty, the completion of the work and the relative stages of perfection to which it is brought rest solely with the woman herself, her natural endowments and her ability to take pains and persevere.

When I speak of delicacy of accentuation I do not advise the objectionable infantile lisp or the halting whine as of an invalid woman. I mean accuracy of enunciation, which is acquired by careful study of your dictionary, understanding the meaning of each word and how it is correctly pronounced.

If you prefer to have your question answered by individual letter please send stamped envelope.

Precision of emphasis is produced by an energetic movement of lips, tongue, and teeth, and a valuation of all the consonants, which makes a most pleasant impression upon listeners by bestowing upon each word its full majestic value and urging language to roll rather than allowing it to limp off of the tongue.

Nothing so destroys the grace of speech as laziness of articulation. Slouching or sluggish utterance indicates the slouching or sluggish mind.

Much of the beauty of speech rests upon the correctness of the organs of respiration and the flexibility of the muscles of the lips and throat.

Here again we need health. The best practical exercise is the breathing process of gentle and deep inhalations, inspiring and effusing, absorbing and expelling pure air shortly after arising in the morning.

This establishes correct respiration and salutary action of the blood. Its benefits are threefold. It improves the complexion, develops the throat, and render the voice—which is nothing but vocal breath—deep, soft, pure, and susceptible to will.

The action of drugs upon the delicate membranes of the throat and mouth is to exhaust the moisture and leave the muscles stic, hard, and insensible to the mind impulses.

Remember: Those who seek to cultivate a pleasing speaking voice must keep hold on the emotions, think exactly, feel deeply, and live contentedly.

Lillian Russell's Answers.

L. R. C.: A girl with red hair and fair complexion must be careful in the selection of the colors she wears. The dull blues, the soft shades of green, the pale lavenders, black, white, creams and tans. The girl with red hair should never wear the baby blues. It forms too much of a contrast between the hair and skin. A girl of your type could also wear a soft shade of yellow.

HOPE: I would advise you to consult your physician immediately about your trouble. I am sorry, but I cannot give advice about eczema.

DIXIE BELL: Peroxide will make the hair light, but it will also ruin it. I would not advise you to use it. It is hard to get the hair one color and when you do it will soon become streaked, getting dark at the roots of the hair and light at the ends. Peroxide will make your hair coarse and dry and brittle and you will find that your hair will break off at the ends. Do not attempt to bleach your hair.

RYAN DENIES ANSWER ON CHARITIES DONATIONS.

Have Discussed Sources of My Income, but Can't See Why I Should Divulge Everything," Secretary Says.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—Secretary Ryan says he doesn't mind discussing his sources of income, but he thinks it is going a little too far to ask him to make public a detailed account of his private expenses.

A speech by Senator Martine defending the secretary's Chautauqua lecturing in which the senator said Mr. Bryan was supporting mission students in Japan, brought many inquiries today.

The secretary issued this statement:

"We are not educating any boys in Japan. A Japanese student lived with us for about five years, but returned to Japan in 1904. Senator Martine's remarks probably refer to students whom we have assisted in other parts of Asia, but I do not consider it necessary to discuss the matter.

"I have discussed the sources of my income, but I am not yet convinced that the public requires me to discuss each contribution which I see fit to make to a worthy cause.

"I may add that I answer these questions with reluctance and with the feeling that newspapers and those who ask questions through them ask more as a matter of curiosity than a wish to know of my private affairs."

TEAM TAKES RIDE ON BRIDGE.

Horses Were on Harrison Street Structure When Tender Started to Raise It.

A team attached to a United States Express company wagon slid from the east approach of the Harrison street bridge to the abutment below while the bridge was being raised yesterday afternoon.

The assistance of truck company No. 1 was necessary to rescue the horses. Frank Bowe, 26 years old, 2047 Ogden avenue, driver of the team, escaped injury by jumping.

Bowe was driving over the bridge and reached the east half before the leaf began to rise. Bridgetender Charles Ruf declares he did not see the team on the bridge.

MRS. A. MAYO ADMITS THEFT.

The case against Mrs. Adeline Mayo of 5238 Blackstone avenue, charged with larceny, was continued until Oct. 1 by Municipal Judge Mahoney in South Clark street court yesterday. Mrs. Mayo is charged with having stolen $20 worth of goods from Marshall Field & Co.

"I took the things," Mrs. Mayo said later. "We have suffered financial reverses, and I am used to pretty things."

As Mrs. Mayo was leaving the police station with her husband, Martin A. Mayo, who is a lawyer, a photographer for a newspaper took her picture. According to the photographer, he was attacked and roughly handled by Mayo.

MICHICAGO TAKES SECOND CUP RACE

Snatches Victory in the Final Mile from South Shore by 17 Seconds.

BY JOHN G. DE LONG.

Fred A. Price's Michicago, seemingly beaten in the final stages of the contest, staved off defeat and won the second Manhassett trophy race sailed yesterday afternoon. South Shore of the South Shore Country club trailed the Chicago Yacht club craft during the greater part of the race, assumed the lead at the end of ten miles and then had victory snatched from it within a mile of the finishing line. Michicago won by seventeen seconds.

Stranger, R. P. Jencks' Rhode Island Yacht club challenger, nearly nipped South Shore on the line and lost second place to the syndicate craft by a single second. Olympian, owned by the James O. Heyworth syndicate and sailing as the Lincoln Park Yacht club's challenger, came in fourth, twenty-eight seconds astern of Stranger, while Roy Barcal's Mavourneen, representing the Jackson Park Yacht club, crossed the line nearly seven minutes later for last position. Thus the first and fourth boats finished the fifteen mile race within forty-seven seconds of each other.

History repeated itself in the contest, for the order of the finish was exactly the same as in the opening race on Monday. Like the opener, yesterday's race was fraught with interest from start to finish, for throughout the battle and especially toward the last of it three boats had a good chance to win.

Michicago Leader for Cup.

As the series now stands Michicago, present holder of the Manhassett trophy, appears to be certain to retain it another season, for the two straight victories of the Price racer give it ten points. The two seconds won by South Shore give that craft eight points and the syndicate boat still has a chance to tie the leader, for should it win in today's contest and should Michicago get third place or worse the pair would be all even and another race would be necessary. Possession of the trophy lies between the two boats, for Stranger has no chance to win as long as Michicago and South Shore keep afloat.

The two victories of Michicago, a year old boat, over three new yachts can be credited to three master minds aboard the cup holder. With Fred Price as skipper and with "Sport" Hermann and "Abe" Burrell as general advisers, Michicago has a combination that is hard to beat. The generalship of the triumvirate asserted itself strongly in both races and the veteran trio of judges, who have officiated in some of the most important yacht races on salt and fresh water, maintain that more clever boat handling has not been seen in recent years.

Sailed Over Triangular Course.

Yesterday's race was started at 2 o'clock and was sailed over a triangular course. The wind, which was from south southeast at twenty miles an hour, made it a beat to the southwest stake. All of the boats carried single reefed mainsails. All were tardy when the starting whistle sounded from the judges' boat and Stranger, the first over the line, did not cross until ten seconds after the signal. Mavourneen and Michicago were lapped, while Olympian and South Shore followed next. All filed away on the port tack, but Stranger, after holding on for three minutes, came about to starboard and went off alone. The others repeatedly split tacks and half way to the mark Stranger crossed the course of South Shore and Olympian and Michicago both crossed Stranger's course. The scrap was a fine one and all were close together when the stake was reached, with Michicago leading. The time at the turn was:

Michicago	2:33:17	Stranger	2:35:31
South Shore	2:35:03	Olympian	2:35:42

South Shore Picks Up.

The second leg, to the northwest buoy, was a reach, and Michicago was the only one to carry a reaching jib, the others hanging on to working jibs. South Shore began picking up on Michicago, while Stranger went to weather of Mavourneen, passed it, and gained on South Shore. Time:

Michicago	2:49:20	Mavourneen	2:51:35
Stranger	2:51:05

It was a spinnaker run to the home stake, and the round ended practically the same, the only change in positions being that Olympian moved up and Mavourneen dropped to last place. It was a procession to the mark and the time was:

Michicago	3:09:32	Olympian	3:11:52
South Shore	3:10:11	Mavourneen	3:13:09

Leading Boats Tied at Turn.

South Shore had gained twenty-seven seconds on Michicago, which in turn had gained ten seconds on Stranger. The boats were close hauled at the start of the second round, with Stranger appearing to point the highest. The wind fell, and Michicago and Stranger shook out their reefs. As the stake was neared South Shore had Michicago, and the pair rounded as if tied alongside each other. Time:

Stranger	3:42:08

The wind had hauled a point or two eastward, and reaching jibs could not be used on the next leg. Mavourneen shook out the reef in its canvas, but did not appear to do much better under full mainsail. South Shore led Michicago, and appeared to have the race won, for it was figured the advantage could be maintained on the following spinnaker run. Time around the mark:

Michicago	3:56:35	Mavourneen	4:06:22

Crews Slow with Canvas.

The crews of the two leaders were deplorably slow with their light canvas and lost valuable time. Price managed to work Michicago to weather of South Shore and watched for a chance to blanket his rival and he succeeded when halfway to the finishing line.

After Michicago had passed him Skipper Schoenwerk luffed across Michicago's stern in an attempt to take its wind and it was then that the firm of Price, Hermann and Burrell worked their trick that cinched the race. Price held Michicago high of the course and drew Schoenwerk after him. Then when Michicago got high of the mark Price pulled the dangerous trick of jibing over with spinnaker and all standing. The trick worked, but the luffing match the two leaders had engaged in gave Stranger a grand chance. The Providence racer could not quite close up the gap.

Today's race will be sailed over a windward and leeward course of sixteen miles and will start at 1:30 o'clock.

STRONG FIELD ENTERS IN RUN.

Hatch, Kennedy, Carlson, and Levinson Among Those in Fifteen Mile Event Next Sunday.

Twenty-five distance runners of Minneapolis, St. Louis, and Chicago will compete in the fifteen mile marathon of the Hebrew Institute A. A. U. athletic meet, which is to be held next Sunday. Sydney Hatch of the Illinois Athletic club, winner of the recent Portage park run, and Kowolski, the unattached runner who finished second; Kennedy, also of the I. A. C., who won the Grant park distance race; Levinson, St. Louis, and Carlson, Minneapolis, are strong candidates for the honors. Ray of the I. A. C. is entered in the one and two mile contests. The entry list closes tonight at the Gym club of the institute.

Worst "Bonehead" Play I Ever Saw.

Chicago.—[Baseball Editor of The Tribune.]—The worst bonehead play I ever saw happened several weeks ago at Humboldt park. There were runners on second and third, with two out. The first ball pitched got away from the catcher and the runner on third started for home. The catcher retrieved the ball in time to head off the runner and turn him back to third. The catcher had noticed that the runner on second had advanced and touched third while his teammate had started for home, so he (the catcher) turned about with the ball and touched the home plate, thinking the runner was forced out. He evidently thought he had made the play of the day, for he threw the ball to center field, permitting both runners to score.

EASTERN TEAMS PLAY TODAY

Yale and Cornell to Open Season, Former Meeting Wesleyan.

ITHACANS TACKLE URSINUS.

Coaches Believe Greater Benefit Derived from Games than Practice.

BY WALTER H. ECKERSALL.

Although western football teams will not go into action until Saturday and the Saturday following, two big eastern college elevens will play their first games today. Yale will pry off the lid in a contest with Wesleyan at New Haven and Cornell will be sent through its initial struggle with Ursinus at Ithaca. The Carlisle Indians are slated to give battle to Lebanon Valley at Carlisle.

It always has been the policy of eastern football coaches to play a number of games early in the season, as they believe more benefit is derived from such contests than scrimmage drills. These early struggles have been helpful in whipping the big teams into shape, thus giving the coaches a true line on the worth of the material.

Better Football in Real Games.

The players always play better football against an invading eleven than they would against a scrub or second eleven. In most cases the scrubs know the varsity signals and plays and they shift to meet a certain attack denoted by the signal. In this way the first team does not derive the benefits that it does in an actual battle.

Although the smaller college elevens expect to be beaten by the larger institution teams, the players on both teams have opportunities to learn many points which they would not pick up in a scrimmage practice. When a player makes a mistake in an actual game his fault becomes stamped on his mind and the chances are he never will make such an error again, whereas if the mistake were made in practice he would not take it as seriously.

May Gain Line on Yale Today.

An idea of the strength of Old Eli will be known after today's battle, which will be a test for Yale's game on Saturday with the strong Holy Cross eleven. Since its defeat last year by Harvard, 20 to 0, Yale has been making plans all summer to avenge that beating. Coaches have been figuring out plays and the old players have been given instructions to get in shape early. The team has been in training for three weeks and should play a fairly good article of football today.

Cornell, the other big team to go into action, should have little trouble in running up a creditable score against Ursinus. Coach Al Sharpe is reported to have a large squad of promising material at his disposal.

The progress of the Ithacans will be watched with interest by western followers of football. Michigan is scheduled to play the big red team at Ithaca on Nov. 8 in one of the big intersectional games of the year. As a result of this contest an idea of the strength of eastern and western teams can be drawn.

Other teams in the east will devote the day to hard practice in preparation for Saturday's contest. Every eleven of football importance in the east will go into action, and after these struggles the succeeding games will gradually become harder and more bitterly fought until the championship contests are played the latter part of November.

FIVE MORE JOIN METHODISTS.

Greer, Noble, Godfrey, Zimmer, and Grassett Don Their Football Togs at Evanston.

Five players joined the Northwestern university football squad yesterday. Greer, 150 pound end, was a member of last year's freshman squad. Noble, 179 pounds, has never played before, and is a candidate for end. Godfrey, who played guard on last year's freshman team, weighs 160 pounds. Zimmer, 158 pound end, is a former Lake View high school player and a student of the dental school. Grassett, last year's freshman fullback, is a candidate for that position on the varsity this year. He now weighs 170 pounds. Coach Dennis Grady yesterday put his team through a drill in catching and running with punts.

YANKS RETAIN POLO GROUNDS.

Failure to Secure Title to Property Brings About Renewal of Contract with Giants Owners.

New York, Sept. 23.—As the result of an agreement reached this afternoon between the New York National and American league baseball clubs, the Yankees under Manager Frank Chance will play their scheduled games of 1914 at the Polo grounds.

This arrangement was made necessary by the fact that President Frank Farrell of the local American league club was unable to obtain satisfactory title to the property upon which the new baseball field and stands will be built in time to have them ready for the opening of the 1914 season.

At a meeting of the New York National league club Director President Hempstead explained the situation and the directors voted to extend the present agreement between the two clubs for another year. It was, however, stipulated that under no circumstances would the agreement be continued after 1914.

AMATEUR TEAMS PLAY TODAY.

Winner of Illinois Trust-Federal Life Game to Meet Carsons in Title Clash Saturday.

The Illinois Trust nine will play the Federal Lifes at the American Giants park, Thirty-ninth street and Wentworth avenue, this afternoon, in the next to the last game in the contest for the championship of the amateur leagues of Chicago. The winner meets the Carson, Pirie, Scott team on Saturday in the final game. The Chicago and Eastern Illinois team defeated the Federal Life club on Sunday, but the railroaders were disqualified at a meeting held yesterday for playing ineligible players. The winner of Saturday's game will leave for Cleveland after the final game for an intercity battle with the amateur champions of that city on Sunday.

SOME COIN FOR MAJOR LEAGUE.

Boston Club Draws $57 for Its End of Game with the Cardinals at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—An attendance record was set at Robison field on Monday, when about 300 fans turned out for the final game of the Boston series. The crowd was so small that it was easy to count noses, there being 184 in the bleachers, while the grandstand housed 130, almost half of whom were ball players or park attaches. The Boston club got approximately $57 as its end of the "gate." About $50 of this sum was paid to a doctor who treated Joe Connolly's broken leg.

Kraenzlein Leaves for Germany.

New York, Sept. 23.—The German Olympic commission, after a month devoted to inspecting America's athletic training methods, sailed for Berlin this morning. Accompanying the four members of the commission was Dr. Alvin Kraenzlein, recently engaged as German athletic director.

CHICAGO GOLFER GETS LOW SCORE

Mrs. Colburn Returns Card of 93 in Opening Round for Western Title.

MISS CHISHOLM SECOND.

Eight Local Players Secure Positions in the Championship Flight at Memphis.

Memphis, Tenn., Sept. 23.—Mrs. F. S. Colburn of the Glen View club, Chicago, led a field of fifty-two golfers in the qualifying round of the eleventh annual championship of the Women's Western Golf association on the links of the Memphis Country club.

Acting as her own pathfinder over a strange course, Mrs. Colburn came within one stroke of tying the course record for women when she turned in a card of 93. Mrs. Colburn's direction was faultless and at times her game sparkled with brilliancy.

Six cities are represented in the sixteen who qualified for the championship. Chicago, the home of Miss Caroline Painter, the present champion, will be represented by eight players when the first round of match play starts tomorrow morning.

Miss Painter to Meet Mrs. Jones.

Miss Painter, who has already made several journeys over the local course, under the rules of the association, did not have to play in the qualifying round, but takes first place in the first round of match play. When the elimination play starts tomorrow morning, two title holders will be the first to tee off. Miss Painter will meet Mrs. F. G. Jones of Memphis, the local champion and runner-up this year in the women's southern tournament.

Miss Ruth Chisholm of Cleveland, runner up to Miss Painter last year, was second with a card of 96. Mrs. E. W. Daley of Nashville, the present southern champion, and Mrs. E. T. Perkins of the Glenview club, Chicago, were tied for third place with a score of 97. Mrs. Colburn's card was as follows:

Out	5	5	4	6	4	6	4	6	4	44
In	5	6	6	6	6	5	3	6	6	49	93

The second sixteen lowest scores qualified for the Memphis cup, and the third sixteen will play for the Association cup. Among other prominent golfers who survived the qualifying test is Miss Jennie Jones of Sioux City, who in practice here negotiated the eighteen holes in 94.

The lowest qualifying score made by those who qualified for the Memphis cup was turned in by Mrs. D. C. Gaut of Memphis with a card of 112. The lowest score of the sixteen who will start for the Association cup was a 133 made by Miss Elizabeth Rice of Memphis.

PUTS BAN ON OLYMPIC GOLF.

St. Andrews Club Votes Against Inclusion of Sport in Contests at Berlin in 1916.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

GLASGOW, Sept. 23.—At a meeting of the Royal and Ancient Golf club at St. Andrews today a resolution was unanimously adopted disapproving of the inclusion of golf in the Olympic games at Berlin in 1916. It was also decided that if golf was included in the Olympic contests the Royal and Ancient club would not share in the arrangements. This makes it certain that no representative Britons will compete in case golf is included.

Ray Beats Vardon One Stroke.

Hamilton, Mass., Sept. 23.—Ned Ray was one stroke under Harry Vardon in the morning round of the match between the two British professional golfers at the Myopia Hunt club today. Ray made the difficult course in 78. Vardon's card was 79. In the afternoon they made another round, but did not turn in any cards.

HARDINGER NOW ON MIDWAY

Huge Crowd Reports at Marshall Field After Quitting Illinois.

STAGG GIVEN A SURPRISE.

Speed and Cleverness of Maroon Candidates Please Director.

BY MAROO N.

Paul Hardinger, a 215 pound guard whom University of Illinois football enthusiasts thought they had dissuaded from his intention to enter the University of Chicago because he took part in a scrimmage at Urbana on Monday, reported at Marshall field yesterday. Hardinger did not arrive from Urbana in time to don football togs, but will practice with the freshmen today, as he will be ineligible for the varsity eleven until after a year's residence.

Hardinger played on the Illinois freshman team last year, but his father wished him to be in the same college with his older brother, who is a candidate for the Maroon eleven. The recruit said his action in practicing for a day with the Illini was misinterpreted at Urbana.

Stagg Pleased by Exhibition.

Speed and cleverness formed the basis of a surprise football exhibition yesterday when Coach Stagg gave his candidates their first chance to show their improvement in a twenty minute scrimmage session. The Midway heroes made good throughout the test and earned good words from the director in spite of a scattering of fumbles and other early season faults. No scores resulted.

The backs showed no signs of enlarged cranium as the result of Coach Stagg's praise of the bunch, and gave every indication they will live up to their instructor's hopes in the way of sensational feats. The veteran halfbacks and all of the quarter backs starred in runs of varying length through a broken field, and not one of the heavy workers received so much as a scratch.

Johnny Breathed, the junior quarter back candidate, who may get a chance to appear in the Indiana game a week from next Saturday, was one of the Maroons who showed distinct improvement in his open field work. Breathed worked as general of one of the squads, with Kennedy and Norgren as half backs and Moulton as full back.

Whiting Opposes Des Jardien.

"Red" Whiting, the 185 pound sophomore center candidate, got a chance to oppose "Shorty" Des Jardien on this eleven. Harvey Harris worked at right guard, with Leach, one of the veteran linemen, at the other guard. "Spike" Shull, regarded as a certain varsity lineman this year, did well at left tackle, with Harold Goettler at right tackle and Baumgartner and Huntington at the ends.

"Pete" Russell, who appeared as quarter back on the opposing team, got away with some of the prettiest open field dodging seen on Marshall field in a long time. "Dolly" Gray, Horace Fitzpatrick, and Moulton worked behind Russell and made an all star combination. Des Jardien starred at center on Russell's squad, with "Butch" Scanlon and F. McConnell at the guards, Williams and White at the tackles, and Stegeman and Headland at the ends.

PILETTE TO ENTER LONG RACE.

Belgian Driver, Detained Last August by Illness, to Be Brought Here by E. C. Patterson.

E. C. Patterson yesterday announced he would bring Theodore Pilette, the Belgian driver, to Indianapolis for the 500 mile race on May 30, 1914. As Pilette drives nothing but the products of the Mercedes factory it is presumed that the Belgian will have a machine of that make, probably the same car he drove in the Belgian Grand Prize, in which he placed.

Pilette would have come to America for the Elgin road races, but illness prevented. He would have brought Hemery with him to drive a second Mercedes, but the Frenchman would not make the trip without Pilette. Pilette finished fourth in the last 500 mile race with the Mercedes-Knight, the first racing machine equipped with a Knight motor to try prolonged and excessive speed work in this country.

It has been decided by the joint committee of the Chicago Athletic association and the Chicago Athletic club to eliminate the rule which provides for penalization for tire trouble in the annual fall reliability run between the two clubs. The run will be a one day jaunt to Hudson Lake, Ind.

BOWLERS GO AT FAST SPEED.

Zealloras Average 1,005 2-3, with High Game of 1,114, in Opening Game in Colonna League.

Colonna leaguers set some substantial marks for the rest of the bowlers in Chicago to hammer away at when the Zealloras posted an average of 1,005 2-3 with 1,114 for high game. The two marks are away above the ordinary for the opening night of a league and will probably be taken by the fans as an indication that the wood this year is going to be easier to get than it has for a couple of season's back. Al Sage's 266 game was the big factor in the high score, three of his teammates crossing the 200 line with him, while George Geiser missed it by a short shade. Ten Penford's 279 was another feature of the night, the game coming in the Byrn Mawr league. Scores:

NEW RECORD SET IN "PREP" LEAGUE

Number of Teams Enrolled for Football Breaks All High School Marks.

SIX IN MAJOR SECTION.

Eleven Squads in Minor Division, Which Is Divided; Schedule Arranged.

BY PREP.

All records for entries in local high school gridiron leagues were broken yesterday when eighteen teams enrolled to battle for two football titles at the meeting of captains, managers, and the faculty committee in the board of education rooms. Six elevens are entered in the major league, equaling the number of teams last year when the organization included all the high schools of the county. The minor division will be made up of eleven teams, three more than the record number of last year.

The lightweight division, in which all teams must average 135 pounds with no members over 150 pounds, was so large this fall that it was necessary to divide it into two sections.

Nicholas Senn, Austin, Crane, Lake View, and Lane will make up the northern division and Lake, Hyde Park, Bowen, Harrison, Medill, and Parker will constitute the southern group. Each division will battle for the sectional title and the winners will meet on Nov. 22 for the championship.

Contests Start Oct. 18.

Games in both leagues will open on Oct. 18, giving the schools nearly a month to prepare for the title contests. The schedule will be completed on Nov. 15. The winner of the major title probably will meet the winner of the Suburban league title on Nov. 22 or Thanksgiving day.

The luck of the draw provides for a grand finish in the major section. Crane and Lane, both technical schools and rivals since athletics was part of the high school curriculum, will meet in the final game. Likewise Englewood and Hyde Park, natural foes for years, will clash in the closing clash. Wendell Phillips ends its real season on the previous Saturday with its game with Hyde Park.

With only one exception the schedule met with unanimous approval. Austin, which drew three of its four games on foreign fields, probably will register a protest, but an adjustment of games with Nicholas Senn will relieve the situation.

WOLGAST WILLING TO BOX BAT.

Wires Dane from Cadillac That He Will Fight at Milwaukee on Oct. 27.

Cadillac, Mich., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—"I have just wired Battling Nelson that I will be glad to fight him in Milwaukee on Oct. 27," said Ad Wolgast tonight. "I won't fight on Oct. 13, as he wishes, for I cannot get into shape in three weeks." Ad doesn't know which Milwaukee fight club will stage the bout there, as there are two clubs bidding. Wolgast is planning a fight campaign which will keep him busy until January, and which will take him east. He is doing his own managing.

PUGILISTIC POINTERS.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 23.—Benny McGovern, featherweight, was awarded the decision over "Tickle" Sanders of Memphis after eight snappy rounds of boxing tonight.

New York, Sept. 23.—Battling Levinsky of Philadelphia knocked out Frank McGuinness of this city in the sixth round of a scheduled ten round bout tonight. Levinsky weighed 168 pounds, while McGuinnes tipped the beam at 191½. It was the Philadelphian's fight all the way.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 23.—Freddie Welsh, the British lightweight champion, accompanied by Manager Harry Pollock, is here from Vancouver, B. C., on his way to New York. Welsh expects to stop off several times on his way east and will fight "Fighting Dick" Hyland at Butte this week.

Denver, Colo., Sept. 23.—Eddie Campi of San Francisco and Frankie Burns of Jersey City were matched today for a fifteen round bout here. The fight is to take place Oct. 10 or Oct. 14. The boxers are to weigh in at 116 pounds.

MAKES 15 IN THREE CUSHIONS.

Walter Lauben in Match at Mussey's Runs Up Score Which Is Believed to Equal Record.

Playing in a game with Henry Schevenell at Mussey's rooms, Walter Lauben yesterday made a run of fifteen points at three cushions. The balls ran well for him until the eighth shot, which was a hard one, and after this he had fairly easy sailing up to the thirteen point, when he brought off another teaser. His fifteenth shot also was hard and he missed a fairly easy up and down the table shot on his sixteenth try.

The best previous record for Mussey's room was fourteen by Hank Avery, many years ago. George Moore, the New York professional, made a run of fifteen against Tom Gallagher a few years ago, and Sam Lazarus, the former Chicago player, is credited with making a similar total. So far as is known no higher run ever has been made.

McAllister [12] won the rapid fire three cushion tournament at Weeghman's, LeGros [18] being second and Barlow [16], third.

Charles "Cowboy" Weston defeated Jones, 125 to 7, in their pocket billiard match at Engler's room, Twenty-ninth and Wallace streets.

Gossip of the Pugilists.

In preparation for his ten round bout with "Wildcat" Ferns of Kansas City at Kenosha on Friday night, Billy Walters went through a vigorous day's work at Reeve's gymnasium. Walters boxed eight rounds and made a good impression on the large gallery. The ex-sailor already is down to weight.

Eddie McGoorty, who will step ten rounds with Frank Klaus of Pittsburgh at Milwaukee on Monday night, was another of the prominent boxers who put in a stiff day's training. McGoorty did not spare his hands and after the workout asserted they were sound enough to use as he pleases in Monday night's contest.

Ruby Hirsch, the local bantam under the management of Joe Thomas, has been matched to box eight rounds with "Kid" Herman of New Orleans at Memphis on Sept. 29. The weight will be 110 pounds at 3 o'clock. On Oct. 6 Hirsch will meet Johnny Fissl at New Orleans over the ten round route.

Jimmy Murphy, who is matched to meet Steve Gardner in a ten round bout at Superior, Wis., on Tuesday night, will leave for the battleground tomorrow. Murphy's manager yesterday received an offer from Denver for Murphy to meet "Young" Shogren over the ten round route.

IRON MASK SETS NEW TURF RECORD

Establishes World Mark 1:10 4-5 for Six Furlongs at Louisville.

HALF COVERED IN :45 2-5.

Performance Remarkable, as Champion Carries 127 Pounds and Gets Bad Start.

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Iron Mask set a world's record of 1:10 4-5 for six furlongs today in the opening race of the Douglas Park fall racing meeting. It was a truly remarkable performance as Iron Mask carried an impost of 127 pounds and got up in the last stride in time to beat Leochares, carrying 105 pounds, on the wire. The first quarter was run in :22 1-5 and the half in :45 2-5.

Iron Mask is a 5 year old gelding by Disguise—Royal Rose, which has raced in England. He is owned by Jefferson J. Livingston of Cincinnati. Iron Mask was an odds on favorite. The old mark of 1:11 was held jointly by Chapeau, Prince Ahmed, and Priscillian, none of which carried over 117 pounds in reeling off their performances.

Floral Park, with 103 pounds up, won the Douglas Park Inaugural handicap at odds of approximately 14 to 1. The distance of one and one-sixteenth miles was covered in 1:45 1-5. Kleburne was second and Gowell third. Summaries:

BY HANDY ANDY.

Civil war on the baseball field will open between the White Sox and Cubs on Tuesday, Oct. 7, on the west side. This was settled officially yesterday when Secretary Charles G. Thomas, representing the Cubs, won the toss from Secretary Harry Grabiner of the White Sox at the Chicago Automobile club. Grabiner produced the same silver dollar which won the opening games for the White Sox in 1911 and 1912. Thomas demurred, saying he had brought along a luck piece which should be utilized. Grabiner, however, carried his point, and called "heads" when Thomas tossed the coin in the air. Then the silver dollar settled after a spin it was found that the Sox secretary had guessed incorrectly.

"That's a good omen," said President Murphy, who was informed later. "For two years the White Sox got the opening game, because we guessed the flip of the coin incorrectly, but this year it will be a different story."

Notify Commission of Series.

Shortly after the coin decision the two secretaries sent a letter to Chairman August Herrmann of the national commission notifying him that the Chicago clubs would compete in a city series and asked that a representative of the triumvirate be selected to handle the business affairs of the games. The business manager for the series probably will be named by the end of the week.

Regular season prices will prevail. Reserved seats at the Cub park will be $1.50, $1.25, and $1, while all reserved seats at the White Sox park will be $1. The sale probably will open early next week and seats will be sold by mail requests accompanied by certified checks.

A complete check on all reserved seats will be made by the commission representatives to prevent any scalping, as has been the rule in previous years. The number of tickets which fell into the hands of speculators last year was not as great as in former years, but it is the desire of both baseball owners to cut down the "outlaw" supply to the minimum.

Pointers on Ticket Sale.

Tickets for the White Sox games will be sold at the White Sox park for games number two, four, and six, while tickets for the Cubs games will be on sale at the Corn Exchange building for contests number one, three, five, and seven. Grandstand seats will be sold for 75 cents at both parks; pavilion, 50 cents, and bleachers, 25 cents. These tickets will not be sold until the morning of the game.

Eight more games remain on the Cubs' schedule and six on the White Sox list. The Trojans finish their season at home with Pittsburgh on Sunday, Oct. 5, and the Callahans wind up the schedule with the Tigers at Detroit on the same day. One day of rest is allowed each team.

Manager Evers will have twenty-four players eligible, including himself, while the White Sox roster shows the same number, including Manager Callahan. The west siders will have nine pitchers from whom to make selections and the south siders will have eight. No player under contract after Sept. 1 will be permitted to play.

The Cubs have three catchers and the Sox four. Five infielders are on the Cub list and six on the White Sox roll, including Assistant Manager Gleason. In the outfield the Cubs will have six men to draw from and the White Sox five.

Three Cub Recruits Released.

President Murphy released three recruits to the Terre Haute club yesterday. They were Pitchers O'Connor and Hieronimous and First Baseman Bowen. Pitcher Zabel, who was secured through the trade with Brooklyn, being one of the two players obtained in exchange. Pitcher Herbert, formerly of Toronto, reported and was sent to Pittsburgh last night to be given a tryout against the Pirates. Zabel, whose home is in Wetmore, Kan., was a member of the Winnipeg club of the Northern league last year and won ten in eleven starts. Last year he was with Kansas City and was sent to Winnipeg under optional agreement. The option was not exercised and Zabel went into the draft lottery.

COMMISSION MEETS TOMORROW

Chairman Herrman Calls Session in Philadelphia to Decide on World's Series Plans.

Cincinnati, O., Sept. 23.—Chairman August Herrmann of the national commission announced today that he had called a meeting for Thursday morning in Philadelphia to take up the matter of the world's championship baseball series. Chairman Herrmann stated that no dates would be set until the meeting in Philadelphia.

President Johnson of the American league will leave for Philadelphia at noon today and will return on Friday. Mr. Johnson thinks the world's series should begin on Monday, Oct. 6, but that point will be determined in Philadelphia.

Danny Long of California Arranges Contests for World Tourists on Coast—Play at Sacramento Nov. 12.

Danny Long, former manager of the San Francisco club of the Pacific Coast league, arrived in Chicago yesterday on his way to the world's series and clinched six exhibition dates of the White Sox-Giants world's tour.

Representing Sacramento, Oakland, and San Francisco clubs; Mr. Long secured allotments as follows:

Nov. 13—Oakland.
Nov. 14—San Francisco.
Nov. 15—San Francisco.
Nov. 16—[Morning] Oakland.
Nov. 16—[Afternoon] San Francisco.

The visitor predicted that these six games, with two to be played in Los Angeles, would give the world's tourists $20,000 in California toward the cost of their globe trotting.

BROOKLYN GIVES PIRATES DOUBLE DOSE OF DEFEAT.

Dodgers Slam Two Recruit Pitchers in Opener and Land Second Battle, One to Nothing.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 23.—Brooklyn took both ends of a double header from Pittsburgh, 6 to 1, and 1 to 0. The Dodgers won the first on timely hits off Shenn, a Virginia recruit, and Mamaux, an Ohio State league youngster, but five glaring errors made the trials of the new men hard. Nap Rucker won the second game, pitching brilliantly against Conzelman, an Atlanta recruit, who kept Brooklyn shut out until the ninth. With one man out in the last inning, Smith tripled to left. Conzelman struck out Shortstop Fisher, but Catcher Fischer placed a single in left, sending Smith across. Scores:

Clout Ball All Over Lot and Defeat Detroit by 21 to 8.

Score Six Tallies Before Athletics Pommel Two Visiting Hurlers.

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 23.—After Detroit had piled up a six run lead in the first two innings, Philadelphia hammered the ball all over the field and won, 21 to 8.

Scoring for the home team began in the second session, when ten hits and two passes off Williams, a left hander, netted ten runs. Comstock, a right hander, took Williams' place in the third inning, and he also was hammered hard, from one to three runs being made by Philadelphia in each of the last six innings. Walsh led in the attack with three singles, a double, and a pass in six trips to the plate. He scored five runs. Crawford solved Pennock's delivery for a home run, a triple, and a double in five attempts. Score:

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—St. Louis made it two out of three in its last series of the season with Washington by winning today, 5 to 3. SOX TEAMS DIVIDE FAREWELL GAMES

Errors by Chase, Weaver, and Collins Beat Scott in Opener, 3 to 2.

CALS ALSO VICTORS, 3 TO 2.

Single by Berger Scores Two and Squeeze Play Other; Walsh Starts Contest.

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—The White Sox made no progress toward climbing back into the first division by breaking even with the Red Sox today in their ultimate engagement of the season. Boston won the first game, 3 to 2, and Chicago the second by the same count.

Errors by Chase, Weaver, and John Collins threw down Scott, who pitched a grand game against Ray Collins. The Callahans could do little with the local southpaw except in the sixth inning, when they bunched four of their seven hits off him for two tallies.

Ed Walsh worked the first half of the second game against Bedient, and his showing was one of the cheerful spots in the day. Big Ed retired at the end of five rounds with the score 2 to 1 in his favor and let Russell finish for him. There was no sign of weakening in the Big Reel, but he is not taking any chances of spoiling his arm for small stakes.

Bedient Hurls Hard Luck Game.

Bedient pitched a tough luck game, for he struck out ten White Sox and gave only five hits, yet was beaten, although the Bostonians rang up eleven safeties off Walsh and Russell.

Scott had the Red Sox at his mercy for three innings of the first game. Only ten men faced him, and four of these, including Speaker, struck out. Hooper was the first home player to get on and he opened the fourth with a two bagger to left center. A pair of boots by Scott's support gave the Red Sox one run. Engle rapped to Chase, who made a brilliant stop, then threw wildly to third trying to get Hooper. Speaker fouled out; then Engle stole second. Lewis was passed intentionally, filling the bases. Gardner hit to Weaver, who was playing too deep to stop Hooper at the plate and made it worse by throwing wild to first base. Hooper counted and the bags were still choked. Yerkes flied to Chappell, who made a perfect throw and doubled Engle at the plate.

Ball Gets Past Chappell.

The Red Sox counted another run in the fifth. Janvrin led with a single to center. Thomas popped out, but Ray Collins sacrificed. Hooper hit safely to left. Chappell raced in to cut off the run at the plate and missed the ball, not only letting the run score but giving Hooper three bases. Engle flied out.

The White Sox tried frantically to break through, but failed in spite of several chances until the sixth. Then they tied the score after two were out. Weaver started the rally with a low fly which Janvrin could not hold. Lord singled to center, and so did John Collins, scoring Weaver. Chase hit a Texas leaguer to short right on which Lord made home and Collins went to third, Chase reaching second on the throw back. With two more runs in sight Bodie rolled out.

A muff by Janvrin gave Chappell a life at the start of the seventh, but the Callahans could not improve their opportunity. Daly foozled an attempt to bunt, then hit into a double play, closing the door. Berger grounded out.

Scott resumed his sway over the enemy in the sixth and blanked them in order until the eighth, then there were moments of danger. Hooper ripped off his third straight safety and made two cushions of it. Engle popped out. Speaker and Lewis walked, filling the bases, but Gardner lofted to Bodie for the third out.

Collins Caught Off Second.

A nap by John Collins cost the White Sox a possible run in the ninth. John walked and was sacrificed to second by Chase only to be caught flatfooted by a peg from Ray Collins. It was all over in a minute. Yerkes opened the home half with a triple to right center. Scott retired Janvrin without letting the run in. Rehg took Thomas' place and scratched a slow roller in front of the plate. Scott hustled in, trying to get Yerkes, who raced for the plate. Jim slipped and fell down, but tossed the pill to Daly just too late to save the game.

Hooper kept up his swatting career by opening Boston's first in the second game with a single to center. Engle hit sharply to Berger for a double play and Speaker flew out. Walsh warmed up to his work and retired the Red Sox without letting a man to first in the next two rounds, striking out two men in the third.

The White Sox seemed helpless in Bedient's hands and went through three rounds without getting near first base. Lord whaled a hit to center with one out in the fourth, but was nipped at second when a hit and run play with Collins failed. Shauno then grounded out.

The world's champions bid for a run in their fourth. Engle scratched a single with one gone. Speaker popped out, but Rehg singled to center, putting Engle on third. Bodie ran back and pinched Gardner's long fly.

Berger Drives In Two Runs.

Chicago was handed a couple of runs in the fifth by a slip by Gardner. Chase led off with a single. Bodie struck out trying to advance Hal, but the runner made second on Chappell's out. Gardner booted Schalk's soft boiled roller, letting Chase go to third. Ray stole second. With two strikes and three balls called on Berger, Chase started to steal home. Berger soaked the ball to right center, scoring both Chase and Schalk. Walsh whiffed.

The Red Sox were given a run before any one was out in their half. Yerkes pulled a double to left, went to second on Schalk's wild throw to catch him, and scored on a wild pitch. Walsh tightened and got the next two, then passed Bedient. Hooper delivered his fifth hit, but Berger got Engle and the side was out.

Walsh retired in Russell's favor in the sixth, and Speaker was glad of it, for he opened that half with his safe hit of the afternoon. Rehg sacrificed, and the score might have been tied right there but for a swell play by Lord and Weaver. Gardner bunted safely past Russell and beat it to first. Lord made a bluff throw, which tricked Speaker into overrunning third base. Weaver slipped up behind and took Lord's toss, retiring Tris. Berger got Yerkes.

Squeeze Play Scores Tally.

With the help of some battery errors the Callahans squeezed in a run in the seventh. Chase beat out a slow bounder to Janvrin. Bodie struck out trying to bunt. Chase made second on a wild pitch and third on a passed ball. Chappell walked and on the first ball pitched Schalk bunted, scoring Chase, although thrown out himself. Berger whiffed.

Collins gave the home fellows a counter in their half. Janvrin walked. Cady singled to right and Collins booted the hit so far that Janvrin scored on it.

Bedient popped and Cady was doubled up off second. Lewis replaced Hooper and struck out. Engle led in the eighth with a single and stole second after Speaker struck out. Russell retired the next two men on easy chances.

Two went out in the ninth. Then the Red Sox nearly pulled out a second victory. Cady singled and let Mundy run for him. Nunamaker batted for Bedient and slapped a single to right. Mundy ran wild on the bases and tried to score on it, but Schalk had the ball waiting for him.

Sox Sydelights.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Nothing doing for the Callahans until Friday.

Bedient was going best in the eighth, when he struck out Russell, Weaver, and Lord in succession.

Gardner made a daring play in the sixth of the second game, when he raced at top speed almost against the first tier of boxes and pinched Weaver's foul fly.

Bodie was a mark for the home bugs, and struck out twice. He did not get a safe one until two were out in the ninth round of the second game. Ping stole second, but Chappell fanned.

The White Sox have six more games to play this year, Friday and Saturday with St. Louis and Sunday with Cleveland at Comiskey park, then three games in Detroit on Oct. 3, 4, and 5.

To avoid two nights on the road Manager Callahan and the squad of players which does not go to Portland will stay over and take a fast train tomorrow morning, due in Chicago at noon Thursday.

Chappell had a chance to cut Janvrin's feet to ribbons when the shortstop blocked him on an attempted steal in the fifth of the first game, but Larry refrained from putting his opponent out of commission.

John Collins was robbed of a scratch hit in the first of the opening game by the fact Lord was on first base. Speaker lost John's little fly in the sun and let it fall safe, but picked it up time to force out Lord, who naturally played it safe.

The Fenway park bugs gave Walsh a hearty glad hand when he walked to the slab to start the second game. The Big Moose found his friends fickle, however, for the cheered just as loudly when Hooper opened with a clean single.

Capt. Lord and his barn stormers will go to Portland tomorrow morning to exhibit themselves for the captain's benefit in a game with an all star New England league team. The barnstormers will have to hustle back to Boston to catch a night train for Chicago.

Bettors in New York's Financial District Believe Chances Are Equal to Win Championship.

New York, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Betting on the outcome of the world's series made its appearance in the financial district today. One curb broker announced this afternoon he had $1,000 on the Giants at even money. He also was willing to bet $800 against $1,000 on the Athletics.

WELL, WHAT OF IT?

This year we won't hear the umpire sing,
"Battery for the Cubs, Brown and Kling."
We won't see Altrock put 'em over the pan
To his old battery mate, Bill Sullivan.
We won't see Tannie perspire and grunt,
Or see Rabbit Slagle lay down a bunt.
We won't hear Frank Chance's sigh
As he hits to Fielder Jones a fly.
We won't see Donahue, the first sacker great,
For he has passed within the Golden Gate.
We won't hear Steiny, Rohe, or Hahn,
Because the three of them have gone.
We won't see Dougherty or Sheck
Gather in the line drives by the peck.
We won't hear in a few years more
Anything about those heroes of the days of yore.

The other eastern American league managers are not deriving much comfort from Connie Mack's announcement that he is going to use substitutes from now on. The Mack subs are about as bad, or good.

If there really is so much interest in the scheduled city series at Boston we'd strongly advise that all the games be played at Fenway park.

Ty Cobb did about as much to those Lavonia bank notes as a ball player usually does to the articles he writes.

Lavonia, by the way, is said to be Ty's home town, sharing that distinction with Augusta, Royston, et al.

Joe Jackson and Tris Speaker would have a fair chance of beating Ty for the American league batting championship if the Georgian would kindly refrain from getting his two blows per game.

THE WONDERFUL CARSEY.

Besides being the only pitcher who ever caused a batsman to "chop and strike out" while the umpires were doping out ground rules, and the only pitcher ever drafted for a world's series, Tom Carsey, the hero of that S. E. Post story, is the only big league hurler who ever spoke of his "nine," the only one who ever threw an "in-curve," the only one who ever said "I'm pitching .625 on a .400 nine," and the only member of the New York Giants who ever dared address the manager as "Muggs."

To call Mr. McGraw Muggsy or Muggs is an offense as heinous as address Mr. Klem as Bill or Catfish.

Those loud cheers at New Haven, Cambridge, and Philadelphia were sorrowful expressions of regret over the news that Cornell is to have a poor cross country team.

ALL ABOUT GEORGE MUFF.

"George Muff is offered $6,000 to take charge of the athletics at the University of Illinois. This means Muff will quit scouting for the big leagues and force the clubs to seek Illinois talent in the future."

J. L. S., who handed us that, failed to state from what publication it was gleaned. He wants to know if George quit scouting because he muffed so many stars.

Matty writes (?): "He proved the truth of the old saying that you never miss a thing much while you have it," which, according to G. L. L., is something absolutely new in old sayings.

When Anguish is graduated from Nicholas Senn High school, there'll be a mad scramble among conference coaches for his services, and the chances are Purdue will get him.

Al Demaree's spelling of "masquerading" looks as if he had it mixed up with Marquard.

Ponder the case of young Luhrsen. The latest unofficial records show him to be leading the National league pitchers. No sooner had he seen his name at the top of the list than B. Dreyfuss called him into the office and tied a can to him.

Which reminds us of the case of Chick Gandil. Immediately after he had swatted one of the longest home runs ever seen on the White Sox grounds he was summoned on the carpet by the boss and given his transportation to Canada.

Ouimet's victory was certainly popular with the great American public, to say nothing of the column cons and the cartoonists.

WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE.

"Five men were rescued by government life savers at Michigan City, Ind., yesterday after drifting twenty-eight hours over a tossing lake in a disabled gasoline launch without food or water."

Three morning papers assert that the Michicago was ably sailed, etc. J. P. B. says the adverb should have been "Abely."

PORTSMOUTH FANS HONOR BRIDWELL

AL GIVEN MOTOR OUTFIT.

Recruit Allison Plays Center Field in Great Style and Shows He's Clouter.

BY SAM WELLER.

Portsmouth, O., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—One need visit Portsmouth only once to learn that the natives regard Al Bridwell, shortstop of the Cubs, as one of the nation's great men. The town took a day off to pay homage to the favorite son while he and his Cub mates trimmed the local team of the Ohio State league, 6 to 1.

About 2,000 men, women, and kids were present to watch the game and cheer for Al. The first time he went to bat time was called while he was presented with some swell automobile attire. A gaudy plaid auto coat, a big robe to match the coat, and a big pair of sealskin driving mittens made up the bundle of gifts. Al bowed his thanks with bared head, while all his mates bared their heads in admirable sympathy or pride, just as you like.

Speechmaking by Editor.

The editor of one of the papers, Mr. Sheridan, who should be in the speech business along with Bill Bryan, made the congratulatory address, which was a splendid one, because he talked only thirty seconds. Along with the auto clothes Al was handed a basket of flowers.

Al was not disappointed because he did not get a cupful of bank notes. He says he has had special days here before and didn't expect anything except the flowers. The coat, blanket, and mittens were a pleasant surprise to him and something he will appreciate, for when the season is over Al spends much time spinning about the hills of this region in his motor car.

The ball park was about four miles from the hotel where the boys were fed at noon. The reason is because this burg is located in a valley. As there are 30,000 persons struggling for existence in the limits, they have to live in a long line or else go over the high hills on either side.

Natives Show High Water Mark.

This was one of the towns partly submerged by the flood last spring and now the good people take delight in pointing to the high water mark on the second stories of buildings and relating the narrow and exciting escapes from the water. Al's house was one of those partly submerged and it will be remembered he rushed to the rescue of his family last spring, reaching home by means of a boat.

The Cubs didn't get here until noon. They reached Cincinnati at 8 o'clock in the morning and had just enough time to get breakfast in the station. When they reached Portsmouth about 500 of the population were at the station to give Al the hand of welcome.

Ten motor cars were lined up to receive the Chicago party and all were whirled about the city to see the new buildings and the high water mark in various places. A special trolley car took the boys to the ball park and waited for them after the game, hauling them back to town, where they barely had time to eat dinner before getting back into the Pullman cars, which are to convey them to Pittsburgh.

Recruit Allison a Clouter.

There were one or two interesting things about the ball game. Manager Evers gave three of his recruits a chance to work and one of them displayed some great baseball stuff in the contest. The one is Milo Allison, the six cylinder outfielder from Cadillac, Mich. He played in center field and made a triple and a double, scoring two runs in five times at bat. Once a local man started an inning with a triple and the next batter drove a hard and deep fly out to right center. Allison not only made a pretty running catch, but heaved the ball home absolutely perfect and the man trying to score from third was out by six feet. On the bases Allison looked as fast as Vic Saier or Wilbur Good. If his showing today is any criterion, he is going to stay with the big fellows.

The other recruits used were Stewart, who has been with the team for some time, and Hargrove, the catcher recently obtained from Terre Haute.

Earl Moore did the hurling for the whole nine rounds and his cross fire delivery had the minor leaguers badly fussed. One guy on the team wasn't bothered a bit. That fellow was Nixon, who scored the only run and did it by stealing third after drawing a throw to second from Bresnahan. The boy made two doubles in the game and looked swell. We learned he already belongs to Cleveland and that he is to be sent to Toledo for a bit more training.

Cubs Solve Sou'paw in Sixth.

A left handed pitcher named Hartwig baffled the Cubs for five innings, but in the sixth they solved his delivery and made three runs by means of five hits. Allison's triple gave them another in the seventh, and doubles by Allison and Corriden and a triple by Williams produced two in the ninth when a right hander named Donalds was hurling. Score:

Cobb of M. A. C. Fractures Leg.

Lansing, Mich., Sept. 23.—Cobb, the best punter on the Michigan Agricultural college's football squad, probably will be unable to play this season. In a recent scrimmage he was injured, but donned a uniform yesterday and reported for practice. His condition quickly asserted itself, and a physician, examining the player, announced he had sustained a fractured leg.

This style enables each woman to lend to her costume an artistic individuality that cannot be copied.

From Varon we have a lovely set in taupe, fashioned from fox fur and the softest silk. The muff has a huge, soft bow, spread in unique fashion across the front. The scarf is short and high and finished with a jaunty trimming.

Another set for afternoon wear is of deep plum velvet, combined with marten and moire. Louise sent us the stunning creation shown in the picture. It is fashioned from velvet and ermine. The hat is trimmed with paradise.

For evening wear is shown a fetching muff and stole in shell pink chiffon. It is ruffled, shirred, and trimmed with tiny bandings of soft brown fur.

NOTE.—We are creating in our own workrooms original designs—after the French type—in these muff and scarf combinations. You will find that they reflect the favored fashion in an exceptionally perfect way.

THOUSANDS OF LOTS ONLY 6.7 FEET WIDE ON COUNTY'S PLATS

Commissioners Believe Laying Out of Subdivisions Needs Scrutiny.

CONNERY HAS NO OPTION

Must Record Anything Brought in Even if Pedigree of Woman's Bull Pup.

TALK OF HOLDING CONFERENCE

BY OSCAR E. HEWITT.

In the Chicago boulevard subdivision there are 5,376 lots platted in the books of the county recorder's office. Each of these lots is six and seven-tenths feet wide and thirty-seven and one-fifth feet deep.

Perhaps one might be used as a site for a chicken house or a garage for a motor cycle. For residence purposes the lots are impossible, and for growing pumpkins they are of the wrong shape.

Of course the records of the recorder do not tell why such a subdivision ever was made. Too much time was required to ascertain from the deeds whether any of them ever were sold or what price they brought, if they were placed on the market.

It was suggested yesterday by one of the clerks in the recorder's office that they were intended for immigrants who could not read nor write English, but that is only a surmise. The plats were filed years ago.

Lots Only 13.4 Feet Wide.

In this same subdivision, the Chicago boulevard, which is located out in the town of Worth far from the din and rumble of the city, are 2,688 lots, of which the width is 13.4 feet and the length 37.2 feet. Records show that some of these were placed on the market.

Again, in this subdivision, there is of record 5,376 lots, 15x80 feet each. One of these was sold in 1905 for $75, according to these records in the recorder's office.

To summarize, this Chicago boulevard subdivision has 13,336 lots, of which not one is sixteen feet in width.

The reason why such sized and shaped lots appear in the plat books of the recorder's office is because there was little or no official supervision of the platting. In Chicago no plat will be recorded which does not have the indorsement of John D. Riley, superintendent of the city map bureau, who by statute is made examiner of plats.

Outside Corporate Limits.

Outside of the corporate limits it is said that the approval of the president of the village board is necessary, if the subdivision is located in a village. If in territory outside of an incorporated municipality, it is declared that the highway commissioners have authority to pass judgment upon the subdivision.

In these Worth lots it can be said that some one prevented any lot from being located in the middle of a public highway; otherwise there seems to have been small exercise of judgment. The law has not been changed since the Chicago boulevard subdivision was laid out in 1872.

President McCormick and the country members of the county board said that some one should do some city planning outside of the city. They will do it if they can find the power; if not, they will try to get close cooperation between those having the authority. They are planning a conference of township officials.

Believe Conditions Changed.

They are not even intimating that another subdivision of this character will be made. In fact, they say they believe all subdivisions now being opened outside of the city are regular in every way.

But the land desire in Chicago is probably more intense than it has been for several decades. The wage earner wants a home with a little garden spot. To meet this demand subdivisions are being opened outside of the corporate limits.

The streets and alleys in these vary in width and the lots also differ in width and depth. The sidewalks, where there are any, are of different characters, widths, and materials. Too little of the artistic appears in the layouts. Sufficient playgrounds and breathing spots are scarce and altogether a lack of uniformity prevails.

County Recorder Powerless.

When the matter was first brought to the attention of the county commissioners they thought perhaps the recorder could aid materially by refusing to record unsatisfactory plats. But Recorder Connery said yesterday he has no discretion in what he shall record.

On Sept. 16 he received a letter from L. P. Patterson of Rogersville, Mo.

From this epistle it appears that Mr. Patterson is perfecting a calf weaning apparatus and decided that he wanted his description of the device, which deceives the calf into believing that it is obtaining milk when in reality it is only absorbing atmosphere, placed on record in Cook county. The document was duly recorded.

A little while before a woman wanted Mr. Connery to record the family tree of her bulldog. He says he could not have refused and accordingly he put the pedigree of the pup in the proper place in the books.

JAIL LAW ASKED TO END SPEEDING

Judge Fry Also Wants Legislative Lobby to Fight Auto Interests.

CRUSADE BRINGS RESULTS

Opinions in favor of immediate and drastic legislation affecting passengers and pedestrians as well as operators of machinery and vehicles were expressed at four separate meetings in the loop yesterday where ways and means were discussed for minimizing injuries and fatalities resulting from avoidable causes. The meetings were directly associated with the "safety first" crusade which is gaining ground in all large cities of the country.

The organizations which held "safety first" meetings were: The City club, at the clubrooms in Plymouth court; the Public safety commission of Chicago and Cook county, in the Otis building; the Railway Safety association, in the Hotel La Salle, and the Safety Inspectors' association, in room 2134 Insurance exchange.

Work of Commission.

Important developments at the meeting of the public safety commission of Chicago and Cook county in the offices of the superintendent of speeders.

Articles of incorporation designating the commission as an organization not for profit will be filed today with the secretary of state.

Coroner Hoffman advised prison term for speeders.

Directors and executive board elected: Coroner Peter M. Hoffman, Allen Ray, State Senator Samuel Ettelson, George H. Whittle, Graham Taylor, Mary M. Bartelme, and Charles A. McCulloch.

Membership enlarged from thirty to forty members, with provision that membership later shall be increased to 100 persons. Five new members appointed: Dr. A. M. Harvey, R. C. Richards of Northwestern railroad, Dr. E. R. Le Count of Rush Medical college, B. O. Christy of the International Harvester company, and Dr. C. W. Hopkins.

Recommendations received to include members from various park boards on commission.

Sunday, Oct. 26, designated "Safety First" Sunday, when all preachers, priests, and rabbis will be urged to advocate safety precaution. The Rev. James J. Greene, the Rev. William Burgess, and Ald. Albert W. Beilfuss, committee on arrangements for Sunday services.

Committee on inventions to look into life saving devices, such as fenders for automobiles and street cars.

Coroner Hoffman told the commission the motorcycle police squad and the coroner's office already had noticed a decrease in the violation of speed laws and traffic accidents as a result of the "safety first" propaganda.

Fry Urges Prison Penalty.

Municipal Judge Sheridan E. Fry of the Speeders' court at the City club said there never would be any material decrease in speeding until the courts would be empowered to send violators to prison.

"You perhaps would be surprised to learn," he said, "that one sixth of the total automobile population of Chicago has been tried in the Speeders' court within nine months. The trouble lies in the fact that all speed rates are fixed by state legislation and the city council has no absolute power to create their own regulations.

"I would advise that members of the safety commission and members of the City club organize a lobby to put through certain laws in regard to the operation of motor vehicles. At present the law regarding speed says no man can drive at a rate of speed which endangers the life and safety of others. That is an elastic rate statute.

"I believe the speed for motor vehicles in Chicago should be 15 miles an hour, and 10 miles within the business district. The speed maniac is responsible for many deaths. On only a few occasions have good reasons been offered for speeding.

Points to Discrimination.

"The recommendation that licenses be taken away from chauffeurs guilty of violations of the speed regulations is a discrimination on the part of the wealthy automobile owners. No owner should be allowed to run his machine in the city streets unless he has passed a chauffeur's examination.

"I am glad to note the glaring headlight situation noticeably has grown better within the last sixty days."

MIXES BUSINESS AND LOVE.

Russell M. Tarbox of Wilmette Pays Crown Point Garage Bill and Takes Wife.

Russell M. Tarbox, a music composer, of 1144 Chestnut street, Wilmette, yesterday reminded himself of a garage bill he owed in Crown Point, Ind. He called first on Miss Louise Winheim, daughter of Otto Winheim, of 813 Drexel square.

The parents of Miss Winheim are in New York, so "just for fun" she and Tarbox went down to pay that garage bill together. They looked around Crown Point a bit and became engaged. They visited the courthouse and procured a marriage license. A short time later they were married. Then they found Tarbox's automobile was not yet in condition to be driven back to Chicago.

"O, well," said Mrs. Tarbox, "we can ride back on the train."

ARMED MEN GUARD VOTE FRAUD FACTS

Special State's Attorney Northup Places Two Detectives in His Office.

GETS "TIP" ON ROBBERY.

Special State's Attorney John E. Northup last night took extraordinary precautions to safeguard evidence against men indicted in connection with frauds in the general election last November. A tip that his safe was to be "cracked" was the cause.

Two private detectives, each heavily armed and with instructions to shoot to kill, if necessary, were stationed in suite 1907, City Hall Square building, occupied as offices by Mr. Northup and his partners, Victor Arnold and Leroy Fairbank.

Evidence Kept in Vault.

In the office vault are kept the grand jury records and results of weeks of work by Mr. Northup and his staff of assistants and investigators. The realization that the destruction of this data would seriously handicap the prosecution of the vote conspirators aroused the prosecutor.

"I am not at liberty," he said, "to reveal where the tip came from that an effort was to be made to steal the records, but I considered it sufficiently authentic to warrant me taking every precaution."

Guard Posted During Recount.

This is the second time since the taint of fraud was attached to the November ballots that efforts were taken to protect the records from theft. During the state's attorney recount before Circuit Judge Baldwin an extra guard was placed about the vault in the board of election commissioners.

Subsequently the ballots were moved to one of the vaults in the county building, where they are constantly guarded. By order of Judge Baldwin, they are in the custody of the clerk of his court, but Mr. Northup and the grand jury have access to them.

President McCormick of the county board announced yesterday that more than $19,000 had been subscribed to the fund for the prosecution of election frauds. The amount ultimately must reach $25,000, Commissioner Coonley says.

EXTRA! REPORTER DISCOVERS WHERE STRAW HATS GO IN FALL.

The Straw Hat King Gets Them, of Course—Sells Bands and Uses Rest for Fuel.

Where do the straw hats go in the fall? Here is news for those who have placed the question in the same category with "Where does the light go when it goes out?" and "Where does the wind go when it blows away?"

S. Feiges of the Western hat works at 850 West Washington street, is the undisputed king of the discarded straw hat industry. Mr. Feiges was discovered yesterday by a reporter for THE TRIBUNE. He was standing by an express wagon in front of a hat store on Washington, between Clark and Dearborn streets. The wagon was loaded with about thirty large gunny sacks containing straw hats.

"The old straw hats are left in the hat stores every fall by the purchasers of winter hats," said Mr. Feiges. "Some of the stores save them for me. They pile up thousands of them in the basement. We get them for the trouble of moving them. We use the ribbons for cheap felt hats and the straw for fuel. I got about 5,000 out of this store last year and more than that this year."

READS HER LETTER, ENDS LIFE.

David Barnett Shoots Himself While in St. Louis Boarding House After Hearing from Chicago.

After reading a letter from a Chicago woman, signed "Muriel," David Barnett yesterday shot himself in the stomach at his boarding place at 1817 La Salle street, St. Louis. He died on the way to the city hospital.

Mrs. Thomas McHughes, the landlady, said the Chicago young woman wrote letters to Barnett and communicated with him by long distance telephone almost daily. While Barnett was at work the woman called up and asked that Barnett call her up at Chicago as soon as he came home. Then he said he wanted to read the letter he had received before answering the call. A shot sounded through the house, and Barnett was found lying on the bed, wounded.

"Muriel" was said to be a Mrs. Isabelle Lory, who formerly lived at a rooming house at 6 West Ohio street. Recently she and her husband moved to a furnished apartment on the south side.

CUBS PASSES OPEN HOSPITAL DOORS

Evers and Zimmerman Recorded as Patients at County Institution.

FIND ENTRIES FALSIFIED.

Heine Zimmerman and Johnny Evers of the Cubs team spent two weeks each as patients in the county hospital, according to records unearthed yesterday in the investigation of political "pull" over admittances to the hospital.

John J. Byrne, an investigator assigned to the work by County Agent Joseph Meyer, discovered the records in the warden's registers.

Here Are Records.

The records read:

Patient No. 317027—Evers, John; file No. 852; American, 21 years old, ball player; has lived three years in county; single; admitted Aug. 7, 1905; discharged Aug. 19, 1905; attending physician, Tice; house physician, Phemister.

Patient No. 274295—Zimmerman, Henry; file No. 193; American, 22 years old, ball player, single; admitted to ward 2 June 2, 1908; discharged June 15, 1908; attending physician, Pusey; house physician, Colwell.

Ball Players Favored for Passes.

The records of the X-ray photographic room showed, it was alleged, a number of ball players had had photographs taken of their injuries, at no cost. Such photographs regularly cost from $10 to $25 apiece. It was said numerous season passes to the ball park found their way into the hospital from the home of the Cubs team, across the street.

County Agent Meyer said the records in the X-ray room bore many falsifications, which made the investigation difficult. He said names were put down wrong, or written illegibly. One notation found on the records for June 11 is said to have borne the "O. K." of Warden Bailey with the self-explanatory phrase "for Mr. Murphy." Charles W. Murphy is the owner of the Cubs team.

"We have found a saloonkeeper was in here to be cured of delirium tremens," said Investigator Byrne, "while two bartenders and his wife ran his profitable saloon. A banker's son was cared for at the county expense. The new workmen's compensation act has been circumvented by employers, who brought their disabled workmen here to be cared for at the county's expense."

VISITING AUNT DISAPPEARS WITH LITTLE CHICAGO NIECE.

Child's Father Roused by Second Wife and He Starts Police on the Hunt for Two

Pleading for an opportunity to see her 8 year old niece, Marjorie Ball of 2404 Park avenue, Mrs. Britta Bracey of Jamestown, N. Y., came to the Ball residence on Monday. The little girl's father, Roy R. Ball, consented and his second wife urged Mrs. Bracey to stay over night.

While Ball was asleep yesterday his wife left the house to go to market, leaving Marjorie playing with her aunt. When she returned Ball was still asleep, but no one else was in the house. Ball awakened frantic, dressed, and ran to the Warren avenue police station. Ten minutes later policemen were watching all the stations in Chicago, but were unable to find any outbound passengers answering the descriptions given.

Ball explained he was divorced from his first wife several years ago and obtained custody of the little girl, but had to go to the mother's residence in Pittsburgh to get her. He married his present wife three years ago at about the time Marjorie entered the Grant school.

The "kidnaping" case of ten days ago, when Marguerite Carmen Bouche was taken from in front of Holy Name parochial school by her father, J. M. De Repentigny, and Miss Laura Sullivan, both of Rochester, N. Y., was dropped.

ROYAL FRENCH DUKE INJURED.

Montpensier, Brother of the Pretender to the Throne, Hurt When Auto Turns Turtle.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, Sept. 23.—While the Duc de Montpensier was piloting an automobile through the Bois de Boulogne tonight the car skidded and turned turtle. The duke was injured in the legs and abdomen. The car was wrecked. The Duc de Montpensier is brother to the Duc d'Orleans, pretender to the throne of France.

HOYNE SLEUTHS MUST GIVE ITEMS

County Board Committee Decides to Demand Full Detailed Statements.

WANTS LIGHT ON OUTLAY

State's Attorney Maclay Hoyne will be asked by the finance committee of the county board to itemize in the future all money expenditures by detectives assigned to his office or in his employ. This action was decided on yesterday.

Recent exposures of high living by Hoyne sleuths while guarding prisoners at the Bradley and Alexandria hotels prompted the guardians of county funds to inquire how other money in the state's attorney's secret service fund is being spent.

Had "Understanding" with Hoyne.

When the appropriation was made early in the year the committee agreed that Mr. Hoyne should not reveal during an investigation how the money was being used. It is said to have been the understanding, however, that reports should be made at the conclusion of each inquiry.

So far, it is asserted, no itemized detective statements have been received from Hoyne excepting those submitted by hotels which have housed men guarding witnesses for the prosecution. Under the law the controller is required to have on file in his office detailed reports of all expenditures made by the departments of the county.

Deputy Controller Frank Ryan is reported to have called to the attention of Chairman Board of the finance committee the absence of these statements from his files. The question of asking Hoyne to make an immediate report is said to have been under consideration for several days.

McCormick Off for the East.

President McCormick of the county board departs today for a week's vacation trip in the east. He denied last night that he had conferred with the state's attorney regarding the expense reports. He intimated, however, that he expected the matter to be attended to during his absence.

Chairman Board recently said he agreed with Mr. Hoyne that his investigations might be embarrassed if too much was known of pending cases. He indicated, however, his belief that statements of expenditures should be submitted after a reasonable time had elapsed.

HOYNE DETECTIVE ARRESTED FOR ASSAULT ON A NEWSBOY.

Thomas Flanigan Taken as He Leaves Rooms of Trial Board—Faces Also $10,000 Damage Suit.

Detective Thomas Flanigan of State's Attorney Hoyne's personal staff was arrested yesterday in the offices of the civil service commission on charges of assault and battery.

James Arriva, a newsboy living at 640 North Rockwell street was the complainant. He alleged Flanigan assaulted him on July 29, when Flanigan and Detective James Carlin were bringing Charles Schartenberg, an employé of THE TRIBUNE, to Chicago after having kidnaped the man and his wife in Michigan by means of a false warrant.

The warrant for Flanigan's arrest was issued on Aug. 5 and was given to Detectives Fee and Miller to serve. It was not until yesterday that they were able to "locate" Flanigan, who as since been indicted with Carlin in Michigan for the kidnaping.

Flanigan earlier in the day appeared before the civil service board to answer charges growing out of his assault on the newsboy. State's Attorney Hoyne, who appeared as counsel for the detective, obtained a continuance until the matter in Michigan has been disposed of. It has been set for trial at Grand Haven for Nov. 1.

As he was leaving the board room Flanigan was arrested by Detective Miller and a moment later was served with a summons in a suit for $10,000 damages filed in the Superior court by the newsboy, who was severely injured.

Flanigan was taken to detective headquarters and was "booked," remaining there more than an hour until Hoyne reached Simon O'Donnell, a labor leader, and had him sign the detective's bonds for appearance before Judge Mahoney this morning.

Brothers Entangled in Sanity Case.

Walter E. Dwight, vice president of the Dwight Brothers' Paper company, and his brothers, Austin, Oliver, and Dr. Corydon, yesterday were allowed three weeks in which to bring their brother, Harvey, into the County court and show cause why they should not be punished for contempt. It is charged they took him into Wisconsin and restored to him, by court process, his rights as a sane person after he had been declared insane here.

REVENUE MEN LIST CHICAGOANS SLATED TO PAY INCOME TAX

Number in City and Vicinity Estimated at 12,710 by Collectors.

DATA PROVES HARD TO FIND

Illinois Manufacturers Plan Court Fight to Prevent Government Dictation.

APPEALS TO CAPITAL WIN

Federal investigation of the number of persons in Chicago and surrounding territory who will be affected by the proposed income tax law places the number at 12,710, divided as follows:

12,000 will pay 1 per cent on incomes of $3,000 to $20,000.

500 will pay 2 per cent on incomes of $20,000 to $50,000.

175 will pay 3 per cent on incomes of $50,000 to $100,000.

35 will pay 4 or 7 per cent on incomes exceeding $100,000 yearly.

587,290 (approximately) wage earners will pay no income tax.

These figures represent the rough estimate of Frank E. Hemstreet, chief deputy collector in the internal revenue office for the Chicago district, prepared on orders from Washington for use by the congressional conference committee. The house bill provided a 4 per cent tax for those whose incomes exceed $100,000 annually, but this was changed by the senate to 7 per cent. The taxes on lesser incomes remained the same.

Admits Figures Are Inaccurate.

Mr. Hemstreet admits his estimate "is little more than a guess" and blames the dearth of figures available for the lack of present accuracy.

"The time I have found to work on the subject has been limited," Mr. Hemstreet said. "But what has surprised me most is the unavailability of figures on the subject. The matter of finding out what are the profits of corporations and businesses is a comparatively simple matter, but on looking into the question of personal incomes there has been nothing to which I have been able to refer which has given me anything except the most fragmentary information.

"Of the large corporations I have written to asking them to state the number of their employes and the general classifications into which their salaries fall, and the number of employés in each classification, all have responded promptly with the information I have desired. The figures I have obtained have been to me matters of great interest, but as yet I cannot make them public nor name the corporations which have submitted figures.

Banks Pay Best Salaries.

"One of the interesting things that the statistics have developed is that in proportion to the number of persons employed, banks pay more relatively high salaries than any other of the commercial occupations in which lists have so far been submitted."

The Illinois Manufacturers' association announces that it will challenge such federal investigations into corporations by a test suit in court. Such a legal move, it is thought, would lead to a distinct interpretation of the government's right to dictate salaries and methods of bookkeeping as part of the collection of the corporation tax.

This test case is also expected to decide whether a business man will be taxed on his income and business, that is, pay a double tax on practically the same producing source.

President Charles Piez of the manufacturers' association will bring the matter to the attention of the directors, either at the regular meeting early in October or a special meeting.

Two Inspectors Overruled.

An official of one of the large corporations of the city told of two attempts of federal inspectors to regulate its business. When the matters were taken before the commissioner of internal revenue the investigators were overruled.

"In one of these cases," said the corporation official in question, "the government had the investigator's contention been upheld, would have received no more taxes but would have upset what is recognized as the best and fairest method of bookkeeping. The other incident would have struck at one of the best features of modern industrial organization—the bonus system.

"In the first case the investigators declined to accept deductions on account of bad debts where the debts were not actually charged off on the books. The charging off of bad debts does not necessarily mean that the debts are regarded as total losses. In our case there was a reserve fund for bad debts, in other words, an estimate of what value might be expected to accrue in the future from those debts. Suppose the bad debts approximated $1,000,000 and the reserve was figured at $20,000. We were ordered to charge off all bad debts or not be able to deduct the $20,000. This view was overruled.

"Our organization has a bonus system which the government men viewed as a gift proposition and not a part of the scheme of business. Members of the selling force were paid a percentage on sales, say, but that plan would not govern other departments where no such percentage could be figured and merit only entered into consideration. In this case, also, the investigators were overruled."

WOMEN IN SEATS OF CITY FATHERS

Suffragists Take a Lesson in How a Council Meeting Is Conducted.

ALD. FREUND TEACHER.

The Woman's party of Cook county appointed a committee last June, following the passage of the suffrage bill, to attend the meetings of the city council. Mrs. Gladys Randall was chirman of that committee. She went to the meetings. But she couldn't get much out of them.

Yesterday she took her committee and a number of the ward chairmen of the organization to the council chamber. Ald. Jacob A. Freund of the Twenty-fifth ward explained to the women the intricacies of a council night.

Couldn't See How It Was Done.

"I attended several meetings," said Mrs. Randall. "It was all like a foreign language to me. I saw men discussing things together and referring to these large books on their desks. Everybody seemed to be talking and smoking. I imagined that a lot of business was being transacted, but I couldn't see how it was done. I never knew there were committees to do the work.

"I don't expect to acquire one of these desks—not for a long time, at least—but I am glad to learn how the business of the council is transacted."

Women Want to Be Heard.

Ald. Freund called Ald. Captain to his assistance when one of the women asked if a committee from the Woman's party could be heard on the floor of a council meeting. After Ald. Captain finished telling the women that it wasn't customary Mrs. Randall attempted to convert him to the Progressive party. He refused to be converted, however.

Among the women who attended, sitting at the desks of the aldermen, were Mrs. A. D. Slaughter, Mrs. Eva Osler Nichols, Mrs. Agnes McCall, Mary Osler, Bessie V. Lopez, Maybelle Tindolph, Mrs. Mary Strand, Mrs. F. B. Lehon, Mrs. Mabel A. Weaver, Mrs. Jane R. Snell, Mrs. B. H. Smidl, Miss Rose Marks, Mrs. J. Heinsfurter, Mrs. Antoinette France, Mrs. D. J. Spiene, and Mrs. Joseph Bryan.

MERIT BOARD HEARS CHICAGOAN

Catherwood's Testimony Before State Commission Pleases Employes Affected by "Midnight Cases."

Robert E. Catherwood, president of the Cook county civil service commission, was a witness yesterday before the state civil service board in the "midnight cases" involving the fate of certain Republican employés appointed by Gov. Deneen on the eve of the enforcement of the civil service act in 1911.

The state commissioners sought to have Mr. Catherwood interpret for them whether or not the law contemplated adding new names to the roll of state employés at the eleventh hour. Mr. Catherwood answered this was one of the prices which had to be paid to the Republicans in power in the state and the Democrats in power in Cook county to get the state and county bills through. He thought employés appointed prior to June 30, 1911, were included in the so-called blanket clause, which took in without examination all employés then on the list. Employés named after that date, he held, were not eligible.

Attorney Lumley, representing affected employés of the food commission and grain department, was pleased by Mr. Catherwood's opinions. The state commissioners withheld their decision for two weeks, to give Mr. Lumley time to offer additional testimony.

Quash Case Against Sec.

A serious charge against Evelyn Arthur Sec, leader of the "Absolute Life" cult, who is now serving a sentence in the penitentiary for abduction, was stricken from the records with leave to reinstate yesterday in Judge Brentano's court. The complaining witness in the case was Florence McKee.

PRAIRIE BUILDING SOLD FOR $107,000

Mrs. Louisa O'Donnell Disposes of 36 Apartment Structure to Mrs. M. L. Buttolph.

TWO OTHER FLAT DEALS.

Three Story Woodlawn Property Taken by James L. Van Uxem and Wife.

Three large apartment house deals were closed yesterday, two being south side properties and one north side.

The largest of these comprised what is known as the Prairie building at 4930-44 Prairie avenue, which was sold by Mrs. Louisa O'Donnell to Mrs. Meriam L. Buttolph for $107,000, subject to an incumbrance of $65,000. The lot is 150x160 feet and the building is a four story and basement structure containing thirty-six apartments. The building is said to have a gross annual rent of $17,500. The purchaser conveyed in part payment the six apartment building at 4329-31 Michigan avenue, subject to an incumbrance of $18,000, and renting for $4,300 a year, and the six apartment building at 3240-42 Prairie avenue, subject to incumbrance of $12,000, and renting for $3,500 a year. Willis & Frankenstein were the brokers.

The other south side property comprises the three story eighteen apartment building at the northeast corner of Lexington avenue and Sixty-fifth street, which was sold by A. George Mackie to James L. Van Uxem and Annette, his wife. The building occupies a lot fronting 91 feet on Lexington avenue and 114 feet on Sixty-fifth street, and the apartments contain from four to five rooms each. The consideration is not disclosed, but Mr. Van Uxem assumed an incumbrance of $21,000 and gave in part payment seven parcels of south side improved property, including the Van Uxem homestead at 4067 Lake avenue. John J. Fischer was the broker representing both parties.

Forty Flat Building Sold.

The north side property comprised the premises at 859-63 Sedgwick street, between Chicago avenue and Locust street, which was sold by George W. Newman to C. O. Lindquist. The building contains 40 apartments of 3 to 6 rooms, and occupies a lot 75x130 feet. The consideration is withheld, but is said to have been $60,000. Mr. Lindquist gave in part payment the six apartment building at 4861-63 Winthrop avenue, Edgewater, and a 50 acre form in Starke county, Ind., assuming also a first mortgage of $35,000. A. Anderson represented Mr. Newman in the transaction and O. Holmgren represented Mr. Lindquist.

Knud Sparesus has purchased from Simon and John Sikorski the six flat building with 53x125 feet of ground at 4925-27 Forrestville avenue at a reported consideration of $25,000, subject to an incumbrance of $13,000. The purchaser conveyed in part payment the property at 2846 North Spaulding avenue, 150x125 feet, with 2 story brick improvements, subject to an incumbrance of $4,000, and other property. F. E. Lackowski & Co. were the brokers.

Buys Woodlawn Residence.

James M. Sheean, the attorney, has purchased from Harry Homewood the residence lot at 4634-36 Woodlawn avenue, 47x200 feet, for $7,000 cash. About one year ago Mr. Sheean purchased the property adjoining on the north, 60x200 feet, with residence improvements, for $16,000. Frank M. Oliver was the broker representing both parties.

John M. Roach, president of the Chicago Railways company, has sold to Harry McCormack the property at the southwest corner of Evanston avenue and Roscoe street, 46x155 feet, a consideration of $18 being given in the transfer. The lot is improved with an old frame dwelling now used as a boarding house. It is under a lease, having two years to run, and it is said that Mr. McCormack does not contemplate making any changes in the property before that time.

George R. Cross has sold to Adolphus Robertson the six apartment building, with 50x130 feet of ground, east front, on Calumet avenue, 65 feet north of Forty-first street, for $22,000, subject to an incumbrance of $12,000.

Calvin M. Favorite has sold to Philip D. Weinstein the property at 49-51 East Forty-seventh street, between Wabash and Michigan avenues, 50x100 feet, north front, with brick business improvements, consideration nominal.

TRUCK FARMING OFTEN CLEARS OVER $200.00 AN ACRE

TRUCK farming has developed into a big industry with the extension of railroad facilities, introduction of refrigerator cars and cold storage plants. Big cities are supplied with fresh vegetables—in the winter from the south, and in summer from the north as well.

The most successful truck farmers specialize on the production of a certain vegetable. Labor must be plentiful, railroad facilities ample, and markets receptive. If to these essentials, you add intelligence and scientific knowledge you will be a successful competitor in this field.

The Forward to the Land Bureau of The Chicago Tribune will tell you where to get dependable information on the growing and marketing of small fruits, celery, onions, watermelons, cabbages, cauliflower, beans, potatoes, sweet corn and yams. The Bureau has a large library consisting of reports of agricultural commissioners, state experiment stations, government soil surveys, federal documents on irrigation and drainage and booklets issued by commercial clubs, railroads and development associations.

The Bureau does not recommend any particular piece of land or land dealer, but endeavors to give reliable information concerning fertility, climate, healthfulness and adaptation of lands of different sections of the United States and Canada to particular kinds of farming.

Many land dealers who use the display and classified advertising columns of The Chicago Tribune are offering good producing lands at reasonable prices and terms. Additional information may be obtained from them.

The Forward to the Land Bureau has nothing to sell and makes no charges of any kind.

UNUSUAL ACTIVITY IN PEOPLE'S GAS

Buying Regarded as Good, but Price Range Covers Only One Point.

RAILWAYS SHARES AT 31.

Earnings of Street's Western Stable Car Line Show Marked Improvement.

People's Gas was unusually active on local exchange. The price, however, did not show much change, the range being but one point. The last quotation was 128¾. The buying was regarded as good, one order for 1,000 shares having been executed. There was no news beyond the general understanding that the dividend rate will be made 8 per cent.

Series 2, Chicago Railways certificates, were in moderate demand, but the market lacked special incentive. The price held around 31. Sears-Roebuck common was fractionally lower, with little doing. Union Carbide was moderately active at 189.

In the bond department there was a good demand for City Railway 5s. Chicago Railways 5s were also in demand, and the price closed firm at 98½. The income bonds were steady at 52.

Street's Has Good Year.

The net earnings were equal to 9.4 per cent on the $775,000 preferred stock, but there was no talk of a resumption of dividends. The financial statements follow:

President's Remarks.

In his report to the shareholders, F. J. Reichmann, president of the company, said:

"The net income, after deducting maintenance of cars and all other operating and general expenses, is $159,238, and after deducting the interest on the company's outstanding bonds, $85,322, it leaves a surplus of $73,910. This amount had to be used to meet the bonds maturing on June 1, 1913, and was, therefore, not available for distribution as dividends. It is, however, $19,660 in excess of the 7 per cent requirement on the preferred stock.

"The gross earnings for the first half of the fiscal year decreased about 11 per cent, compared with the same period of the previous year. During the second half of the fiscal year the gross earnings increased 19 per cent, resulting in an increase of 8 per cent for the entire year. The increase in current liabilities, as shown by the balance sheet, $71,000, is more than offset by the increase in convertible assets of $74,000. Since June 30, 1913, the bills payable account, $42,500, has been entirely discharged and all bills for material purchased have been promptly paid. The company therefore has practically no floating indebtedness.

"As shown by the balance sheet, there remains outstanding as of June 30, 1913, $1,690,000 of the company's 5 per cent equipment bonds, so that of the original issue of $2,000,000 $310,000 has now been retired and canceled and in addition to this the company has liquidated its bills payable account of $150,000 since the date of the new bond issue, June 1, 1909.

"There has been a surplus of idle cars on the railroads for the year, as shown by the official reports, although not to the same extent as the year previous or for several years in the past. The shipments and receipts of live cattle have been constantly declining, as revealed by the reports of the various stockyard companies at the principal markets of the country, and the exports of live cattle, which were at their maximum in the year 1907 from both the United States and Canada, have now practically ceased. The reports of the United States government dealing with the decline in the cattle industry during the last five years have received the serious attention of the financial and public press, so that you are, no doubt, more or less familiar with the situation."

Officers and Directors Elected.

The annual meeting of the shareholders was held yesterday. Henry C. Hackney presided at the meeting. The attendance was large.

The following directors and officers were elected: Directors, F. J. Reichmann, Henry C. Hackney, J. William Pope, Herman Kiper, George R. Nichols, J. Edward Maass, William H. IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Today's market was spotty. Early strength in coppers gave way to weakness in the afternoon and the close was generally at fractional net declines. Shattuck-Arizona early made a new high at 30⅝. Boston and Maine gained 2¼ to 63¼ points in anticipation of permission to advance rates. United Fruit gained 3 points. Call money, 3½@4 per cent; time loans, short dates, 5½@6 per cent; time loans, six months, 6@6½ per cent; commercial paper, 5¾@6½ per cent.

NEW YORK STOCKS DOWN AT CLOSING

Gossip Pessimistic Despite Reading's Rise to 171, Record for the Year.

ROCK ISLAND STRONGER.

Canadian Pacific Gains 2 Points; People's Gas, 129¾, a New High Mark.

New York, Sept. 23.—Speculative sentiment today was bearish. The optimism inspired by the rise in securities early in the month has been oozing away during recent days of hesitation and dull trading, and today boardroom gossip was mildly pessimistic in tone.

The market apparently had lost the spontaneity that characterized it on the upward swing and it was evident that the stocks were being supplied whenever opportunity offered.

Stocks Lower at Close.

Efforts to force up prices in consequence were virtually abandoned today after another spurt in Reading had failed to stir the general list from sluggish inaction. Fluctuations were narrow and meaningless until late in the day, when stocks dipped downward decisively.

Such ventures as were made on the long side were again centered in Reading, which plodded upward to 171, a new high figure for the year. Subsequently it went off 2 points from its best quotation. Canadian Pacific gained 2 points and then fell back. Peoples Gas set a new high mark at 129¾, and there was a showing of strength in some of the Allis-Chalmers securities, which have figured little in trading during recent months. Rock Island stocks and bonds made up some of the ground lost on their recent slump.

More than ordinary interest attached to the disposition of the large offering of South African gold at London today, by reason of recent discussion of possible engagements of gold for importation into this country. Germany's purchase of the bulk of the offering emphasized the pressing need of gold at that point in connection with the October settlement.

Bond Market Irregular.

Bonds were irregular, with a lower trend. Total sales, par value, $1,680,000. U. S. 2s and Panama 2s declined ⅛ and U. S. 4s coupon ¼ on call.

Money on call firm, 2¾@3; ruling rate, 3; closing, 2¾@3. Time loans weaker; 60 days, 4¼@4½; 90 days, 4¼@4⅝; six months, 5. Prime mercantile paper, 5¾@6 per cent. Sterling exchange steady, 4.8215 for 60 day bills and 4.8575 for demand. Commercial bills, 481⅝. Bar silver, 61⅝c. Mexican dollars, 47¼c. Government bonds weak. Railroad bonds easy.

CEREAL VALUES BREAK SHARPLY

Heavy Local Selling, Large Receipts, and Lack of Outside Trade Force Decline.

CORN HELD STUBBORNLY.

Scattered Liquidation and Short Selling Brings Decline; Oats and Provisions Lower.

Weakness developed in wheat yesterday, following an early period of firmness, during which prices went fractionally above the close of the preceding day. This action of the market was followed by fairly heavy selling, which carried values ¾@1½c lower at the close.

After the day's business had been concluded some of the leaders in the trade stated that if short sellers of wheat are depending upon spring wheat receipts to produce a further break in prices, they are inclined to think such calculations may be overdone, in view of a demand which seems to exist, especially for the Manitobas, and also the strength shown in all markets as compared with this.

In other words, it was not difficult to find plenty of traders who believe that wheat has had decline enough.

Professional Traders Active.

The trade was almost entirely a professional affair and many on the floor attributed the break of 1½c from the high point of the day to continued lack of outside trade and the enormous increase in Bradstreet's visible supply of 12,966,000 bu.

The spring wheat markets were decidedly stronger, notwithstanding the continued heavy receipts in the northwest. Stocks at Minneapolis showed an increase of 500,000 bu for three days. The southwestern markets also did not develop as much weakness as Chicago, with cash prices at St. Louis, Kansas City, and Omaha ½@1c lower. There was little inquiry here for cash wheat, but what demand there was came from millers. There were indications which led to the belief that there was considerable business done in the Manitobas, owing to the class of buying which appeared on the break, which looked like taking in of hedges against cash sales.

Primary receipts were 2,032,000 bu, as compared with 2,253,000 bu last week and 2,777,000 bu last year. Cash sales were 40,000 bu. Receipts were 163 cars, with 56 cars estimated for today.

Steady Tone at Liverpool.

Liverpool prices showed a steady tone, particularly as this market was so much lower on Monday and in the face of an increase in the European visible of 2,764,000 bu. A better inquiry was reported for forward shipment, although the continued large Canadian movement, with bearish estimates from Australia, had a tendency to bring about some pressure following the opening. Advices from Russia and Argentina were bearish, and expectations are for liberal Russian shipments this week.

These influences, however, had but slight effect upon values, as there appears to be support on all declines with an increased inquiry for forward shipment. The weekly foreign crop summary reflected much better conditions.

Corn Values Hold Well.

In the face of adverse influences, sentimentally and otherwise, corn held remarkably well the greater part of the day, but was finally influenced by the weakness in wheat and at the close showed a net loss of ½c per bu. The decline was brought about by scattered liquidation and increased short selling. This evidence of weakness, however, was partially offset by the official forecast of wet weather over the corn belt within the next day or two.

The Liverpool market showed slight ease, with a somewhat better demand and prospects of lighter Argentine shipments. Killing frosts were reported in the Ohio valley. Contract stocks show a total of only 700,000 bu, most of which has gone into strong hands.

Receipts continue to show a decided falling off, but cash prices were finally ¼@½c lower here, ½c higher at Peoria, steady at St. Louis, and ¼@½c lower at Kansas City and Omaha. Cash sales were only 80,000 bu. Receipts were 545 cars, with 364 cars estimated for today.

Oats Under Pressure.

Oats were lower under considerable speculative selling pressure because of a weak cash market. Final prices were ½@⅞c lower. Shippers took only moderate quantities and values in the sample market were depressed, indicating that the load of supplies is burdensome as evidenced by the continued weakness in near positions and generally lower cash values in all markets. Primary receipts were 981,000 bu, against 1,262,000 bu a year ago.

Bradstreet's figures of available supplies aggregated 42,473,000 bu, as compared with 19,109,000 bu a year ago. Cash sales were 200,000 bu. Receipts were 356 cars, with 183 cars estimated for today.

Realization in Provisions.

Provisions were lower with the trade moderate in volume. Resting spots for pork were 5c to 17½c lower, lard 10@17½c lower, ribs 10@15c lower. The weakness which developed in the grain trade led to some realizing and liquidation in provisions. The week's packing was lighter at 327,000 hogs, as compared with 425,000 hogs last week and 345,000 hogs a year ago. The run of hogs west for the day was 72,600, as compared with 56,169 head last year.

Slaughtering of cattle for the week was large at 164,000 head and sheep at 362,000 head. A Milwaukee packer sold a line of January ribs while one of the larger local packers was thought to be changing several thousand long October lard to November. Another packer was credited with buying September and October lard. The cash trade was quiet. Estimated receipts for today, 28,000 hogs.

Rye Prices Weaken.

Rye was easier on increased offerings. No. 2 sold at 64@67c; No. 3 at 63@63½c, and sample grade at 61½c. Receipts, 18 cars.

Barley was steady, with malting 68@80c; feed, 58@63c, and screenings, 40@60c. Receipts, 84 cars.

Timothy seed was quiet at unchanged prices, cash lots closing at $3.75@5.25. Cloverseed held steady at $9.00@11.25 for cash lots.

Duluth flax closed ½@¾c higher, with cash on track $1.42; September and October, $1.40½; November, $1.41, and December, $1.39¾. Receipts, 21 cars. Minneapolis was ¼@⅝c higher at $1.28¼@1.42 for cash on track. Receipts, 22 cars. Winnipeg closed ½c higher to 1¼c lower, with October $1.22⅝; November, $1.23½, and December $1.21½. Receipts, 35 cars.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE

Weekly foreign crop summary: United Kingdom—The harvesting of wheat is well advanced. Supplies of native wheat are fair.

France—Threshing of wheat is only progressing slowly as a result of unfavorable weather. Offerings of new wheat are moderate and there are some complaints of poor condition. Foreign buying continues.

Germany—Offerings are liberal of new wheat and this further serves to confirm a good out-turn.

Russia—Threshing returns are generally satisfactory, both regarding quantity and quality. Arrivals at the ports for shipment are large. The outlook for corn as regards quality is favorable.

Roumania—The weather is clear and warm, favoring threshing and also the corn crop. Arrivals of wheat at the ports show a good increase. The International Institute of Rome estimates the wheat crop at 88,000,000 bu [last year 85,000,000].

Bulgaria—The Institute of Rome estimates the wheat crop at 60,000,000 bu [last year 44,000,000 bu]. This estimate is believed to be too optimistic.

Hungary—The weather is more favorable for corn, it being clear and warmer and the outlook for this crop is more hopeful.

India—There are no reports of rain in the droughty regions and wheat is held very firmly.

Australia—Our agent cables that the recent rains have raised the crop prospects 10 per cent.

A telegram from Peoria read: "The Implement association is giving an international show here this week at which they offer big premium for best Illinois corn their agricultural exhibit. They have over 100 less corn exhibits than last year and farmers sending in samples state that it was with the hardest kind of work that they could get a dozen good enough ears for show purposes. They say yield is most disappointing and not over half last year's."

St. Louis wired: "A large amount of corn around Palmyra, Mo., has been cut in the last few weeks, and the reports from all sections are to the effect that there will be a larger crop than expected. While the rains have come too late to make the usual amount of fall pasture, the grass is coming out nicely and will furnish much good feed."

The visible supply of wheat in Europe this week amounts to 73,344,000 bu, against 70,530,000 bu last week, thus showing an increase of 2,764,000 bu. Last week there was an increase of 1,584,000 bu, and last year an increase of 2,100,000 bu, when the total amounted to 74,300,000 bu.

Rain northwest, but as the threshing is nearly completed will not cut much figure. Receipts are heavy. Quite large amounts wheat carried over at Minneapolis. Several large short lines covered Monday, which will be put out again on any rally in that market.

Grier of Peoria wired: "Looks to me as if cash corn is likely to rule higher in primary markets in October than it has this month, for the requirements will be very large and old corn is not going to be very plentiful to fill them."

Broomhall's Russian agent cabled that the corn crop is expected to turn out, on the whole, well as regards quality but a moderate yield is expected, latest estimates being for a yield of 57,800,000 bu, against 76,500,000 bu last year.

Large elevator man, operating in North Dakota, wired that by end of next week, if present movement keeps up, they will have handled 30 per cent of total amount of all kinds of grain they expect to receive there this crop year.

There is absolutely no corn offering by the farmers around Bloomington, Ill., either old or new. The elevators are practically cleaned out. Very little corn in any of them and business is at a standstill.

Farmer from best section of Tazewell county, Illinois, says his corn won't run over 25 or 30 bu on the general run of this farm, and not over 40 to 45 bu on a field that ran 100 bu last year.

Russia cabled: "Corn crop is expected to turn out on the whole well, regards quality, but a moderate yield is expected. Late estimates being 57,800,000 bu, against 76,500,000 bu last year."

Buenos Aires cabled: "Outlook for the new crop continues favorable. A hailstorm occurred last night in the province of Santa Fe, but this will be of no material moment to wheat."

From Grinnell, Ia.: "In immediate vicinity of Ottumwa corn pretty bad. Halfway between Oklahoma and Grinnell farmers expect forty bu where they got sixty last year."

Estimated receipts for today: Wheat, 58 cars; corn, 364 cars; oats, 183 cars; rye, 18 cars; barley, 84 cars; hogs, 28,000 head.

Bids on the call for wheat to arrive were ⅝@1c lower; corn, steady to ⅜c lower; oats, ⅛c higher to ½c lower; rye, ¼c lower.

Cash wheat was easy at Minneapolis. December price for No. 1 northern blue stem, 1c under No. 1 northern velvet chaff.

Philadelphia announced an enormous export business last few days, mostly Manitobas. Demand still continues.

The industrial demand for corn is more active now than at any time this season.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, Sept. 23.—Money was dearer and discount rates were firmer today. India secured $1,000,000 and Germany the remainder of the $6,125,000 South African gold offered in the open market. There was no demand from America. The carry over in the mining section was the chief business on the stock exchange, and, apart from an advance in Canadian Pacifics and home rails, the markets were quiet, with a downward tendency on realizing. American securities opened quiet and trading was dull and featureless during the forenoon. Later Canadian Pacific improved, but the rest of the list barely moved. The closing was steady.

LATEST WALL STREET GOSSIP.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—[Special.]—The results of the regular weekly meeting of the executive committee of the Union Pacific today held out no encouragement of a settlement of the vexed question of the rumored special distribution to the shareholders. Nothing was learned to show when this distribution is to be expected, what form it will take, or for that matter, whether the Union Pacific interests have reached any conclusion at all on the subject.

But from the manner in which Union Pacific stock took this disappointment, it appeared that Wall street had in nowise abandoned its idea that there is to be a distribution. The stock did weaken slightly after a spurt in the morning hours, but at the close showed only a trifling net loss for the day. It was stated that after the close of the regular meeting members of the executive committee met informally and the financial district jumped to the conclusion that the subject of supreme importance was then discussed.

The making of new speculative contracts on the decline seems to center to a greater extent than usual on Steel common. That stock invariably reflects changes in general speculative sentiment more promptly and thoroughly than any other issue on the list. At the present time the peculiar circumstances surrounding the markets for Union Pacific and Reading and to a lesser degree Amalgamated Copper, the other favorite mediums of speculation, obviously discourages sales for the decline.

To this reason is attributed the relative heaviness of Steel recently. It has been rather noticeable that the market for Steel has had to take a lot of stock between, say, 63⅝ and 65, and perhaps a considerable proportion of this has represented the activities of the short interest encouraged by disappointment over the failure of segregation rumors and the like to materialize. Today trading in Steel common was greater than in either Union Pacific or Reading, whereas lately the biggest dealings have been in the other two market leaders.

In remarking upon the stability shown by prices after the midsummer rise attention is directed to one possible source of underlying strength which is often lost sight of. Besides the fluctuating short account of day to day description, or at least of the character which has no very deep roots, there is the "sleeping short interest" to be reckoned with. These long range commitments on the short side correspond with the transactions of the class of speculators who attempt to foresee broad periods of advancing prices and who disregard the minor fluctuations.

Of course speculators of this type also sometimes overstay their market. A stock like Steel common with a wide market attracts people who like to "sell short for investment," as the saying goes. These people are men of means who are willing to wait many months for their profits and are not to be frightened from their position even by such a recovery as that which has taken place in Steel since June. On the recovery from the 1907 slump it was only after a tremendous rise in stock prices that the short interest was finally dislodged and bear failures began to appear.

Baltimore and Ohio declined a point today on rather heavy sales to the lowest level since July 18, when the stock was on its way up from the June low. Meanwhile Union Pacific was rising on renewed talk of a prospective distribution. This disparity between the two stocks is interesting because Union Pacific recently acquired a block of B. and O. from the Pennsylvania in exchange for some of its Southern Pacific, and there have been rumors of an increase in the floating supply of B. and O. through an offering of the stock to the Union Pacific shareholders.

But the heaviness of Baltimore and Ohio may have had reference to the published remarks by President Willard in an address to the officials of the road pointing out that the company had spent $100,000,000 on improvements in the last three years and emphasizing the needs of the horizontal 5 per cent increase in freight rates applied for and now under consideration by the interstate commerce commission. It would probably be easy enough to demonstrate from the statistics of the road's earnings that the new capital put into Baltimore and Ohio since 1910 has so far not paid its way.

One sign of the times which is causing not a little comment is the bid for capital in this market by Canadian borrowers. The latest example of this development is a large advertisement now running in the local papers offering $1,000,000 Province of Ontario 4 per cent bonds at what are nothing less than bargain prices. These bonds are described as a direct obligation of the wealthiest province of the dominion, which, because of market conditions, are offered at the lowest price ever known. Here is tangible evidence of the overloading of the European investment market with Canadian securities in recent years. Until recently such issues found a ready market in London. There was no necessity for advertising; they were snapped up immediately by foreign underwriters as the cream of security offerings. Now as a result of the tremendous amount of financing done recently Canada finds that she has to go "shopping around" to find a market for her best securities.

To some extent the current relative ease in money rates at this center and the idle car statistics explain each other. At least both have a common explanation in the smaller volume of trade in the country as compared with a year ago. The fortnightly bulletin of the American Railway association, published today, showed a considerable decrease in the idle equipment on the railroads for the first half of September, but on that date there was a net surplus of idle cars of 40,159, as against a net shortage on Sept. 26, 1912, of 17,793 cars.

As regards the money market, the altogether unusual development of a flow of cash towards this center at a season of the year when the movement is exactly the opposite direction explains the current call rate of 3 per cent as compared with 5¼ per cent at this time last fall.

Chicago exchange on New York, now at a small premium, illustrates this situation. To most people this movement of funds to New York means that the government money recently placed in the western and southern banks is coming to New York as fast as its legs will carry it. But even if it is not a direct result of the treasury action, it is at least an indication that the present demands of the business of the country does not justify the treasury relief measures.

Under the circumstances it is not surprising that bankers here should not have been interested in the destination of the $6,600,000 of South African gold laid down in the London market on Monday.

SEEKS TO PREVENT LAKE POLLUTION

American-Canadian Commission Says Federal Control Is Best Remedy.

INCLUDES BORDER RIVERS

Practice of Dumping Ballast Water Near Ports Seen as Health Menace.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—[Special.]—Chicago and other great lakes cities will be vitally interested in a recommendation of the American-Canadian joint commission for control of the question of the pollution of interstate and international waterways.

The situation of Chicago is directly referred to in the report, because in spite of the construction of the drainage canal, which was designed to prevent the pollution of Lake Michigan, the water still is contaminated by sewage from Indiana towns. The city and the state of Illinois cannot deal with the subject and only the federal government can exercise that control which the joint commission deems essential.

The investigation of the question of the pollution of international waters was taken up by the joint commission in accordance with article VIII. of the treay of 1909 between the United States and Great Britain.

Limit on Water Usage.

This article prescribed the various uses for the international waters and said "no use shall be permitted which tends materially to conflict with or restrain any other use which is given preference over it in this order of precedence:

Uses for domestic and sanitary purposes.

Uses for navigation, including the service of canals for the purposes of navigation.

Uses for power and for irrigation purposes.

The sanitary condition of the waters of the great lakes and of streams flowing from the United States to Canada, or vice versa, arose as one of the first subjects of consideration by the joint commission. A committee consisting of Frank S. Streeter, one of the American members of the commission, and Henry A. Powell, K. C., one of the Canadian members, was created to make the investigation.

Because of the desire of President Wilson to place a Democrat, former Senator Obadiah Gardner of Maine, in the office held by Streeter, the latter was unable to complete the investigation in coöperation with Mr. Powell. In order that the work he and the Canadian member have done may not be lost, and believing that sufficient facts have been developed to warrant certain conclusions, a preliminary report has been prepared.

Study of Five Waterways.

The committee's inquiry up to date has been confined to five waterways:

Niagara river; Detroit river, and connecting waterways from Lake Huron to Lake Erie; St. Mary's river; St. Lawrence river, from Lake Ontario to a point where it departs from the boundary; a portion of the St. John's river.

Somewhat cursory attention also was given by the committee to the pollution in the great lakes, but the present report merely suggests that the subject is so vast that it will require special attention. It is particularly pointed out, however, that there is danger in the practice in vogue on many lake vessels "which take on a greater or less amount of ballast water and discharge the same just before entering the port of destination. In such cases a vessel might discharge a large amount of dangerously polluted water in the otherwise uncontaminated waters of a harbor, near enough to the intake of the city water supply to cause great damage."

State Control Too Narrow.

Mr. Streeter lays great stress, in his supplementary report, to the necessity for federal control over both interstate and international waterways, and in this he has the support of many American experts of state health departments with whom he has consulted.

"After conferences with officials of health departments of various states, and others," he says, "I am led to believe that in the case of one state, which seriously endangers the health of the citizens of another state, an efficient remedy can be furnished only by federal control of the subject, and I venture the opinion that congressional action may wisely be taken to provide for such federal control in the interests of public health."

WOULD "REST" IN BRIDEWELL.

Man's "Vacation" Ideas Are Shattered by Word Picture Drawn by Police Sergeant.

John Gynard, 948 Orleans street, entered the Chicago avenue police station yesterday and asked Sergt McGuire to do him a favor.

"I want to be sent out to the bridewell for ten or fifteen days," he said. "I haven't had a vacation in fifteen years. I have worked all that time for the gas company and I want a good rest."

"Do you know what kind of a rest you will get out there?" asked McGuire. "They will make you work eight hours a day in the clay hole or breaking stone and compel you to take a bath."

Gynard fled.

Finish Garbage Appraisal Soon.

Col. Henry A. Allen, the city's appraiser on the board valuing the plant of the Chicago Reduction company, announced yesterday that the appraisal would probably be finished Friday morning.

LACK OF DEMAND PUTS HOGS DOWN

Shrinkage in Eastern Shipping Call Lowers Values 10@25 Cents.

CATTLE SHOW FIRMNESS.

Small Receipts Maintain Prices at Upturn; Sheep and Lambs Decline.

Hog prices at Chicago yesterday declined 10@25c and closed with best offerings quoted at $9.00, after a top of $9.20 had been made. Receipts only met expectations, but there was a sharp shrinkage of the eastern shipping demand and lack of competition from that source left the market for high priced lightweight hogs without sufficient support. Packing hogs were only 10c lower for the day, while pigs sold at a reduction of 25@50c. The general average price was 12c lower at $8.43.

Cattle receipts disappointed buyers and prices were rigidly maintained at Monday's advance. A top price of $9.30 was made, although the general quality of the offerings was plain. Calves sold at an advance of 25c, topping at $12 for prime vealers. Cows and heifers were steady.

Sheep and lambs sold at a decline of 10@15c on receipts of 60,000 head. The trade was active, but the influence of the heavy supply could not be overcome. Lambs topped at $7.25 for rangers and natives while prime Montana wethers sold at $4.60.

BUTTER QUIET AND STEADY.

Potato Trade Shows Activity; Brisk Demand Clears Poultry.

Liberal receipts of poultry, 10 cars and 1,450 coops, met with a brisk demand at unchanged prices. Speculators and dressers were the principal buyers.

ATTENTION, JEWELERS AND SHOE MEN.
Do you think a high class residence territory, supporting ten groceries, four delicatessens, a number of tailors, two theaters, and numerous other stores would support a shoe store and a jewelry store? There isn't a shoe store or jeweler in the neighborhood now, and we have for rent several thoroughly modern new white tile, steam heated stores.
